Most Exciting Debate Since Before Spanish War, Several Times Almost Degenerating Into Appeal to Fists.

BELLIGERENTS DRAW DOWN STERN REBUKE FROM FRYE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by New York Herald Co.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—Senatorial dignity was badly strained today during the debate on the Philippine tariff bill. Democrats resumed their policy of bitter denunciation, and so unusual and unparliamentary were some of the proceedings on both sides of the chamber that Senator Frye, the presiding officer, read the members a severe lecture. He said that hereafter an interrupting senator would not be allowed to proceed until he had been recognized by the chair after the member having the floor had yielded.

Interruptions had been constant all day, and at times no attention was paid to the formality of addressing the chair.

Acrimony in senate debates is not infrequent, but old senators say it has been years since there has been such a hurricane of bitter vituperation, of personal taunt, of ugly charges and of unmodified criticism as was witnessed today.

Worse Than Spanish War Debate.

Not since the discussion of the resolutions leading up to the Spanish-American war have any scenes occurred in the senate comparable with today. Even that debate lacked the personal bitterness manifested at times today. Irritation was aroused on both sides of the chamber, and once or twice personal encounters between senators seemed imminent.

Senator Teller, during a speech just before the close of the session, spoke of the press censorship in Manila, and Senator Beveridge rose to deny that it existed. The Colorado senator, in more or less rage, scolded the young man from Indiana and said he considered him most impertinent to interrupt in such a manner.

"And I object, too, to being called a liar on the floor of the senate," he said. Senator Beveridge insisted that he only intended to correct a misunderstanding.

Charged Opponents With Lying.

"You are all," said Mr. Teller, pointing to the Republican side, "saying things you know are not true on this Philippine question."

This brought half a dozen Republicans to their feet at once, and the usually dignified Mr. Lodge emphasized his denial by walking across and shaking his finger in Senator Teller's face.

Of course, Senator Tillman thrust his pitchfork into the thick of the fray, and was repeatedly called to order for his violent methods of interruption.

One of the sharpest colloquies of the session was between Senators Spooner and Tillman. The race problem, involving the lynching of negroes, was interjected into the controversy. In the course of the colloquy Mr. Spooner declared that if the same rule were to be applied to the colored people in the Philippines as Mr. Tillman referred to in the south then "God help the colored man in the Philippines."

"God help him in the Philippines now!" shouted the South Carolina senator passionately. "You have already butchered in three years three times as many as the Spaniards did in three centuries."

"It is one thing," retorted Mr. Spooner, "to kill men with arms in their hands against the government and against the flag. It is another to burn them."

A significant remark by Senator Spooner, who was speaking for the administration policy in the Philippines, gave hint that a bill might be brought in providing for the purchase by the government of all the lands owned by the friars, to be afterward opened to the natives for settlement.

At the present rate of progress it will be a long time before the temporary tariff measures, so much desired by the administration, can be passed. The debate takes a wide range, and every phase of the Philippine question is gone over again and again.

Tillman Springs Race Question.

The first speaker in today's debate was Mr. Spooner. While he was speaking he was interrupted by Mr. Tillman, and in an instant a sensational colloquy was in progress. Mr. Tillman inquired:

"Will the senator allow me to ask him if the Platt amendment had been defeated by debate until the end of the session, would that side have had courage to have gone forward in its philanthropy, humanity, Christianity, liberty and all that kind of thing, and to have called an extra session?"

Mr. Spooner—We have courage enough on this side to do anything on earth.

Mr. Tillman—Except to defend the negro.

Mr. Spooner—We have not courage enough to lynch colored men or deprive them of their rights.

Mr. Tillman—Does the senator desire to discuss the race question here? He seems to have left the proposition where he started in to throw a personal fling at me. I am ready to meet him anywhere on the race question.

Said Tillman Was Offensive.

Mr. Spooner—Wherever the senator is willing to meet me on that question or any other he will find me there, so far as that is concerned. The senator addressed to me an observation rather offensive in its character.

Mr. Tillman—It certainly had no allusion to lynching.

Mr. Spooner—No.

Mr. Tillman—And the senator understands very well that I come from a section of country where lynchings for a given crime and for a good many other crimes are very prevalent. Now does the senator wish to leave the Philippine proposition, in which he is dealing with a colored people in a most infamous and damnable and hypocritical way, and go south and hold them up as examples that we are dealing with in a similar way—I mean the colored people here at home? Are we to have two rules of conduct in regard to the colored people, one in the Philippines by which we butcher them and shoot Christianity into them, and

MINE WORKERS' NEW SCALE ASKS FOR INCREASE OF TEN PER CENT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Jan. 28.—The mine workers have made arrangements to spend about $30,000 a month to bring to a successful and speedy termination the strikes in the Thacker and Matewan, West Virginia, fields and Hopkins county, Kentucky. This afternoon the national executive board, following the instructions of the convention, introduced a resolution providing for a levy of 10 cents a month on each member in good standing for strike purposes.

It was the understanding tonight that many of the miners are willing to accept their present scale for another year if the operators will agree to a general adoption of the run-of-mine basis. The report of the scale committee has been presented, and while it calls for a general advance equivalent to 10 per cent, it is thought by some that the miners are making a play to have the old scale readopted, as reports continue to come in that the operators are going to demand a reduction of 10 per cent. The present scale has been standing for two years, having been ratified by the joint conference at Columbus last year. When it was suggested originally, it was regarded as a victory for the organization, as it was equivalent to an advance of over 20 per cent.

The scale recommended in secret session was for a general advance for bituminous mining of 10 per cent on a "run-of-mine" basis, the differential of 70 cents—the old figure—between the pick and machine mining; 15 cents a day increase for inside drivers and a uniform scale for all outside labor.

It is believed that the anthracite men will not figure prominently during the remainder of the convention, as their scale cannot be settled here. They have what they came for—the promise of the national organization to bring about a joint conference with the anthracite miners and to morally and financially help them in case a strike is necessary.

The committee of tellers which has had in charge the counting of ballots on the election of officers, reported the election of the following delegates to the next annual convention of the American Federation of Labor: John Mitchell, W. B. Wilson, T. L. Lewis, J. P. Reese, W. D. Ryan, T. D. Nichols and John Fahey; alternates, Patrick Dolan, W. B. Haskins, Edward McKay, W. B. Fairley, John Dempsey, D. H. Sullivan, Thomas P. Duffy.

The new auditing committee consists of M. McTaggart, John Mossopp and Patrick Fitzsimons.

The committee on redistricting the mining states reported the Lewis resolution, which was adopted.

The salary list, as fixed, will be as follows from and after the conclusion of the present official terms: National president, $1,800, an increase from $1,500; national vice president, $1,400, an increase of $200; national secretary-treasurer, $1,200, an increase of $300; editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, $1,200; no increase. Members of the national executive board, $3 50 per diem, an increase from $2 a day, and payable wherever the members of the board are employed by the president in executive work for the benefit of the United Mine Workers. Members of the national auditing committee, $3 50 a day while engaged in their official duties, an increase from $2 50 a day.

The delegates from district No. 5, Pittsburgh—held a brief meeting after the adjournment of the convention and instructed District President Patrick Dolan to agree with all the convention had done during the executive session with regard to the report of the scale committee.

THE TORTURES OF THE MIDDLE AGES FOR AN AMERICAN

Man Accused of Being an Anarchist Files Complaint With Secretary Hay of Barbarous Treatment in Venezuela.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by The New York Herald Co.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—In behalf of Hippolyte Lambert, a naturalized American citizen, a memorial has been sent to Mr. Hay, secretary of state, asking that the United States government demand from Venezuela $150,000 for injuries sustained by the petitioner. Lambert arrived here last September, and since that time has been in the French hospital on account of the torture to which he was subjected by Venezuelan soldiers.

He says he was arrested in Caracas last July, where he was employed as a cook by Simon Peterle, a wealthy cigarette manufacturer. It is alleged that he had gone out one evening to get supplies and stopped for a moment in the cafe of a hotel. Soldiers entered the place and arrested him and several other persons. He was taken to a police station, where, he says, he was beaten with the butts of muskets and flogged. His effects were afterward removed from his living rooms, and his papers and his money confiscated.

Lost Manuscript of a Book.

Among the articles taken was a manuscript of 485 pages containing notes on economic and sociological conditions in North and South America for the last 20 years. Lambert made every effort to communicate with the American consul, but the authorities declined, he says, to let him send any word to the representatives of his government.

Lambert also avers that he was removed by night to La Guayra, where he was subjected to further indignities and torture. He alleges that he was placed in a sitting posture, and that a rifle was placed behind his knees. He was then bound and 10 rifles tied together with cords were placed in the form of a yoke about his neck. The weight of the rifles tortured him and caused him such pain that he fainted.

Tortures of Middle Ages.

Afterward he was strung up by the thumbs. He tried to escape, but was overtaken, driven into a corner and prodded with bayonets. For three days he had neither food nor water. At the end of that time he was told he had been banished from Venezuela.

Many of his papers were not returned. He reached San Domingo penniless. There a clue of work against aided him.

Lambert, in the course of his travels through this world, has organized many socialistic clubs and was, consequently, well known to fellow socialists. It was charged by the Venezuelan government that he was an anarchist. This he denies. Papers were found in his possession which indicated that in 1877 he had been concerned in a revolution in Guatemala.

Through the efforts of friends in San Domingo Lambert was enabled to return to the United States.

William Woodward Baldwin is counsel for Lambert. The American minister to Venezuela has reported that Lambert had the name of being an anarchist. The point has been raised that Lambert went to the French consulate in Caracas and registered himself as a citizen of France. This he denies.

Saw the Panama Battle.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The steamship Finance of the Panama Railroad Company, which arrived today from Colon, brought with her Commandant Louis Bourgeois, chief of the geodesic service of the French army, who was an eye witness of the naval engagement in the harbor of Panama on January 19 between the Liberal gunboat Almirante Padilla and the Colombian government Lautaro, in which Gen. Alban was killed.

Commandant Bourgeois was awakened at 6 o'clock in the morning by hearing the firing in the harbor and went out on the roof of the Panama company's warehouse, where he had a view of the entire bay. The Padilla was firing every gun and circling around the other ship. The Lautaro's machinery was out of order and she was, therefore, unable to move. The Lautaro received a terrible beating. The Padilla went around and around her, raking her fore and aft, until the gunboat was a dismantled hulk. The men on the government boat feared nobly, but the odds against them were too heavy and very soon the government boat caught fire.

Small Force on the Lautaro.

The commandant could see the men on the decks of both ships plainly, and while the Padilla seemed to be crowded with men, the government ship was short-handed. The Padilla was firing every gun, while the other ship was only able to respond with her fore and aft Gatling guns. Even while the flames were raging the soldiers on the Lautaro kept firing their guns until they were forced to jump overboard because of the excessive heat.

At 8 o'clock the Lautaro sank and her boilers blew up. The crew of the Liberal gunboat made no attempt to rescue the crew of the other ship, who were seen attempting to swim to the harbor, and whose cries for help could be heard on shore.

COLON, COLOMBIA, Jan. 28.—An imposing memorial service was held in the cathedral at Panama yesterday in honor of Gen. Carlos Alban, who was killed during the naval fight in the harbor.

The British cruiser Psyche, from Barbadoes, and the United States gunboat Marietta, from Porto Rico, arrived here today.

LIGHT ENGINE TIED UP ENTIRE B. & O. SYSTEM

Became Derailed, Caused Two Wrecks and Blocked All Traffic.

NO ONE SERIOUSLY HURT

Until Midnight the Blockade Continued Paralyzing Schedules, Delaying Thousands of Passengers—Scenes at the Station and Near the Wreck.

A derailed engine tied up a railroad system last night.

Two separate wrecks resulted, and traffic on the Baltimore & Ohio was suspended for hours. Thousands of dollars' worth of property was damaged. Discomfort and delay were inflicted on hundreds of waiting passengers.

One passenger train was thrown from the tracks and a freight train was badly smashed. Not a wheel turned for hours, and the spot where the wrecks occurred was blocked until midnight. Trains scheduled to arrive in the city early in the evening did not get here until after midnight, and the station was crowded with suburbanites and through passengers waiting until the tracks could be cleared and their trains started.

The First Wreck.

A light engine was running over the Baltimore & Ohio tracks near Brady street when the pony truck at front of the engine jumped from the rails. While the crew were trying to get it back on the tracks at 8:05 passenger train No. 11, westbound, crashed into it. Engine No. 831, which was drawing the train, was thrown from the track and the coaches followed it. Fortunately the cars remained upright and none of the passengers were seriously injured. Fireman John White of the passenger engine jumped as the collision took place and was severely bruised in the fall.

Following the passenger train was a heavy freight. It was flagged and stopped a few yards from the wreck. While it was standing there another light engine, No. 1988, rounded the curve and crashed into the rear, piling up the cars and completely blocking both tracks.

Big Pile of Wreckage.

By this time three engines and a dozen cars were derailed and piled up in a heap. The escape of the crew of the engine which crashed into the rear of the freight was due to the fact that they jumped just at the moment of collision and were but slightly injured.

Wrecking crews were sent immediately to the scene, but it took many hours' work before the tracks were sufficiently clear to allow trains to get by.

While the wrecking crews were at work train after train pulled up to the scene of the wreck from the east, and in a short time there was a continuous string of freight and passenger trains reaching for more than a mile up the tracks.

At the Baltimore & Ohio station the crowd increased every minute. Hundreds stood waiting for their trains to get started, and the railroad company came in for a good round share of undeserved abuse.

The passengers at the station were in clover compared to those on the trains east of the wreck. In shivering groups they faced the icy blasts from the Monongahela and watched the work of clearing the tracks. As the minutes flew by many of them left the trains and paid an extra fare on the Second Avenue car line to get into the city.

The scene about the station and train shed was an animated one, and the prospective passengers stood about in groups and every now and then the gateman and porters were besieged with queries as to when certain trains would get away.

Some Sought Morpheus.

Some of the children went to sleep on the waiting room benches and many men and women soon followed their example. In the meantime the crowd was constantly increasing.

To the railroad company the state of affairs was a serious one. Upstairs the train dispatchers made schedule after schedule, and more and more trains piled up on their hands. Out on the tracks stood scores of freight cars. The whole division was paralyzed and soon the sidings were all filled and trains were tucked away in the yards at Glenwood and other points, where their crews had to wait, in some cases until daylight, until they could start.

Passenger trains Nos. 5, 104 and 49 of the Baltimore & Ohio were held up east of the wreck at Glenwood, together with No. 10 of the Pittsburgh & Western. At the station as many more were compelled to wait for the moving signal.

SENATOR HENRY CABOT LODGE,

He Shook His Finger in Senator Teller's Face During a Heated Debate.

STEEL FOR PHILIPPINES.

Pittsburgh Structural Material in Two Huge Government Naval Station Contracts.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Company of this city has just been awarded a contract for the Sangley Point coaling station at Cavite, Philippine Islands, in the construction of which Pittsburgh structural material will be utilized. The contract is valued at $530,000. The American Bridge Company will furnish about 3,000 tons of the steel material required.

The Atlantic concern is at present executing a $1,950,000 contract for the Manila harbor improvements, for the fulfillment of which large quantities of Pittsburgh steel will be used.

FUNSTON PRAISES WHEATON.

Little General Was Indignant at the Idea of a Reprimand for the Latter from the Senate.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Gen. Frederick Funston, who arrived in this city today, was indignant at a hint of a reprimand for Gen. Wheaton, which was recently broached by Senator Teller in the United States senate.

The general reviewed Gen. Wheaton's long career and said that he did not believe in subjugating the Filipinos by sprinkling them with rosewater.

Gen. Funston was asked about his plans for the future, and replied: "I have only the regular army in sight."

SANTOS-DUMONT FLIES OVER THE MEDITERRANEAN

LONGER VOYAGES LATER

Aeronaut Attributes His Success to the Protection Afforded by a Medal Given Him by the Princess Isabella—Maneuvered His Craft With Ease.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by The New York Herald Co.)

MONTE CARLO, Jan. 28.—M. Santos-Dumont, with his dirigible balloon, made two excursions over the Mediterranean today at 10 o'clock and at 2 o'clock, amid the applause of many spectators who had come from many points, among whom were the Duke of Dino, the Principe and Principessa Ruspoli, M. Olivier Ritt, governor general of Monaco, and M. and Mme. Cavalie Mercy.

The aeronaut did not, however, give his airship all the speed of which it is capable. He was accompanied in the morning by the steer Monte Carlo, having on board his owner, M. Cabricau, and in the afternoon by a steam sloop belonging to Mr. Hughes. In the morning M. Santos-Dumont made the circuit of the bay several times, and in the afternoon he executed a number of evolutions and returned to the starting point.

Surpassed His Former Feats.

The trials in the afternoon were more important, as the success of the aeronaut surpassed even the success he achieved in Paris last year. After having moved about in all directions without any pitching movement, at a height varying between 10 and 15 meters above the waves, he went so far out over the open sea that it was thought for a moment that he had started for Corsica.

But this voyage did not enter into the intentions of the aeronaut today, because his airship not yet being fitted for long voyages until later. At the end of half an hour M. Santos-Dumont was seen to turn, describing a curve with a radius of more than a kilometer, he returned in the direction of the Port D'Hercule, passing alongside the terrace of the Casino, where he was loudly applauded. In a few moments he succeeded, as he had done in the morning, in the difficult operation of making a landing on the narrow space between the aerodrome and the bay.

The Aeronaut Was Modest.

He was congratulated for his skill and delicate maneuvers, but the aeronaut modestly declining all praise, attributed as heretofore the successful result of his trials to the protection afforded by the medal given him by the Princess Isabella.

In order to facilitate his future landings the principality is having constructed in the bay a wooden jetty, where the floating guide rope can be grasped at the moment of the return of the airship.

As soon as M. Santos-Dumont returned to the aerodrome he sent to the president of the republic of Brazil the following dispatch: "Went out on the open sea with great success. My experiments will continue every day when the weather is fine."

SCHLEY IN LOUISVILLE.

The Rear Admiral Was Cheered by Thousands on His Way from Chicago.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Jan. 28.—Rear Admiral Schley, who, under the chaperonage of the board of trade and the Knights Templar, will be Louisville's guest until Friday next, arrived here over the Monon road at 7:15 o'clock this evening.

He was greeted by an admiral's salute, and a shouting crowd of many thousands at the depot. He was escorted to his carriage by the full committee representing his hosts and was driven to the residence of Marion E. Taylor, president of the board of trade. Here the admiral and Mrs. Schley spent a quiet evening.

The trip from Chicago was one long ovation. The admiral made no speeches on the trip, although at some of the stops he spoke a few words of greeting. Telegrams from every station along the line, many of them stating that the schools had been closed to allow the children to see the admiral, were received. They asked that the admiral appear on the platform, if only for a moment.

A public reception and a banquet are on the program for tomorrow, both being under the auspices of the board of trade. Thursday, as the guest of the Knights Templar, of which organization he is a member, the admiral will attend a reception and ball. Friday he will leave for Nashville, Tenn.

REAR ADMIRAL WALKER,

President of the Canal Commission Which Decided for Panama Route.

BOER PEACE OVERTURES.

Dutch Government Acting as Diplomatic Agent in Proposals to British Government.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Mr. A. J. Balfour, the government leader in the house of commons, announced today that he had received a communication from the Dutch government Saturday night containing overtures for peace in South Africa.

He added that no communications for a like nature had been received from anyone authorized to speak for the Boers. Mr. Balfour said that he hoped to lay the communication from Holland and the reply to it before the house in the near future.

The Krugerites denied last night that the Boer delegates had charged anyone to make peace proposals, and others say that Dr. Leyds inspired the Dutch foreign secretary.

The Daily News this morning claims credit for the initiation of the peace movement. This paper says that after Lord Rosebery's speech at Chesterfield they sent Dr. Bisschop on a secret mission.

Dr. Bisschop had long conferences with the Boer delegates on the conditions, with the exception of Mr. Kruger. But he was assured that the ex-president had delegated his authority, and that it was not necessary to see him.

According to the paper Dr. Bisschop persuaded the delegates to hold a conference and discuss his proposals. They followed the [illegible] to Utrecht.

TEN LIVES LOST IN A TENEMENT FIRE IN BOSTON

Some Jumped from Windows and Others Were Found Dead in Bed.

PANIC IN A BIG HOTEL

Guests of Lindell Driven Out by Raging Flames in an Adjoining Building. Women Borne Out Unconscious—Losses Estimated at Over $500,000.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—Ten dead bodies were taken out of a tenement house at Hanover and Clark streets, where a fire broke out at 1 o'clock this morning. The building is three stories of brick with a laundry on the ground floor, the upper parts of the building being occupied by a number of families.

The fire had been smouldering some time before it was discovered, and when the firemen arrived a number of men and women were hanging from the windows and shouting for help. Some jumped before the firemen could reach them and were killed. Several bodies were found in the beds where the victims had been suffocated by the smoke as they slept.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28.—Two hundred and thirty guests of the Lindell hotel were driven from their apartments into the sleety streets tonight by raging flames which wrecked the adjoining building at the corner of Seventh street and Washington avenue and threatened to sweep away the hostelry.

Women were carried from the upper floors by elevator and down the stairways in fainting condition. Mothers with infants in their arms groped their way through suffocating smoke. Men dragged their trunks after them down the iron stairways of the hotel and clerks in the office hastily procured the valuables of the guests from the safes and vaults and carried them to places of greater safety.

The fire originated in a seven-story brick structure known as the O'Neil building. There were a dozen or more firms occupying it, of which the largest concern was the L. Bauman Jewelry Company. The losses suffered by those concerned will approximate $500,000.

The Lindell hotel was damaged by smoke and water to the extent of $10,000.

DAVENPORT, IA., Jan. 28.—The Bettendorf steel axle and car bolster company's plant was partly destroyed by fire today. Loss $75,000; covered by insurance.

MANITOWOC, WIS., Jan. 28.—The Wagner department store burned today. Loss $80,000.

DES MOINES, IA., Jan. 28.—Fire destroyed the business portion of Rippey, in Green county, today. Loss $30,000.

Collector Pratt's Condition.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The condition of James S. Pratt of Sharon, Pa., collector of internal revenue for the Pittsburgh district, is unchanged today. He is still a very sick man.

NO TROUBLE FOR SWEENEY TO GET HIS RECEIPTS

He Is Busy Paying Taxes for the Fourth Ward Delinquents.

HIS SYSTEM IS SIMPLE

Put Up a Forfeit With Collector Conner and Treasurer McClure and Then All Was Smooth Sailing—No Decision on Nomination Papers.

John J. Sweeney, the Flinn Democrats' representative, was found in the county commissioner's office yesterday looking over the registry books of the Fourth ward. He held a bunch of tax orders in his hand and was looking through the books to ascertain whether the names of the electors on the orders appeared on the tax books.

"That's a good joke on these fellows from the Fourth ward," he said, "who went into court and had their names put on the registry list, but have failed to get their receipts. They should have left a deposit with the treasurer. I left $50 with Conner and $50 with McClure and have had no trouble in getting receipts. These orders I have here were returned to me by Conner. He did not have the names on his books."

"Do you mean that Collector Conner gave you those orders so that you could go to the treasurer's office and pay the receipts?" was asked.

Conner Gave Them to Him.

"Yes, Conner gave me these the other day. We always see that the taxes of our people in the Fourth do not become delinquent."

Mr. Sweeney's statement is in effect that Conner has done for him what he refused to do for the regular Democratic organization, declaring that his attorney had instructed him to withhold the orders. Sweeney is the machine leader of the Fourth ward.

The men from the Fourth who have not gotten their receipts have appealed to the courts for assistance. Attorney C. A. O'Brien yesterday began mandamus proceedings to compel Treasurer McClure to issue receipts dated prior to January 18. When the court ordered that the names of these men be put on the registry list, a deposit was left with Conner covering the amount of the tax receipts.

The names were not on the delinquent books and Treasurer McClure refused to issue the receipts because the deposit had not been left with him.

Doubt About the Papers.

The county commissioners failed to give the Citizens party a definite idea of what was wanted in nomination papers. The result is that four different kinds have been filed from each ward. One style contains the names of the ward officers alone. A second ticket has the controller and ward candidates. The third contains controller, ward and precinct candidates. The fourth has the ward and precinct candidates. The papers are all in proper form and the commissioners are at a loss to know what to do.

Chairman Crawford says he is willing to withdraw all of the papers but the set the commissioners agree on. It is probable the officials will ask the courts to decide.

The assertion is made that some of the signers to the petition for the district candidates are not residents of the districts they sign for. The commissioners went to New York last evening to investigate the working of some machinery needed for the new morgue. They expect to take up the nomination papers on Friday. It may then be decided whether the Citizens will get the consolidated ticket under a circle.

A Letter to Griest.

The commissioners have written to W. W. Griest, secretary of the commonwealth for a ruling on the point raised by George W. Guthrie in the numbering of the ballots. Mr. Murray says that the commissioners have no official notice that the constitution has been amended. This dispatch from Harrisburg shows that the state department is not likely to give a decision:

Neither Gov. Stone nor any of the other high state officials who were here today would discuss the question raised at Pittsburgh that the voting machine amendment to the constitution adopted at the last election does away with the numbering of the official ballots at elections. J. B. Patrick, election clerk of the state department, said an authority on the ballot law, had this to say on the question:

The constitutional amendment adopted last November apparently wiped out all of section 6, article 8 of the constitution and provided simply that secrecy in voting be preserved, but said nothing as to the manner of casting a secret ballot.

Could Tell Only as Witnesses.

The section which was repealed provided that election officers should be sworn not to disclose how any elector shall have voted unless required so to do as a witness in legal proceedings.

The amendment adopted, however, to take the place of this section made no provision whatever as to requiring election officers not to disclose how an elector has voted. In my mind, an election officer might properly refuse to be sworn not to make such disclosure, thus destroying, in the absence of any legislation, the secrecy of the ballot.

It seems to me that this question is properly one that should be taken into the courts for a judicial interpretation and that the amendment adopted at the last election needs legislation to properly put its provisions in force.

In Secretary Griest's absence, it cannot be ascertained tonight whether or not the state department will rule that ballots need not be numbered, although Mr. Patrick's statement would seem to indicate that the department will not rule on the question in the absence of an opinion by the courts.

No Papers for Twenty-Seventh.

When the commissioner's office closed last evening the Citizens party had not filed nomination papers for the Twenty-seventh ward, and yesterday was the last day for filing papers in the city. It is possible that during the evening the papers were accepted by someone connected with the office. These documents were filed for Pittsburgh:

Citizens party, Thirty-eighth ward—Fred Fichtel, select; C. Wesley Cross, common councilman.

Socialist-Labor, Thirty-second ward—W. H. Peak, common councilman.

Union party, Seventh ward—John B. Larkin, controller; Samuel Sheridan, common councilman, and balance all citizens ticket.

Union party, Fifth ward—P. J. Barry, select council; J. J. Hughes, common council, and Citizens ward and district ticket.

Independent, Twenty-second ward—James F. Keenan, select council; William T. Edwards, common council.

Municipal, Sixth ward—George Soles, alderman; Edward Dunn, jr., common council, and the Dunn faction ward ticket.

Municipal league, Sixth ward—John A. Martin, alderman; P. P. McGuiness, common council, and the Martin faction ward ticket.

These nomination papers were filed for Allegheny wards:

Socialist Labor, Fifth ward—School director, William E. Hunt.

Socialist Labor, Sixth ward—School director, Joseph Priess, R. W. Evans; alderman, Bert Pugs.

Socialist Labor, Seventh ward—School director, John Zelron.

Papers for Peoples Party.

Peoples party, Eighth ward—School directors, J. W. Brown, G. M. Kirk; constable, J. L. Kelly.

Citizens party, Tenth ward—School directors, Edward Johnson, Joseph Dutner.

Citizens party, Eleventh ward—School directors, B. E. Oliver, W. J. Morris; alderman, Frank Harkins.

Independent party, Fourteenth ward—School directors, George Kastelmeyer and G. A. Braeder.

Judge Frazer has decided that the Democratic certificate of nomination of Mark Lydon and George Naismith, candidates for councilmen in the Eighteenth ward, are invalid. He rules that S. J. Wainwright and A. M. Barr, the machine candidates, who received a Democratic indorsement, go on the ballot. Lydon and Naismith will appear in the Citizens party column. The Democrats of the ward held two suggestion meetings, one in the Mt. Albion school and the other in the McCandless school, on different dates. The City Chairman designated the Mt. Albion building. The Lydon faction argued that a Republican meeting was called for the Mt. Albion school on the date set by the chairman.

No Decision Given.

In the Twelfth ward contest between J. J. Sullivan and Thomas McCann, rival candidates for common council, the decision was withheld.

These Citizens party meetings have been called:

Nineteenth ward, Garfield school, Thursday night. Speakers, W. B. Rogers, George H. Stengel and Prof. H. J. Schmitz, who will make an address in German.

Twentieth ward, Friendship school, Thursday night. Speakers, A. M. Brown, Charles S. Crawford, Charles A. O'Brien and R. W. Guthrie.

Twenty-fifth ward, Scheller hall, Twenty-sixth and Jane streets, February 8. Speakers not yet assigned.

Twenty-fourth ward, Wickersham school, February 5. Speakers, William J. Brennen, Stephen Boyle and Ralph M. Strawbridge.

Seventeenth ward, Old Turner hall, Butler street, February 15. Speakers, A. M. Brown, W. B. Rogers, John Marron and C. A. O'Brien.

The colored citizens of the Fifteenth ward held an enthusiastic meeting at the headquarters of the Citizens party, No. 3613 Butler street, last evening. J. B. Wainwright, candidate for select council, and James W. Jack, candidate for common council, attended the meeting and made short addresses. Dr. W. C. Clinton, M. F. Foster and H. H. Clay also spoke. The Citizens candidates were indorsed.

The Citizens party of the Sixteenth ward will open headquarters at Penn avenue and Thirty-seventh street tonight. There will be speeches and a brass band to enliven the occasion. The headquarters will be kept open during the campaign.

NO LET UP EXPECTED IN PRESENT COLD SNAP

Snow and Storm Are Following in the Wake of Low Temperature.

There are no indications of a let up in the present weather, and it will probably continue for a day or so longer. Snow will probably fall during the early morning. Heavy snows are predicted for the states of the middle and lower Ohio valley, and it will probably extend to the upper Ohio and over the lower lakes this morning. It was snowing in the central Mississippi valley last night with the indication that it would reach Pittsburgh soon. Death followed in the wake of the cold wave. William Gurmbert is thought to have been drowned in a rush of ice that swept down the Monongahela valley yesterday. At 2 o'clock yesterday morning the ice carried away the docks of the Iron City Sand Company and the pumping boat in which he was stationed. Gumbert has not been heard from, and it is believed he was drowned. The docks were seen passing Industry, 30 miles below Pittsburgh.

John Kalochra, an Austrian, died at St. John's hospital last night from concussion of the brain. As he was leaving his home, No. 78 Ontario street, he slipped and fell to the pavement. He was 38 years old.

The gorge, which had formed at the Ft. Wayne railroad bridge, broke yesterday and passed out without causing any damage.

A large quantity of timber tied at the Monongahela Sawmill Company's plant was also carried away. The heavy current and the ice interfered with dropping coal out of the pools for shipment south. The water was over Lock No. 2, and no boats passed through. Ice caused a suspension at the other locks. The towboat Hawk, owned by the coal combine, which sank at the Black Diamond coal works, five miles above Monongahela, several days ago, was carried into Monongahela yesterday by the ice. The boat lodged against a pier of the bridge at that place, and is believed to have been badly damaged. The steamer was being raised when the ice tore it away.

About 4,500,000 bushels of coal will leave the harbor on the present rise.

Residents of the Turtle Creek valley are thankful for the cold wave. It saved them much damage from high waters. At Port Perry the locks are submerged and a number of coal flats owned by the Consolidated Coal and Coke Company are said to have gone over and are lost.

LIZZIE DIDN'T LOVE HIM.

Smith Had Sued Her for False Pretense, But When He Heard Her Declaration He Quit.

"Don't you love me no more, Lizzie?" asked Whitehall Smith of Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, in Alderman William Lang's office last night.

"I never did and I never will love you," was Mrs. Miller's scornful response.

"All right, then, judge," said Smith. "I haven't got another word to say."

In this fashion Smith's suit for false pretense against Mrs. Miller ended. He paid the costs and the woman departed with a toss of her head. Mrs. Miller is an attractive mulatto woman, who has been a widow for 15 years. Smith has been a widower since last July. He has been paying assiduous court to the widow.

He testified that he had given the woman $45 in money and about $75 worth of wearing apparel in the belief that a wedding was soon to follow. When Mrs. Miller wrote him a letter, which he produced in court, declaring that she would not marry a "nigger." Smith promptly sued her.

Mrs. Miller admitted Smith's charges. She said he was greatly in love with her, but she thought that if he was fool enough to want to squander his money she might as well let him.

Then Smith asked her the question quoted above and the case came to an abrupt end. Smith was greatly downcast at the outcome of his experience with the eternal feminine.

another in the south, where we are not allowed to protect our wives and children.

Mr. Spooner—It is one thing to kill men with arms in their hands against a government and against the flag; it is another thing to burn them.

Mr. Tillman—You burned them in Kansas, sir?

Mr. Spooner—Wherever it is done it is an outrageous crime.

Mr. Tillman—Oh, it is a very easy thing for a man who has not come in contact with them in close quarters to theorize and sentimentalize as to what other people ought to do.

Mr. Tillman was admonished by the president pro tem that he must not interrupt a senator without first obtaining leave, to which he replied that he "was taunted in a way that no white man from South Carolina can submit to."

Mr. Tillman—When he quoted the constitution a moment ago in regard to the power of congress in dealing with territory and other property, did he include men as other property whose liberty and lives and all rights are to be jeopardized or to be destroyed in their country, and whether they are property; whether people are property. You bought them at $2 a head. It is true; but did you intend to give them their liberty, as we propose, or do you propose to hold them under the bayonet, under carpet-bag government more damnable than you put upon us in 1868?

Louisiana and Philippines.

Mr. Spooner—That is the old question. The power to occupy inhabited territory involves the power, I suppose, to change the allegiance. We acquired Louisiana. No one ever pretended that men and women were bought and sold in that transaction.

At the conclusion of Mr. Spooner's remarks Mr. Teller offered the following amendment to the pending bill as a separate section: "Be it further enacted, That the Constitution and all laws of the United States which are not locally inapplicable shall have the same force and effect within the said Philippine archipelago as elsewhere within the United States."

Mr. Teller declared that the outrages and tortures committed in the Philippines by the Spaniards had been increased since the advent of the Americans into the islands, as was always the case when the Anglo-Saxon succeeded the languid Latin in such an undertaking. He asserted that war was rife today in the Philippines, as it had been since our forces opened fire on the Filipinos.

State of Insurrection.

He was satisfied, he said, that if the senator from Massachusetts (Mr. Lodge) would call before the Philippine committee men who knew the facts he would find in the Philippines a condition of absolute insurrection and war.

Mr. Teller, further along, referred to what he declared was the establishment in the Philippines of reconcentration camps and to the repetition in the Philippines of the horrors introduced into Cuba by Weyler.

He said that a private letter from an army officer in the Philippines had been received in Washington in which that officer was quoted as saying, with respect to the establishment of concentration camps: "If this thing is to continue, I will have to apologize to Weyler." Another officer was quoted as adding: "The time has come when I'm ready to apologize to him now."

Wouldn't Tell His Authority.

Mr. Teller, in response to a volley of questions, replied that he did not know the name of the writer of the letter, and would not mention it if he did know it.

As he was proceeding to discuss the censorship of press dispatches sent from Manila, he was interrupted by Mr. Foraker, who quoted from an interview with President Taft of the Philippine commission, under yesterday's date, stating that there was no censorship of press dispatches now. Further along Judge Taft, with reference to the alleged establishment of concentration camps, explained that only an insurrectionary cordon had been established with a view to crushing out what remained of the rebellion. Mr. Foraker said that if there was anything more barbaric than another it was the establishment of concentration camps in Cuba by Gen. Weyler; and for a senator to say that the government had established anything of the kind in the Philippines was for him to make a most serious charge.

Beveridge Stirs Up Teller.

Mr. Teller was insisting that he had good authority for the statement that press dispatches were censored in Manila when he was interrupted by Mr. Beveridge, who said it had been stated by authority on the floor of the senate that press dispatches were not censored in Manila. He was prepared to make the same statement from personal observations in the Philippines.

Manifesting considerable irritation Mr. Teller declared he would let the senate consider the question of the "impertinence" of Mr. Beveridge in interrupting him for a question, and then proceed to lecture him. He said there had been some rules of decency and courtesy which had been recognized in the senate for 25 years.

"This is the first time in my experience," said he, "that a senator has gained the floor to ask a question, and then charge the senator who yielded to him with being a liar."

Accused of Discourtesy.

Mr. Beveridge promptly disclaimed any intention of discourtesy toward Mr. Teller, but insisted that he would now and at all other times correct misstatements when they were persisted in by other senators.

"Well, I consider that the senator was very discourteous," retorted Mr. Teller.

Soon afterward Mr. Teller, referring to a press dispatch from Manila, quoting Gen. Wheaton as criticising some utterances of Dr. Schurman in his Boston speech, said:

"There is not a senator on that side of the chamber," pointing to the Republican side, "who did not know that the statements in that dispatch were true."

Instantly half a dozen Republican senators, including Mr. Lodge, Mr. Hawley and Mr. Platt of Connecticut, sprang to their feet, uttering protests against the Colorado senator's statement.

Satisfactory to Teller Only.

"That is not true, and I will not permit it to go unchallenged," declared Mr. Lodge.

"Then I will change it," said Mr. Teller, "and say that there is not a senator on that side who ought not to have known that the statements in that dispatch were true."

Mr. Foraker interrupted Mr. Teller to inquire if he had any information additional to that which he had yesterday upon the accuracy of the dispatch.

"I said I had satisfactory evidence—evidence satisfactory to my mind," said Mr. Teller, "that the statements in the dispatch were correct."

A resolution introduced yesterday by Mr. Lodge authorizing the committee on Philippines to make an investigation of the Philippine question and to sit during the sessions of the senate, was reported favorably, and adopted by the senate.

Stockholders Meet.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Standard Underground Cable Company was held yesterday afternoon. The business of the company for the year was $3,339,673. Dividends paid during the year aggregated $150,000. The total surplus now stands at $247,827. The board of directors, Mark W. Watson, Robert Pitcairn, James H. Willock, J. N. Davidson, John D. Nicholson, John B. Jackson, John Moorhead, Jr., B. F. Jones and J. W. Marsh were re-elected. The board will meet Friday to re-elect the following officers: Mark W. Watson, president; Joseph W. Marsh, vice president and general manager; Frank A. Rinehart, secretary and treasurer; Charles M. Hagen, auditor.

PHILADELPHIA COMPANY PLANS GREAT IMPROVEMENTS.

Widener-Elkins Syndicate Given Representation on the Directorate—Rumor of the Absorption of the Fort Pitt Gas Company Is Officially Denied.

The Philadelphia Company directors yesterday appropriated $2,000,000 to improve its street railway system. The board voted that expenditures may be made to this amount by President J. D. Callery of the Pittsburgh Railway Company in improvements and extensions of the power plants, and in the purchase of additional cars.

It was reported yesterday that negotiations for the taking over of the Ft. Pitt Gas Company had been concluded, and that the merger would be effected on the 1st of February or the month following.

While negotiations have been on looking to this end the executives of both companies and a representative of the controlling interest in the St. Pitt Company last night denied that the deal had been arranged. Ex-Judge J. H. Reed, president of the Philadelphia Company, said that all negotiations in the matter are off.

The Ft. Pitt Company is the most important independent competitor of Philadelphia Company in light and heating interests. Last year it earned $800,000, paying 4 per cent dividends on its $2,500,000 stock, out of this besides 6 per cent interest on $1,000,000 of bonds. A handsome surplus was also left.

W. L. Elkins of Philadelphia, representing the Widener-Elkins' interests in the traction-light-heat monopoly, has been elected a member of the board of the Philadelphia Company. This came about through the Philadelphia syndicate's large share in Consolidated Traction Company stock recently turned over to the Philadelphia Company. Mr. Elkins took the place vacated by the retirement of J. C. McDowell, who resigned office as vice president and general manager, to take the same offices in the J. M. Guffey Petroleum company.

The Philadelphia Company board of directors is now as follows: James H. Reed, J. D. Callery, M. K. McMullin, T. H. Given and Joshua Rhodes of Pittsburgh, W. L. Elkin and George H. Frazier of Philadelphia, Patrick Calhoun of New York and Henry J. Bowdoin of Baltimore.

Representatives of the car manufacturing concerns are now in Pittsburgh anticipating the fat orders that the Pittsburgh Railway Company is about to place. It is proposed to order 100 summer and 100 winter cars of modern design. All will have four motors of 50 horse-power each. The cars will be 27½ feet long on the inside, similar to the new cars of the Southern traction line. Where the present Consolidated traction cars seat 28 people the new cars will provide for 40. They will be arranged to let passengers off and on from both platforms, and the motormen will probably be separate from the platform by railings.

The rest of the appropriation made yesterday will be used in improving the West End and South Side power houses. Both are inadequate for present needs.

OFFICE FURNITURE AT A BARGAIN
Moving of the Equitable Life Offices Makes an Exceptional Opportunity.

The Pittsburgh agency of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, which now occupies the entire seventh floor of the Trademens building, will move into the new Frick building about April 1, and now offers the entire furnishment of the present offices for sale.

The furniture is all of solid oak, in excellent condition, and consists of about 30 roll and flat top desks—large and small; 6 bookkeepers' desks; 4 typewriter desks; 6 tables; 50 office chairs, several settees, and a large number of filing cabinets of all sorts—about $5,000 worth of furniture in all. It will be sold for cash at very low prices; to be delivered as soon as the agency removes, not later than April 1.

The furniture can be seen at any time at the agency offices. If you cannot come write for circular describing the various prices. Direct all inquiries to Charles M. Reich, Equitable Life, Trademens building.

GOING TO ENGLAND TO DENOUNCE KING EDWARD

Mrs. Dewey of Omaha Tells Why She Will Attend the Coronation.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OMAHA, NEB., Jan. 28.—At the coronation of King Edward Omaha will have a special representative. Mrs. Henrietta Dewey will start within a few days for London to attend the ceremonies. Mrs. Dewey purposes to denounce the king from a public place during the parade as a robber and a royal thief.

"A short time ago," said Mrs. Dewey, whose husband died 10 years ago, "I had a store and a stock of goods at Harrison, B. C., valued at $8,000. I am an American and was not slow in expressing my political beliefs. In that way I incurred the hatred of several British officials. They misrepresented me to the head of the military department, and by order of the British government I was kidnaped and my property was confiscated. I was held in custody until the British officers thought the affair had blown over; then I was released without a cent in the world. I have appealed in vain for redress. King Edward could right the wrong done me, but he has not seen fit so to do so. Now I propose to go to London and denounce him to the world. I will stop off in Washington on my way and endeavor to persuade the United States government to take up my case."

Mrs. Dewey graduated from the Omaha high school and the Nebraska state university. She is slightly under middle age.

JOSEPH HORNE CO.

Weather—Snow. Wednesday, Jan. 29, 1902.

Three More Days of the January Clearance.

Three more days in which to pick up the best of values for the smallest of prices.

Special Sales, like that of yesterday, don't clean up everything by a good deal. Every department of the seven floors is teeming with underpriced values.

All one has to do is to jot down what one wants—and come here and buy it away below its intrinsic worth.

Here follow everyday low prices—such as have been in effect all through this January Clearance.

News of Dress Linens and Cotton Skirtings.

Colored Dress Linens.

35c, 40c and 50c a yard.

Close woven for dependable wear—loose woven for the chic Summer dress.

Different weaves in various pretty colors—surf green, blue, pink, delft, gray, coffee color and black.

Fancy Cotton Skirtings.

40c, 50c, 65c, 75c a yard.

Practically an endless variety. Just the thing for next Summer's handsome Walking Skirt.

Or what's so nice as a complement of these Skirts for the lady who has laid out a Southern tour?

Two Cheering Dress Goods Items.

All-Wool Albatross, 45c a Yard.

Sold 4,000 yards of this pretty all wool fabric in two days. The deduction is that it is wanted—and appreciated. Today we place on sale 1,470 more yards in all the popular shades, including cream white.

New French Voiles.

The material of the season for dressy dresses. There are some sixty of the newest Spring Shades. There, is black, also. Every women that sees this Voile likes it. $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard.

The Reduced Prices on Furs.

The very same grades of Furs are here for very, very much less prices, that were here in the early part of the Winter season. Each fur piece is as good as it looks. The reduced prices do not deteriorate from the value and appearance of the goods.

From a great stock that was kept replenished, according to the standard of this store, the opportunity is now presented to obtain something valuable away below its real worth.

We take it the finer garments will be interesting, inasmuch as they are sold for about what the ordinary grades bring. Examples:

ONE FINE AND HANDSOME ASTRAKHAN BOLERO, WITH EMBROIDERED VEST, THAT SOLD FOR $125, REDUCED TO $65.

ONE FINE MINK SLOUSE, A DASHING LITTLE GARMENT, THAT SOLD FOR $150, REDUCED TO $75.

ONE FINE ELECTRICAL SEAL COAT—THREE-QUARTER LENGTH, FULL BOX BACK, COLLAR AND REVERS OF GENUINE MARTEN—REDUCED FROM $100 TO $50.

AN ULTRA-FASHIONABLE FUR GARMENT—THREE-QUARTER LENGTH ASTRAKHAN AUTOMOBILE—REDUCED FROM $275 TO $150.

SEALSKIN JACKETS—SHORT, JAUNTY GARMENTS—WITH COLLAR, CUFFS AND REVERS OF RUSSIAN CROWN SABLE—REDUCED FROM $450 TO $350.

AN ELEGANT COAT OF PERSIAN BABY LAMB, VERY STYLISH SHAPE, TRIMMED WITH REAL CHINCHILLA, REDUCED FROM $500 TO $400.

The medium grades of Furs, the Scarfs, the long Boas, the Muffs—are treated to the same considerate reductions. Altogether it is the best time of the year to buy Furs. Winter is not yet half over. And if that hibernating animal that presages the weather comes out next Sunday and sees his shadow, there's no telling how far into Spring furs will be comfortable.

Men's Winter Gloves.

Kid or wool—and whatever is chosen will be good, better, perhaps, than some men are used to wear for the same money. Variety enough to suit all tastes.

KID GLOVES, LINED WITH WOOL, $1, $1.50 AND UP TO $3.

MOCHA GLOVES, LINED WITH WOOL, $1.50 A PAIR.

FINLEY TELLS SECRETS OF WORK ON RESERVOIR

Says Contractors Wanted Him to Overlook Deviations from Plans.

ANY ENGINEER CAPABLE

Councilman Douglas Asserts That He Was Discharged for Making Keeling & Ridge Follow Specifications—Statement by McCandless

Much talk has been caused by the controversy in common council on Monday afternoon over the ordinance providing for the employment of an engineer to superintend the construction work on Highland reservoir No. 2, and the questions asked by H. H. Douglas of the Twenty-first ward concerning the necessity of expending $4,000 a year for an extra engineer.

Director McCandless was asked yesterday afternoon by a reporter of The Gazette for a statement of his position in asking for an extra engineer. He said that he had stated his ideas in council on Monday, but added the following statements:

"I feel that the city should be represented on that work by a thoroughly competent man; a man of good reputation and capable of taking charge of such an important improvement.

Man With Reputation.

"I think we want a man with a reputation to lose, to prevent any mistakes being made in the work. I would much prefer to have a man, who is not in the city employ at the present time; one who has not been identified with the work in any way.

"Formerly we had an engineer at the reservoir for an hour or two every morning. After this short time he would go away and leave the supervision to an inspector. I think we need a good man who will devote his entire attention to the reservoir.

"The man we had was a civil engineer. Now neither a civil engineer nor an inspector is the proper man to look out for the city's interests in the completion of an important contract like this one. We want a construction engineer, one who thoroughly understands his business.

No Harm About Appointment.

"There is no hurry about the selection of a man, as the character of the work to be done is such that the contractors cannot work in freezing weather. All we want is the power to appoint a man when the time comes. The man we want is one who will look after the interests of the city, and see that the work is done properly. You cannot get a competent man for a nominal salary. Besides, what does $4,000 amount to in the proper completion of a big contract like this one."

The engineer to whom Director McCandless refers is Charles Finley of the Twenty-first ward, who spent some time in the employ of the city as one of the engineers in the bureau of water supply and distribution. He was engaged for some time as chief engineer, superintending the work on Highland reservoir No. 2. It was because of a refusal to accept some work which had been completed that he was removed from the city employ.

Finley Knew His Job.

Mr. Finley is intimately acquainted with the specifications for the reservoir, and he tells some very interesting facts about the work done so far, and what may be done to complete the job. He said yesterday afternoon:

"The contract price for the reservoir, according to a bid made by Jonathan Clark & Son, was $420,000. The accepted work so far amounts to possibly 50 per cent of the entire job. My estimate of cost for the completion of the reservoir is $150,000 more than the contract price, provided the specifications are followed.

"My trouble with the department of public works was that I insisted upon the accept some work done by Keeling & Ridge who have the contract. The little bit of work done by the Clark firm, and the greater part of that done by Keeling & Ridge, is according to specifications, and I accepted it. However, the latter part of the work done by Keeling & Ridge I refused to accept, as it was not done according to specifications.

Specifications Not Followed.

Nearly a year ago, during the time George W. Wilson was director of the department of public works, Mr. Keeling came to me, out at the reservoir, and said that his firm was not to be pushed too closely to specifications, as they would lose money on the job if plans and requirements were followed exactly. I told him that I could not take any such instructions from him, and that if specifications were not followed to the letter I would have to notify me in writing.

Last August or September Keeling & Ridge threw up the contract, because they said they were losing $40,000 owing to specifications. This was during the time E. M. Bigelow was director of the department of public works. That matter was adjusted somehow, and the firm resumed work. It was after that time that they did work, which I refused to accept as contrary to specifications.

Practical Men Needed.

A thoroughly practical man is needed to superintend the work, and at no time, while I was there, did Keeling & Ridge have a man who understood what he was about. During the short time the Clark firm had the work in charge they employed a superintendent of construction, who was paid $7,500 a year; four inspectors at $75 a month and a considerable engineer corps.

Keeling & Ridge do not understand what they are trying to do. Their force of men has never been organized, and to get anything done right you must stand over the men until it is finished. I had disputes with a member of the firm about simple principles of engineering, which an inspector was forced to explain to him by a very easy practical demonstration.

Director McCandless seems to think that he needs a construction engineer. Any civil engineer who has had a complete education should be able to read plans and lay out his work, but also superintend the construction of it. Of course there are men who devote more time to construction, but any good civil engineer is thoroughly competent to complete that work and look after the best interests of the city.

No Need for $4,000 Man.

I cannot see what necessity there is for employing another engineer. So far as I can learn, my place in the bureau of water supply and distribution has never been filled. Let them appoint a man there, and he can attend to the work. And that is not a $4,000 a year job, either.

The work on that reservoir can be completed in one season under ordinary conditions. If an adequate force of men, well organized and in capable hands, is put to work the reservoir should be finished this year. No work can be done in winter, but from the open weather in the spring until next winter ought to be time enough to finish that job. Of course it is possible that the market will be such that material cannot be obtained, but I do not know anything about that, but I say that under ordinary conditions, one season will be sufficient to complete the work.

Says Company Is Not Interested.

Officials of the Mercantile Trust Company denied yesterday afternoon that their company was in any way interested in having a city engineer put on to supervise the work at the reservoir.

"We are only interested in this matter to a certain extent," said one of the officials. "We do not care whether the city sends an engineer out to look after that or not. Keeling & Ridge must look after that. All we are doing now is to furnish moral support to Keeling & Ridge, in their efforts to complete the contract to the best advantage. We expect that Keeling & Ridge will complete the work as it was mapped out, that is according to specifications."

In answer to a question as to whether the trust company would not be responsible for the completion of the work if Keeling & Ridge withdrew, an official of the trust company said:

"That seems to be the general impression, but it is possible that idea is wrong."

He refused to discuss that matter further, saying: "That is another matter, and we will not discuss it now."

Douglas Not Satisfied.

Councilman Douglas is not at all satisfied with the explanation made by Director McCandless as to the need for an engineer to supervise the work.

"Director McCandless admits that he does not know much about the job," said Mr. Douglas yesterday. "What right has he to employ high salaried engineers to supervise work which he himself knows very little about. He does not say why the city needs such a man here. How does he know of this crying need when he knows so little about the reservoir and the work which has been done?

"Any well educated civil engineer is capable of looking after the city's interests. We have several bureaus of engineering, which cost the city thousands of dollars a year. Surely there is a man among them who is capable of taking charge of his work. If there is not my suggestion to Dr. McCandless would be to get a new corps of engineers.

Finley Was a Good Man.

"I cannot understand, either, why Director McCandless suggests getting a man who will draw almost as much salary as he himself gets. He has some $4,000 men up there now. One of them should be satisfactory.

"They had a good man on that work when Charlie Finley was there. He was discharged because he knew too much. He insisted on having specifications followed closely, and refused to accept work which did not comply with the contract requirements. Why don't they appoint a man in his place in the bureau of water supply and distribution? Then they won't need to bother about employing $4,000 a year men besides.

"When I questioned Dr. McCandless in common council yesterday afternoon, he made one very damaging admission. He told of sending an engineer out to make an inspection of the reservoir, and see in what condition the work was. When I asked him whether he had provided this expert with specifications he was forced to admit that he had not. Now what would the report of such a man be worth? A man who did not know what the specifications of the work were. How could he tell whether it was done properly or not?

"I don't want to get into a controversy over this matter, but I cannot see where there is any just reason for employing an engineer as suggested. If the matter comes up again, I may have something further to say."

Sparr Explains Statement.

Councilman Emil Sparr, who resented in common council on Monday Councilman R. H. Douglas' intimation that his actions as councilman were affected by his relation to Keeling & Ridge, the contractors on the Highland reservoir, Mr. Sparr being a foreman in that firm's employ, explained more in detail yesterday a statement he made on the floor of council. In answer to Mr. Douglas Mr. Sparr had said that a member of the firm had once only asked him to vote for a measure that the firm favored.

"That was when a resolution indorsing the administration of the former recorder, Maj. A. M. Brown, was introduced in councils through E. M. Bigelow, then director of the department of public works," said Mr. Sparr last night. "On that occasion Mr. Keeling, a member of the firm, came to me and said: 'Sparr, I would like you to vote for that resolution, if you possibly can.'

"Bigelow Was in Power Then."

"'Joe,' I said to Mr. Keeling, 'doesn't my work suit you? I am getting $4 a day from your firm, and I work hard for it, but by jiminy, if you're trying to dictate to me what I should do in council, you can give me my time. I can get a job anywhere.'

"'No, I don't want you to quit us,' said Mr. Keeling, 'but Bigelow is in power and wants this resolution passed, so I though I would ask you to vote for it.'

"'Well, I won't vote for it,' I said, 'and you may as well understand that now as at any time, and, furthermore, I don't want you ever again to ask me to vote one way or another in council.'

"'Do you think you ought to vote on any measure that comes up in council affecting the firm that employs you?' Mr. Sparr was asked.

"If a measure affecting the firm of Keeling & Ridge were to come up in council and I thought the adoption of that measure would be inimical to the city's interests, I would vote against it," replied Mr. Sparr.

Did Not Concern Contractors.

"The matter that came up in councils yesterday had nothing to do with the firm. It was a question whether it was better for the city's interests to have an engineer employed who would devote his whole time to watching the work on the Highland reservoir."

"I was very sorry to hear Mr. Douglas make that remark. It was entirely uncalled for. I had taken no part in the debate, and Mr. Douglas did not know how I would vote."

Councilman Elmer E. Anderson was another man who took exceptions to Mr. Douglas' remarks. He is superintendent of machinery for Keeling & Ridge.

"Mr. Sparr and I were at first neutral on that proposition to employ an engineer," said Mr. Anderson. "I know that Joe Armstrong, the councilman, who opposed it so bitterly spoke to me about it, but when Mr. Douglas attacked the director he voted for the measure. The firm of Keeling & Ridge has never asked us to vote a certain way. Mr. Keeling asked us to vote for Bigelow's resolution, but Mr. Ridge was angry with him about it. Should any question come up concerning the city and Keeling & Ridge I would consider it carefully and vote as my conscience and justice directed."

LOOKING FOR A MURDERER.

A Rochester Bootblack Arrested on Suspicion of Being Connected With Brown's Death.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 28.—William, alias "Chub," Dempsey, was arrested by Detective Rowlands yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on Ontario street. He is said to be wanted in Rochester, N. Y., in connection with the murder of Bela B. Brown, an aged jeweler of that city.

Dempsey was a bootblack and always shined the jeweler's shoes. He disappeared from Rochester either on Sunday night or early Monday morning, and has not been seen there since. The Rochester police have a theory that Dempsey may have been posted as a picket at the bottom of the stairs leading to the Brown jewelry store, which was up one flight, over a public restaurant, within a few feet of the center of the city.

A LAWYER SHUFFLES OFF.

Found Dead of Carbolic Acid in a Philadelphia Hotel.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—(Special)—Henry Manne, a well-known lawyer of New York, committed suicide at the Hotel Walton some time yesterday by drinking carbolic acid, but the fact was not made public until today. Mr. Manne came to Philadelphia Sunday night. When the chambermaid went to the room yesterday morning she found the door locked, and when at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon it was still fastened, she reported the fact to Proprietor Swett. Manne was lying on the bed, while on the bureau stood a bottle from which the odor of carbolic acid was plainly perceptible.

Relatives who came for the remains were unable to assign a cause for his self-destruction.

Valet Kern Arraigned.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Edward Kern, a valet, was arraigned today on the charge of stealing jewels valued at $50,000 from his former employer, Paul G. Thebaud. Detective Capt. Titus said that Kern had told him where the $15,000 pearl could be found. All of the other jewels have been recovered. Kern was arrested in New Orleans.

Much Money Needed for Missions.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 28.—Bishop Thoburn, at a weekly meeting of the Methodist Ministers' association, today, said that Methodist missions are financially embarrassed. He said that a deficit of $200,000 stared the Methodist denomination in the face. As a matter of fact, he says, $300,000 is needed immediately.

Pension Agent Nesbit Reappointed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—President Roosevelt today, on the recommendation of Senators Quay and Penrose, reappointed John W. Nesbit as pension agent in Pittsburgh. There were no other applicants for the place, as it has been understood for over a year that Mr. Nesbit was to be re-appointed.

John F. Dryden Elected Senator.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 28.—The Republican caucus selection of John F. Dryden for United States senator was confirmed today by the legislature, he receiving the majority vote of both houses. Allan McDermott was given the Democratic complimentary vote.

TELEPHONE AND LIGHT CONCERNS FREE FROM TAX

Not Even Their Real Estate Yields Any Revenue to the Municipality.

SMALL BENEFIT DERIVED

Free Telephone Service and Space on Poles and Conduits the Only Actual Return for the Valuable Franchises Granted the Corporations.

The investigations of The Gazette into the revenues derived by the city of Pittsburgh from its various public service corporations, disclose the worst conditions possible, the further the investigation is carried. The paltry revenues from street railways and gas companies have already been shown and now it is found that Pittsburgh is at the mercy of its electric light and telephone companies.

Of these corporations, the Allegheny County Light Company, which controls the electric lighting in the city, has easily the best of the bargain. That company is absolutely foot free in so far as paying any taxes or revenues into the city treasury is concerned. Both of the telephone companies are required by their franchises to grant certain free service to the city, and allow the city space on poles and conduits. The telegraph companies in the city do not pay anything at all for their privileges, which are, however, much less of a public service nature than either of the other two kinds of corporations.

Even Realty Is Exempt.

In most other cities in the United States, the municipality gets some adequate return for the privileges enjoyed by such public service corporations as electric lighting companies and telephone companies. In Pittsburgh even the real estate of the Allegheny County Light Company and of the Central District and Printing Telegraph and the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone companies, is exempt from taxation. Such property is exempt in other cities also, but wherever such condition exists, plans are already on foot looking toward the fixing of an adequate tax rate upon the holdings of the corporations.

For a great many years past certain men, who have at different times been in municipal office, have advocated a municipal electric lighting plant. The plan has never found many supporters, and never really claimed the attention of the tax-paying public. A glance at the sum of money paid annually by the city to the Allegheny County Light Company might make some people consider the advissibility of municipal electric lighting.

The City's Bill for Light.

For the year 1901, as nearly as can be determined from the books in the city controller's office, the city paid to the Allegheny County Light Company about $245,000. The greater part of this sum was for the arc lights in the city streets. A few thousands of dollars covered the arc lights used in the parks, and the incandescent lamps in the police patrol stations, fire engine houses, and a few are lights in the South Side market house and at the Municipal hospital.

This immense sum of money is paid annually by the city without one cent of return in any way. When the franchise of the Allegheny County Light Company was granted in 1881, the only stipulation made was that the city should be charged for electricity at the rate of 75 per cent of the amount charged to private individuals. This franchise granted to the Allegheny County Light Company the right to erect and maintain poles and wires on such streets and alleys of the city as might from time to time be necessary for the extension of the electric lighting service throughout the city. The company was also required to erect poles of such size and strength that street lamps could be hung from them if necessary.

Permission Not Needed.

Further than that, the franchise made the provision for a 75 per cent charge for electricity and then stopped. The company was thus allowed to erect new poles and string wires wherever its engineers deemed proper, without any further permission from the city, and without the city having any opportunity to tax the company should council wish to do so.

When a franchise is once granted by councils it cannot be changed to increase the expense of the company to which the franchise is granted until a new franchise is applied for. The provisions of the light company's franchise make any application for a new one unnecessary, so that it is practically impossible for the city to make any more advantageous arrangement for municipal lighting except by the erection of a plant which will generate all the power required by the municipality.

Arc Lamps Cost $20,000 a Month.

The street railways of the city, whose inadequate tax has been shown in a previous article, are not so fortunate. It will be possible, when the new franchises now requested by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, are passed, to attach to them such stipulations that the city will receive some revenue from the immense privileges now enjoyed by the company.

The books of the city controller's office show the following approximated sums paid to the Allegheny County Light Company for light during the year 1901. The average sum paid for the arc lamps used on city streets is $20,000 a month, or $240,000 a year. Some months the payment runs beyond $20,000, for instance during the winter, when lights are burned longer, and more are required. However, the general average is about the sum named.

Most of the police stations and fire engine houses of the city are lighted by gas. However a certain amount of electricity is used. For this the city pays about $92 a month for the fire engine houses and $25 a month for police patrol stations, making $1,404 a year for the department of public safety. Arc lights in the parks cost the city about $150 a month, or $1,800 a year. One arc lamp maintained at the Municipal hospital costs $96 a year. The lights in the South Side market house cost about $84 a month or $1,008 a year. This makes the entire expenditure for city lighting by electricity $244,308 a year.

Big Plants Pay No Tax.

The property of the Allegheny County Light Company is exempt from taxation. The great plant at Thirteenth and Pike and Etna streets, which takes up a square of space, and has hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of valuable machinery in it, brings the city no revenue at all. The East End plant of the company, at Broad and Beatty streets, which is also a very valuable piece of property, is likewise exempt from taxation. The exempt book in the assessors' office values these two pieces of property at something less than $200,000, a sum ridiculously small considering the value of land, buildings and machinery.

The property of the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company and the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company is also exempt from taxation. The central offices of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company, located in Seventh avenue, are exempt from tax absolutely. The building of the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company, also located in Seventh avenue, brings in a certain revenue to the city. The company owns the entire office building, but does not occupy all of it. The part occupied by the company is entirely exempt from taxation, while the part from which the company derives revenue by rental pays a certain tax to the city. The various properties of the two companies scattered about the city are exempt wherever the company is the occupant. Any vacant land or any building not used by the company in its business affairs must pay a revenue to the city.

Some Free Service Given.

Under the franchises given to the two telephone companies of the city, certain free service is granted by the companies, and the city derives other benefits, in that it has use of the top cross arm on each pole, thus relieving the city of the necessity of erecting poles, at least in the districts touched by the companies. In the business section of the city, where both companies use conduits for their wires, the city has use of certain space in these conduits for city wires.

The city gets the free service from the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company for some 25 or 30 telephones. Some of these are located in municipal buildings and others in the residences of certain city officials whose departments or bureaus have to communicate with them at night.

The Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company, under its franchise, is compelled to furnish the city with free telephones in all municipal buildings. When this franchise was up for consideration in councils the company readily agreed to all of its provisions. It required, besides the free service, the use of the top cross arm on all poles, and a certain space in conduits in the downtown quarter of the city where wires are laid underground.

Wanted It Changed.

A short time after the franchise had been granted an effort was made to have it changed until the telephone company had a great deal the best of the bargain. An ordinance was presented in councils calling for but 18 free telephones to the city, but with the other stipulations remaining the same. There was quite a fight on this measure, but it was finally defeated, and while the telephone company has hopes of having its franchise modified at some future time, the city is using a great number of telephones of the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company without paying for them.

There are about 35 telephones in the fire engine houses of the city, 10 in the police stations, 12 to 14 in the building of the department of public safety and in city hall, and nearly as many more scattered about through various municipal buildings. However the city uses very few of the poles of the Pittsburgh & Allegheny Telephone Company and very few of its conduits.

City Had to Put Up Poles.

Before the company was established the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company was thoroughly established, and its poles and conduits are used almost exclusively. The poles are used for the patrol and fire alarm service of the city. There are some outlying districts not yet penetrated by the telephone companies, where police patrol and fire alarm service have been established. In this event the city is compelled to erect its own poles, but its wires are connected to poles of the telephones companies at the nearest junction possible.

Neither the Western Union nor the Postal Telegraph companies pay any revenue to the city. Neither corporation owns real estate in Pittsburgh and their wires and poles are put through the city without any tax. In some cities where the city poles are used and where crossings with city wires are made, a rental is charged, but it is a small sum. The telegraph companies are not considered public service corporations to the extent that the city can levy tax on them.

Revenue in Other Cities.

The Gazette has gotten statistics from a number of large cities showing revenues derived from public service corporations. In the city of St. Louis the total revenue from electric light, telephone and telegraph companies, and such public service corporations, is $62,763 15. This sum is distributed as follows: Bell Telephone Company, 5 per cent on gross receipts, $20,706 78; Kinloch Telephone Company, 5 per cent on gross receipts, $14,012 34; National Subway Company, semi-annual payment of $500; Missouri District Telegraph Company, annual payment of $145, and $2 per pole per annum for every 200 miles of wire, amounting to $125 80; Printing Telegraph Company, annual payment for wires crossing streets, $12 40; Postal Telegraph Company, annual payment for crossings, $79 50; Carondelet Electric Illuminating Company, 5 per cent on gross receipts, sum not given; Cupples Station Light, Heat and Power Company, five per cent on gross receipts, $115 58; Gould Electric Protective Company, annual payment of $51 80; Edison Electric Illuminating Company, 5 per cent on gross receipts, $376 09; Imperial Electric Light and Power Company, 5 per cent on gross receipts, $12,644 65; Missouri-Edison Electric Company, 5 per cent on gross receipts, $12,346 09; Phoenix Light, Heat and Power Company, 5 per cent on gross receipts $1,644 15; making a grand total of $62,763 15.

This sum of actual cash paid into the city treasury is a revenue derived by the city over and above any concessions which are made by the companies, such as free service or lights.

Chicago Fares Well.

Telephone companies operating in Chicago are required to pay a certain percentage of their annual revenues into the city treasury beside furnishing a certain amount of free service to the city. The sum paid last year was $65,146 57, which was paid on the basis of 3 per cent of the gross receipts of the companies.

In a former article printed by The Gazette dealing with gas company franchise taxes, the sum of money received annually by the city of Chicago from its gas and lighting companies were given as $190,491 71. The Gazette's correspondent, in making his investigations, did not separate the two items, so that it is impossible to tell the exact sum derived from heat and light. At any rate, dividing the total in half, either part is much larger than any sum of money or benefits Pittsburgh receives from its heating and lighting companies.

The citizens of Chicago now have a movement on foot which will materially increase the taxation of the public service corporations. In Chicago, as in Pittsburgh, much of the real estate of the corporations is exempt from taxation. The plan now being worked upon is to put an adequate tax on the greater part of that property which now brings no revenue at all to the city.

What Philadelphia Received.

Philadelphia received during the year 1900 from its licenses to telegraph, telephone and lighting companies, for attachment to city poles, maintenance and erection of poles and mileage of overhead wires, $78,845 55. This sum is paid over and above free telephone service for all municipal buildings, and free light and heat also. This sum is not paid on any percentage basis of gross or net receipts, but is a franchise tax pure and simple, being levied in exchange for the privileges received annually from the city by the various corporations.

The telephone companies and one electric light and power company pay the city of Indianapolis annually $27,754 58. The Central Union Telephone Company and the New Telephone Company each make annual payments to the city treasury of $8,000. The Indianapolis Light and Power Company pays 5 per cent of its gross receipts from the rental of incandescent and arc lamps. Another electric lighting company now being installed will be governed by the same provisions. The city also receives certain free service from the corporations, which is fixed by the original franchises granted them.

GEN. MILES OVERRULED.

Recommended Against Commutation of Court-Martial Sentence, Which Root Granted.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Found guilty of manslaughter as a result of shooting an unarmed Filipino, First Lieutenant Preston Brown, Second Infantry, was sentenced today by Secretary Root to a loss of 25 numbers and to draw half pay for nine months. This commutation of the sentence of the court is in direct conflict with a recommendation made by Lieut. Gen. N. A. Miles commanding the army. Gen. Miles stated emphatically that the sentence of dismissal and five years' imprisonment, recommended by the court, should be carried out. Great pressure was brought to bear upon Secretary Root to commute the sentence.

The court record establishes conclusively that Brown shot the Filipino, but the American officer asserted that the native was trying to escape, and he killed him before he reached the bush. Evidence of men who were witnesses of the shooting is that Brown struck the native over the head with his revolver, then brutally kicked him and told him to "clear out." The Filipino started to walk away, when Brown shot him in the back, causing his death. The court made no recommendation of mercy.

HINSEY ACQUITTED.

Knight of Pythias Proven Not Guilty of Serious Charge at the Twenty-Third Session.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—After 23 sessions a committee of five past chancellors of Interdomain lodge, Knights of Pythias, has unanimously voted to acquit John A. Hinsey of the charges brought against him. Mr. Hinsey is the former head of the insurance department of the Knights of Pythias. Charges of mismanagement and misappropriation of the department's funds were made against him at the meeting of the supreme lodge in Chicago last July.

For 12 years Hinsey was at the head of the endowment rank and resigned a year ago. The supreme lodge, in session at the Lexington hotel, last July, announced that a shortage of $500,000 had been found and that the loss had endangered the existence of the department of which he was the head. Sixty-three charges, including embezzlement, submitting false reports and misconduct and mismanagement of the insurance department were made. Five past chancellors of Interdomain lodge—McCormick, Wright, Davis, Phillips and Godding—were appointed to try Hinsey and they began the hearing of evidence last September.

WOMEN OF ALL CLASSES

Find Pe-ru-na Indespensable to Guard Against Colds, Coughs and Chronic Catarrh.

Miss Emily Milburne, President West Side Young Woman's Club, 152 West Congress street, Chicago, Illinois, writes to The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio:

"For the past four years the members of our West Side Club have used little medicine except Peruna. It is our cure for the many different complications resulting from colds; whether it is a severe cough, catarrh, influenza or la grippe. We find it is very superior as a tonic and an appetizer and a good cure for indigestion, and a true friend to women. Personally I endorse it, knowing it to be deserving the confidence of suffering humanity."—MISS EMILY MILBURNE.

Ask Your Druggist for a Free Pe-ru-na Almanac. Every Druggist Has Them.

Mrs. G. W. Miller, 20 N. First street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"Peruna is a blessing to women. There is no greater strain on the nerves of a woman than the never ending cares of a household. When things go wrong, she never is hurried and children cry, it is not necessary to look pleasant, but when sickness in the family adds to the burden it becomes very heavy. I have found Peruna my very best friend under such difficulties. When I have children worry me, it quiets them and when I become overtaxed and weary Peruna restored me, and if anyone in my household caught cold a few doses of Peruna administered and a night's rest prevented a spell of sickness. If every wife and mother would have a bottle of Peruna in her medicine chest, life's burdens would be much easier to carry."—Mrs. G. W. Miller.

The club woman and the housewife join in praising Peruna. The reason for this is because both these classes are alike subject to catarrh and catarrhal diseases.

Catarrh is everywhere. No class of people are exempt from its insidious ravages. It enters the palace and hovel with equal facility. It attacks men and women with like ferocity and frequency. Strong men and fair women are among its victims.

Thus it is we find Peruna, the catarrh remedy, everywhere. The upper classes use it; the lower classes cannot do without it, and the middle classes praise it.

At this time of the year, when winter begins to approach with its chill blasts and biting frosts, everyone should be as alert as possible to escape what seems to be almost inevitable in this climate, catarrh.

The number of people who have catarrh of some form or other every winter is millions.

Now is the time to get Peruna.

Now is the time to get Peruna, and it should be taken as soon as the slightest symptom of catching cold manifests itself.

Many people do not seem to understand that a cold is acute catarrh; that catching cold is simply catching catarrh. An old cold is chronic catarrh. Catarrh is liable to settle anywhere in the system. While it is true that Peruna cures catarrh wherever located, yet it is advisable for everyone to use Peruna as a preventive and not wait until catarrh has fastened itself in some part of the system.

Miss Sara McGahan, 197 Third street, Albany, N. Y., writes:

"A few months ago I suffered with a severe attack of influenza which nothing seemed to relieve. My head, nose and throat had, my eyes became irritated and feverish. Nothing seemed right and nothing I ate tasted good.

"I did not know what it is made of, but I knew it is a wonderful medicine to drive away sickness and restore one to health. Within two weeks I was perfectly well and now when any of my friends have such ill I advise them to take Peruna."—Sara McGahan.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Filipino Guides Declared They Were Unable to Distinguish Edible from Poisonous Roots—Americans Lead Insurgents Against Police.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANILA, Jan. 28.—Gen. Chaffee curtailed his trip and returned here this morning. He says he found the conditions satisfactory everywhere, except at Samar, where continuous rain during the past two months has retarded the campaign, especially against such an elusive enemy.

The condition of Capt. David D. Porter's marines, who took part in the expedition into the interior of Samar, is much worse than previously described. They suffered fearful hardships and were without food for several days. The natives who accompanied the marines claimed they were unable to distinguish the edible roots, which the marines did not believe. The anger of the marines against the natives is intense. None of the latter returned with the marines.

The marines suffered so acutely from starvation that they ate, raw, the flesh of two dogs.

When Capt. Porter and the first three of his men came into camp they were delirious and difficulty was experienced in ascertaining the whereabouts of their companions. Williams of the First infantry headed the relief expedition in the face of a torrential rainstorm which flooded the rivers. He succeeded in reaching the remaining ten men who would otherwise have certainly perished. He found them all delirious. Two of the men were discovered in the branches of trees, barking like dogs. Some of the marines are so ill that they are not likely to recover.

Ten Men Were Lost.

The expedition into the interior of Samar led by Capt. David D. Porter of the marine corps, numbered 36 men. It had been absent two weeks. The marines had been provided with rations for only five days. On January 21 Capt. Porter and 26 members of his party reached the coast of the island of Samar. The other 10 men were missing, and little hope of their safety was entertained.

Major Lot and three Filipino lieutenants, with ten rifles, three revolvers and twenty-four bolos, surrendered to Major Anderson of the Sixth cavalry yesterday at Lipa, province of Batangas. Lot was brought in sick upon a litter. He was cordially hated at Lipa, where he looted $55,000 worth of jewelry from prominent families. Nickerson's scouts have captured Colonel Lot, a brother of Major Lot, near Batangas.

Lieutenant William L. Karnes of the Sixth cavalry has had a slight engagement with some Filipinos during which he killed two insurgents and captured a captain and two soldiers.

A party of insurgents, led by two renegade Americans, recently entered Alangulang, in Leyte province, claiming they were constabulary but not yet uniformed. The impostors were taken to police headquarters and were royally entertained by the native sergeant in charge. At a given signal the renegades and insurgents fell on the police, who, though outnumbered more than 2 to 1, fought desperately and drove off their assailants after a hand-to-hand fight, in which bolos were the chief weapons. The victory was not notable, as the police were completely surprised and so outnumbered. They lost two men killed and had one man wounded. The insurgents left one man dead.

Discussing the Tariff Bill.

The criticism of the senate minority report on the Philippine tariff bill has been general, both in public and private here, though many people admit the statements made in the report are correct.

General Wheaton's vigorous criticisms referred entirely to Prof. Schurman's speech at Boston, though he holds the professor in high personal esteem. The statement that a person who made such remarks here as those credited to the professor during his speech would be sent to jail referred merely to the recent sedition law.

MISS STONE HAS NOT BEEN RELEASED AS YET

Secretary Hay Learned Yesterday That She Is Still in the Hands of the Bandits.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—Miss Ellen M. Stone is still a prisoner in the hands of Bulgarian brigands. The negotiations between the American representatives and the agents of the brigands have suffered another setback. The authorities now say that new negotiations must be commenced.

Word concerning the failure of the rescue mission reached Secretary Hay this afternoon. The news was most disappointing in view of the expectation that the woman's release was impending. The ransom has not yet been paid, and so long as the money remains in the possession of the American agents the officials have no fear that any harm will befall the captive.

VIENNA, Jan. 28.—A telegram has been received here from Sofia, saying that the brigands wish the liberation of Miss Stone, the captive American missionary, to take place upon Turkish territory, and the Turkish government will not consent to this arrangement unless it be advised of the time and place for the passage of the brigands across the frontier. The Turkish government also requests that a neutral escort accompany the brigands.

A COUNTESS ABANDONED.

American Girl Who Wedded a Title Now in a Home for Friendless Women in Greater New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Ill and despondent, a young woman who says she is Helena, countess von Schonepherr, asked the police of Brooklyn today to search for and arrest her husband on a charge of abandonment. She is in the Home for Friendless Women without a penny to her name. Her husband is heir to a fortune of more than $1,000,000 and independently wealthy besides.

In police court today the woman, her cheeks wet with tears, told her story. She is 28 years old and pretty. Until she reached the home today she had been without food for 24 hours. For hours she walked the streets. She was born in Schenectady, she said, and was educated in a convent. She had $20,000 in her own right when married. She studied music under Prof. Fortier in Montreal.

Ohio Man to Be Extradited.

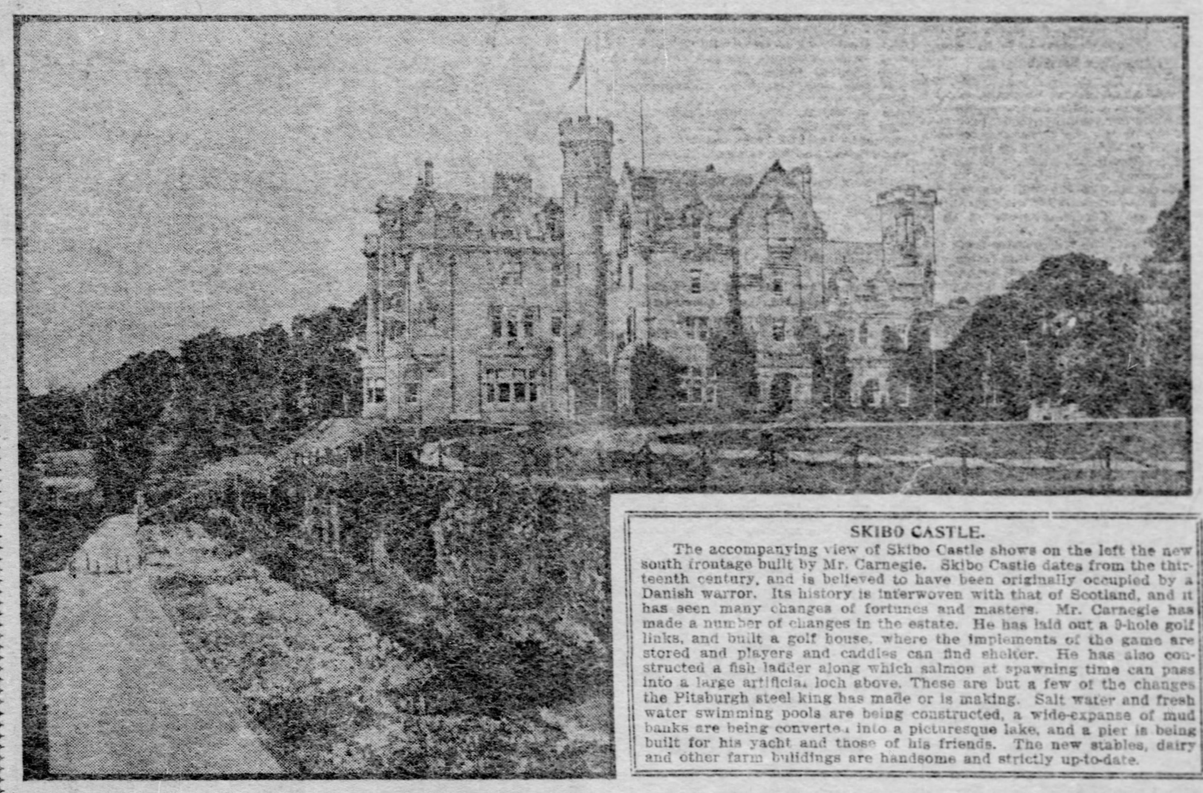
ANDREW CARNEGIE'S HOME IN THE HIGHLANDS



SKIBO CASTLE.

The accompanying view of Skibo Castle shows on the left the new south frontage built by Mr. Carnegie. Skibo Castle dates from the thirteenth century, and is believed to have been originally occupied by a Danish warror. Its history is interwoven with that of Scotland, and it has seen many changes of fortunes and masters. Mr. Carnegie has made a number of changes in the estate. He has laid out a 9-hole golf links, and built a golf house, where the implements of the game are stored and players and caddies can find shelter. He has also constructed a fish ladder along which salmon at spawning time can pass into a large artificial loch above. These are but a few of the changes the Pitsburgh steel king has made or is making. Salt water and fresh water swimming pools are being constructed, a wide-expanse of mud banks are being converted into a picturesque lake, and a pier is being built for his yacht and those of his friends. The new stables, dairy and other farm buildings are handsome and strictly up-to-date.

PROGRAM FOR HIS FIRST SEVEN DAYS IN THIS COUNTRY.

German Admiral and the President to Exchange Calls—Traveling, Sight-Seeing and Dining Will Take Up Much of the Royal Visitor's Time.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—The program of the reception and entertainment of Prince Henry of Prussia was fully completed today so far as the exchanges between the president and the German prince are concerned. The arrangements now agreed upon differ somewhat from those tentatively made heretofore, and permit the prince and party to spend more time in New York city. The program is as follows:

Saturday, February 22.

Arrival in New York harbor, probably about noon, on Kron Prinz Wilhelm of North German Lloyd line. Admiral Evans, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, will meet the steamer at quarantine station and conduct his royal highness, Prince Henry of Prussia, with his suite, to the Hohenzollern, which the president's delegates will then visit to extend greeting. Visit of the mayor of New York. Exchange of military visits during the afternoon. Prince Henry and his suite will attend the Irving Place theater and return to the Hohenzollern for the night.

Sunday, February 23.

In the morning, religious exercises on board the Hohenzollern. If the weather is favorable a visit to the tomb of Gen. Grant in the afternoon. Private entertainment by the Deutscher Verein. Leave for Washington in the evening by special train on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Monday, February, 24.

Short stop at Baltimore at 9 a. m. Arrival at Washington at 10:20 a. m. Military escort from the Pennsylvania railroad station to the White House, and thence to the German embassy. The president will return the visit of the prince at noon. Visits of ambassadors and ministers. Visit to the capitol at 4 p. m. Dinner at the White House at 6:30 p. m. After dinner the prince will return to New York by special train on the Pennsylvania railroad. Departure of the president and his party for Jersey City by the Pennsylvania railroad.

Tuesday, February 25.

Departure of the prince and his suite and of the president and his party from Jersey City for the ship yards of the Townsend-Downey Ship Building Company at Shooters island. Launching of the yacht of his imperial majesty, the German emperor, at 10:30 a. m. Lunch to the president on board the Hohenzollern at 1:30 p. m. Visit of the prince to the mayor of New York in the afternoon. Dinner of the mayor of New York at 6:30 p. m. Gala opera at the Metropolitan opera house after the dinner.

Wednesday, February 26.

Luncheon with representatives of commerce and industry at 12:30 p. m. Sightseeing in New York in the afternoon. Torchlight concert at the Arion club at 6:30 p. m. Banquet of the press of the United States at 8 p. m. Special ferry to the Pennsylvania railroad at 12 midnight and journey to Washington.

Thursday, February 27.

Arrival of Prince Henry at Washington and escort to the German embassy. Memorial exercises to President McKinley in the house of representatives, the prince and his suite attending. Visit in the afternoon to Mount Vernon.

Friday, February 28.

Visit to Annapolis in the forenoon. Luncheon at Annapolis at 12 noon. Dinner at the German embassy. Reception by Secretary Long at the navy department, 3 to 5 o'clock.

Saturday, March 1.

Departure of the prince and his suite for his southern and western tour on special train.

DOWAGER EMPRESS TO THROW OFF THE MASK

She Receives the Minister Seated on Imperial Throne.

EMPEROR OCCUPIED DAIS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PEKING, Jan. 28.—The dowager empress made her formal debut before the foreign ministers here today at the diplomatic reception. She occupied the throne in the main audience chamber, while the emperor sat behind a table on a low dais before the throne.

The fiction of recognizing the emperor as the sovereign was maintained, but the dowager empress was the personage of chief interest and importance. The foreign ministers, the charges d'affaires and the secretaries of legation, numbering nearly one hundred persons, were present at today's reception.

Bowed to the Emperor.

Upon entering the audience chamber the ministers bowed thrice to the emperor. They stopped before the emperor's dais while their suites remained in the background. The dean of the diplomatic corps, M. Czikann, the Austrian representative, delivered the address to the emperor, who replied in a youthful voice. and Prince Ching, kneeling, received the manuscript of his speech and handed it to M. Czikann. The ministers and charges d'affaires were then presented to the emperor, who made some commonplace remark to each one. The ministers then seceded the throne and the dowager empress spoke briefly and recognized each with a bow.

Ceremony Was Brilliant.

The ceremony was a gorgeously colored picture. Many Chinese nobles crowded about the throne. The foreign ministers were carried in yellow chairs nearly to the entrance to the forbidden city, while the secretaries walked. After entering the forbidden city refreshments were served in an outer hall, the Chinese officials mingling with the foreigners in a friendlier fashion than in the old days.

The policy of recognizing the dowager empress as the actual sovereign has gained ground among the foreign ministers since the return of the court. Today's ceremony would have met with objections a month ago. The emperor's incapacity is so clearly demonstrated by all the reports from the palace that those ministers who formerly advocated that the emperor should exert pressure to retire the dowager empress are now abandoning their former views.

PROMOTION FOR DIEDERICHS.

Kaiser Makes Him an Admiral and Gives Two Yachts to the German Navy.

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—Emperor William today presented his yachts Meteor and Comet to the German navy. The Meteor, which will be renamed Orion, is for the use of naval officers at Kiel, while the Comet is for the use of the officers at Wilhelmshaven.

Emperor William has promoted Vice Admiral von Diederichs to be an admiral.

Millions for French Waterways.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—The chamber of deputies today adopted the water ways bill, which comprises improvements in the existing canals at a cost of $12,100,000; the construction of new canals, including one connecting the Northern coal fields with Lagrutine, another from the Loire to the Rhone, and a third from Marseilles to the Rhone, at a cost of $88,600,000; and improvements on the ports of Dunkirk, Havre, Nantes, Bordeaux, St. Nazaire and several other places, at a cost of $31,800,000.

Airship Tested Over the Sea.

MONTE CARLO, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The first trial ascent of the Santos-Dumont airship over the waters of the Mediterannean was made here today. The inventor made a tour of the harbor and then steered his machine back to the shed, amid the cheers of the spectators. The trial was made at a height of 45 yards and a speed of 15 miles an hour.

Would Be Rid of Her Lobengula.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The white wife of Prince Lobengula, son of that King Lobengula who gave England more trouble than any other African potentate, is suing for a divorce before the Rt. Hon. Sir Francis Jeune. She alleges that the prince repeatedly abused her.

Goluchowski May Have to Resign.

VIENNA, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—It was announced here today that the emperor will request the resignation of Count Goluchowski, minister of foreign affairs, because he watched the gambling at the Jockey club December 27, when $500,000 changed hands, and made no effort to stop it.

Irish Members at a Dinner.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Irish parliamentary party gave a dinner to William H. K. Redmond, member of parliament for East Clare, and Joseph Devlin of Belfast, in the house of commons this evening, preparatory to their sailing for New York tomorrow on the White Star line steamer Cymric.

Australians Take Out Three Per Cent from War Expenses.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Jan. 28.—There has been no dispute between the colonies and the war office in regard to the payment of colonial troops.

Canada, Australia and New Zealand expended large amounts in behalf of the war office, and in making up the bills some of the businesslike Australian premiers added 3 per cent commission.

The war office referred the matter to the colonial office. The question was raised by William H. K. Redmond (Irish Nationalist) in the house of commons today and the war secretary, Mr. Broderick, replied that such a commission was customary for local expenditures in behalf of the imperial government and that it would be allowed in the case of the colonies.

OCEAN COMBINE DERIDED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BREMEN, Jan. 28.—An article in the Weser Zeitung, seemingly based upon the authority of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, affirms that Herr Wiegand of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company and Herr Ballin, president of the Hamburg-American line, have not yet sailed for New York, and will not do so until early in February. While in New York, says the Weser Zeitung, they will make no agreement affecting the independence of the German steamship lines.

The article sniffs at the so-called "limitless capital" behind the projected amalgamation of transatlantic steamship lines, and says that the United States Steel Corporation could not have been floated without European capital, and that American enterprises are still large debtors to Europe. The paper dwells upon the importance of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company to Bremen, and says that the transfer of the control of this line to foreign hands would bring disaster to that city's commerce.

BOGUS COIN ABUNDANT.

Porto Rico's Governor Is Forced to Ask Home Government to Send an Expert.

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Jan. 28.—Gov. Hunt has cabled to the treasury department at Washington asking that an expert be sent here to settle the counterfeit question at Ponce, where $4,000 in bogus silver was recently seized.

Business there is practically suspended. The merchants of Ponce are refusing to accept any silver coins of the dates of 1898, 1899, 1900 and 1901. The counterfeit dollars are very poorly executed, but the silver spurious halves and quarters defy detection. They are apparently of the full weight.

The bankers here have examined samples of the silver from Ponce and say the coins are good. There are no experts here or at Ponce. The chamber of commerce met this morning and resolved to accept all apparently good silver until the arrival of the treasury agents.

Eleven Men Drowned.

DOVER, ENGLAND, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—During a gale off here today the trawler, Heron, was sunk. Eleven men were drowned, but one of the crew being saved.

Sluggish Intellect

CAUSED BY COFFEE

"Careful inquiry in the schoolroom developed the fact that those children who are habitually given coffee to drink have sallow complexion, are nervous, more or less irritable and of very sluggish intellect or an overwrought and abnormal imagination, results of extreme nervousness. My own experience with coffee drinking kept me afflicted for some years with severe and constant headaches, with extreme nervousness at times.

"I was compelled to abandon coffee altogether, and was quickly relieved of the headaches and other troubles. I was fortunate enough to secure a package of Postum Food Coffee, but my first attempt at making it was a failure. After another trial and following directions (which are very easy, by the way), I secured a delicious drink, far superior in my mind to coffee. I have continued to use it from the start, and my improvement has been steady with no ill effects at all."

The above was written by a school teacher, Miss E. Barnard of Oxford, Kan.

It is an easy matter to leave off the coffee habit, if Postum Cereal Food Coffee is used in its place, particularly when attention is given to its proper preparation. The whole secret of the preparation is in allowing the Food Coffee to boil long enough to bring out the taste and food value.

All first-class grocers sell Postum.

SENATE AGREES TO A NINTH MAN IN THE CABINET

Nelson's Bill for a Department of Commerce and Labor Passed.

ONE CANDIDATE ALREADY

Director of the Census Merriam's Friends Will Work Hard to Have Him Appointed as the First Secretary of the New Portfolio.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 503 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.

The action of the senate today in passing almost unanimously and with but little debate Senator Nelson's bill creating the department of commerce of labor and to be presided over by a cabinet minister, is regarded as making certain the enactmentment of the bill into a law, as the house has been known to be largely in favor of this recognition of the commercial interests of the country. It is expected that before the end of the session the new department will have been authorized, and that there will be a ninth member of the cabinet.

Just who will be selected as the first secretary of commerce and labor is not known; but there is a strong sentiment in favor of the appointment of William Merriam of Minnesota, the present director of the census bureau. Mr. Merriam has long since been regarded as available cabinet timber, and would have been appointed secretary of the interior by the late President McKinley had it not been for the bitter opposition of the late Senator Davis of Minnesota. A successful and prosperous business man himself, Mr. Merriam brought to the work of the census an executive ability that has overcome all obstacles, and as a consequence the work of the census of 1900 is two years ahead of the work of any of his predecessors. As soon as the department is created the friends of Mr. Merriam will go to work in his interest.

Senator Nelson's bill was amended in various particulars. Probably the most important of the amendments was one changing the title to read "the department of commerce and labor." It provides for a secretary who is to be a member of the cabinet, an assistant secretary, and also the other officials and clerks necessary.

The proposed department is especially charged with the collection and distribution of statistical information and with the development and fostering of foreign and domestic commerce. In the department there is to be a new bureau of manufactures and many bureaus now included in other departments are transferred to this new department, including the life-saving service, the lighthouse service, the marine hospital service, the steamboat inspection service, and the bureaus of navigation, of shipping and of immigration, as well as the control of the fisheries and the Chinese exclusion questions, all now within the jurisdiction of the treasury department, the fish commission and the census bureau. The department also is given jurisdiction over the consular service, so far as it pertains to commerce.

POSTAL MATTERS.

Sharon Office to Be Enlarged—A Postmaster May Lose His Job.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Representative Showalter has been advised by the postoffice department that the building now occupied by the Sharon postoffice is to be enlarged and then leased for the office. The establishment of a sub-station at South Sharon cannot be made before the 1st of next July.

John J. Robinson of Lewisburg, W. Va., is here urging the re-appointment of Postmaster Parr of that town. There is a possibility that Mr. Parr will be succeeded by another when his term expires.

These rural free delivery routes will be established March 1: Pennsylvania—Warriors Mark, Huntingdon county, two routes, with Harry H. Consamer and John T. Patton, carriers. The postoffice at Loveville, Center county, will be discontinued. Ohio—Beverly, Washington county, one route, with Frank L. Scoggan, as carrier.

The following postmasters were appointed today: Pennsylvania—Gapsville, Bedford county, Kitty Hawks. Ohio—Caton, Portage county, E. L. Calwell; New Chambersburg, Columbiana county, H. E. McNely.

The senate today confirmed nominations of these postmasters: Pennsylvania—W. D. Wilson, Clarion; R. D. Peck, Lock Haven; C. J. McGill, Dawson.

New postoffices have been established in West Virginia at Middletown, Marion county, Frank Neeley, postmaster, and at Sherwood, Doddridge county, Ephraim B. Sherwood, postmaster.

Ohio—William Cline, Zanesville, $8; Sylvester V. Tomlin, Washington, $6; James S. Manley, Steubonville, $10; Michael Kronenbitter, Zanesville, $12; Orin F. Stoffer, Randalph, $12; Lewis H. Chavaller, Berea, $8; Susan Cook, Fairview, $12.

West Virginia—Charles W. Fewell, Winfield, $6; William Sandy, Rockford, $12; James L. Parsons, Island Branch, $10; Nancy Blae, Peytona, $12.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

The house military affairs committee decided to retain the transport item in the army appropriation bill.

Ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster again was heard by the house committee in opposition to Chinese exclusion.

The senate committee on finance authorized Senator Aldrich to report favorably his bill for the extension of bank charters.

President Roosevelt made an earnest address Monday night before the Home and Cricket association, urging strict enforcement of game laws.

The senate committee on finance authorized a favorable report on the house bill permitting the redemption of documentary and proprietary stamps presented within two years.

During the house ways and means committee hearing, beet sugar interests opposed Cuban reciprocity, holding that the movement is solely for the benefit of the cane sugar refiners.

The comptroller of the currency has authorized the First National Bank of Weatherly, Pa., to begin business with $25,00 capital and the following officers: Elmer Warner president, Ira W. Barner cashier.

The secretary of war continues to receive cable messages from fellow officers and merchants of Cuba, appealing to him to use his best endeavors to secure tariff concessions on Cuban sugar and tobacco.

By a vote of 8 to 7 the house committee on commerce today decided in favor of government construction, operation and maintenance of a Pacific cable, and ordered a favorable report on the bill of Representative Corliss of Michigan.

The comptroller of the currency has approved of the following selections of reserve agents: The Merchants' national bank of New York by the First National bank of Apollo, Pa.; the Chase National bank of New York by the First National bank of Frederick, O.

Preliminary organization of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institution will be effected today (Wednesday) at a meeting to be held in the office of Secretary Hay. It has been decided to use only the interest of the $10,000,000 bonds, offered by Mr. Carnegie in the operation of the institution.

The officers of the German training ship Moltke, now lying at Baltimore, who are the guests of the German embassy, were received by the president in the White House. They were presented by Herr Von Holleben, the German ambassador. A ball was given at night at the embassy in their honor.

Mumps Are Epidemic—Mumps are epidemic in Braddock, and the physicians say they never before had so many cases.

Contagious Diseases—There were thirteen cases of typhoid fever reported to the bureau of health yesterday and five cases of scarlet fever.

Tool House Burned Down—The tool house of the Southern Traction Company, Chartiers avenue and Carnegie street, McKees Rocks, was destroyed by fire yesterday.

Fractured Her Skull—Irma Ross, a little daughter of James Ross of No. 209 Amity street, Homestead, while coasting yesterday fractured her skull by running into the curbstone.

In Summer Attire—Frank Botrisick is detained as insane in the McKeesport police station. He was found wandering about the town in his shirt sleeves and carrying his hat and coat.

At Work Again—Alderman William Lang of the Third ward, Allegheny, after being confined to his room for several weeks with illness, was able to resume the duties of his office yesterday.

Finnegan Talked Back—Frank Finnegan of Jane street talked back to Magistrate McGarey yesterday morning, when he was before him for disorderly conduct. Finnegan was fined $50.

Thrown from Load of Coal—Edward Coby of Fourth avenue, Homestead, was thrown from a load of coal yesterday by his wagon slipping on the icy street, and both his legs were crushed by the wheels going over them.

Burned In Cement Factory—Kate Hunzeker, 27 years of age, living at No. 1620 Colwell street, is in the Homeopathic hospital suffering from burns received at the cement factory on Second avenue, near lock No. 1.

Completing New Tipple—The tipple of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company at Hays, rebuilt because of fire several months ago, will be completed this week. The cost of the tipple and trestle was $10,000.

Will Dedicate New Church—At the meeting of the congregation of the McKee Methodist Episcopal church in Hays borough last night it was decided to dedicate the new church on April 4. The edifice has been three months in building and has cost $6,000.

Photographic Section—The photographic section of the Academy of Science and Art witnessed the exhibition of 100 lantern slides from the Colorado and Minnesota clubs at Carnegie hall last night. On next Tuesday night W. S. Bell will lecture on snow scenes and development and answer questions.

Dinners Were Stolen—Stephen Nebb was arrested at the Edgar Thomson steel works, Braddock, for stealing dinner pails and their contents. He put up a stiff fight with the officer who arrested him. Dinner pails have been disappearing for several months, and Nebb is blamed for all of them.

Dog Frightened Burglars—The drug store of Edward Rowse, Mifflin street, Homestead, was visited by burglars last night for the second time within a week. A dog frightened the visitors away both times. A window in the grocery store of E. D. Ackard & Son, next door, was raised, but nothing was taken.

Check House Burned—The check house at the head of the Castle Shannon coal incline, high on the side of the hill above the South Side, burned last night at 7 o'clock. It was erected about 30 years ago. It was not worth over $500, but because of the delay inhandling coal for some adys will cause a loss of more than that amount to the railroad company.

Oleo Cots Paid—The costs in the famous oleo cases have been paid. The amount is $5,079 01. These costs were placed by the Allegheny county grand jury on James Terry, agent of the state dairy and food commissioner, who had presented more than 500 suits against dealers in the forbidden oleomargarine. All the cases were ignored.

Was Hit With a Brick—Thomas Movatz of River avenue, Braddock, and a fellow Hungarian had an argument at the Edgar Thomson steel works, Braddock, last night, that was terminated with a brick. Movatz was unconscious for some hours. It was not positively ascertained last night whether his skull was fractured or not.

Boys' Brigade Journal—The Brigade Boy is the title of a new illustrated magazine for boys. It is the official organ of the United Boys' Brigades of America, and the entire work is done by the boys of the Seventh regiment at Lancaster, under the leadership of Col. J. H. Gudlipp. The magazine is filled with matter of interest to all boys, and most particularly to members of the Boys' Brigade.

Swissvale Nominations—Swissvale citizens met last night and made the following nominations: For council, three to elect, W. A. Ferguson, William Ketter, C. H. McCarty. Dr. Albert Milligan and Alexander McKim. The latter three named are the present council. For justice of the peace, W. C. Rice; for school director, two to elect, A. C. Coulter, James Chalmers. Charles Milligan; constable, Thomas Hughes; auditor, A. A. Wheeler.

Coraopolis Blaze—The two-story building occupied by W. D. McBride as a grocery store at Coraopolis, was destroyed by fire about midnight Tuesday night. The loss is about $5,000 and the insurance partial. It is not known how the fire started, and it had such a headway when discovered the fire department could do little more than protect adjoining property. The livery stable of E. N. Phillips, adjoining, was on fire at one time, but was saved.

Girl Took Poison—Irene Levance, 22 years of age, living at No. 528 Robinson street, Allegheny, took poison at an early hour yesterday morning. She was taken to the Allegheny General hospital. Last night it was stated that she would recover. One of the inmates of the house told the police that the cause of the girl taking the poison was because she had been found by her mother, who lives in the East End, and who wanted her to reform.

Generous Contributor—A check for $500 was received yesterday from a prominent Pittsburgher by Charles F. Dean, treasurer of the Boy's Industrial home at Oakdale, to assist in the purchase of the house. This is the gentleman's second contribution. About $5,000 is yet needed, but the board expects to raise it in a few weeks. A number of homeless boys have been recently taken in, and requests are constantly being received that others be taken.

Directors Were Elected—The annual meeting of the contributors to the Allegheny General hospital was held at 3 p. m. yesterday, at which the following board of directors was elected for the ensuing year: The Rev. B. F. Woodburn, C. P. Harbison, Josiah Cohen, William Witherow, James J. Donnell, Joseph G. Siebeneck, D. B. Park, J. N. Davidson, B. F. Jones, Samuel C. Grier and the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander. The newly elected board of directors will meet at the hospital on Monday, February 10, at 3 p. m. to elect officers of the board and a superintendent and clerk of the hospital.

Said Machine Was Out of Order—At the inquest into the death of Charles Wright and James Rollinson, who died as the result of an explosion of a compressor at the Duquesne furnaces on Tuesday of last week, James H. Wright, son of the engineer, testified that the machine had been out of order for a year. This was denied by several of the employes, including a machinist, who had inspected the engine but 10 minutes prior to the explosion. The inquest was continued until Friday.

Florodora Again—The original "Florodora" company, which has just finished its 500th performance in New York comes to the Alvin next week. This remarkable musical comedy is the reigning success of the day and the present company is one of the most expensive theatrical ventures ever undertaken in this country. The principals are Edna Wallace Hopper, Cyril Scott, R. L. Graham, Helen Redmond, Jeanette Lowrie, W. P. Carleton and Philip H. Ryley. The famous sextet will be very much in evidence.

Directors Elected—The following Pittsburgh corporations elected officers yesterday: Iron City Savings and Loan Association—President, H. I. McAlpin; first vice president, Fred Waldschmidt; treasurer, J. W. Lapp; secretary, W. A. Roberts; manager, Andrew Marshall; directors, John Stokes and J. J. Wilson. Cheat River railroad—T. H. Gibbon, J. H. Reed, Hay Walker, Jr., W. S. Guffey, W. F. Johnson. The officers are: President, J. M. Guffey; secretary, George D. Prentice.

Caused Great Excitement—Joseph Nowaak of No. 159 Pius street attempted to thaw out frozen water pipes yesterday morning and set the house on fire. While all of the South Side fire apparatus was responding to an alarm from box No. 359, smoke was seen coming from the chimney of the house, No. 2520 Larkins alley. Some excited individual pulled box No. 395. This acted the same as a second alarm, and all of the apparatus from the next district was called. The whole South Side was in a state of excitement, as it was thought there was a big fire raging. The loss caused by both fires is not in excess of $10.

Victims Getting Better—The two Wiszolek children so frightfully beaten by their father at No. 209 Spring alley on the morning of January 15, when he killed their mother and sister, are getting along in some ways better than was expected at the West Penn hospital. It was decided yesterday that the boy, Frank, 4 years old, will see. His skull was so badly crushed that at first it was the opinion of the surgeons that if he lived he would be sightless. Angelica, the 8-year-old girl, is very much improved, but if she lives, as it is now thought she will, she must necessarily be an imbecile on account of the injury to her brain.

Will Look for Typhoid Germs—There were 82 deaths in Bellevue last year, and 10 of them were caused by typhoid fever. Dr. J. C. Welsh, secretary of the board of health, at the meeting last night stated that he was of the opinion that the milk furnished the citizens was the cause of a great deal of the sickness. He offered a resolution that dairymen be licensed, so that the health officer can look to the source of supply, as well as to the supply when delivered. The resolution was adopted and the borough solicitor will draw up an ordinance. W. H. Claney was appointed health officer, to succeed Charles Hauser, deceased.

The Orchestra Concert—The greatest composer of the period and one of the greatest dramatic singers of the day are represented in this week's orchestra program Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. Madame Schumann-Heink will be heard for the last time in concert in Pittsburgh, as her engagements are such in Europe next year that it is very doubtful if she comes back to the United States. Mr. Herbert has prepared a program, one-half of which is given up to the music of Wagner. Madame Schumann-Heink's special contribution is the Waltraute scene from "Die Gotterdammerung," never before heard at Pittsburgh orchestra concerts.

STOVE MANUFACTURER COMMITTED SUICIDE

John D. Graff Shot Himself at Monongahela City—Cause Is Not Known.

John D. Graff, a member of the stove firm of Graff & Co., No. 909 Liberty street, shot and killed himself at Monongahela City early yesterday morning. Mr. Graff was born in Allegheny 37 years ago. He was a son of Thomas J. Graff, one of the pioneer stove manufacturers, and of the firm of Graff, Hugus & Co., until he died in 1890. The firm continued until the consolidation some three years ago, when the Pittsburgh Stove and Range Company was organized.

At that time John D. Graff was in charge of the plant at Sharon. He was then sent to Monongahela City as manager. He was succeeded yesterday by William Graham. While at Sharon some nine years ago Mr. Graff was married to Miss Elizabeth Ray, daughter of C. W. Ray, who is connected with the office of the auditor general at Harrisburg. There are three children, all girls.

The cause of the suicide is not known. Mr. Graff had been in fairly good health, and his friends argue that a successor to him having been appointed need have given him no trouble, because he was not entirely dependent on the position. It is reported that the Pittsburgh Stove and Range Company had about completed the sale of the plant at Monongahela City, and that Mr. Graham was only sent there to facilitate the transfer.

Mr. Graff, besides his wife and children, is survived by his mother, who lives at Shields, his sister, Mrs. Murray of Sewickley, and six brothers. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Construction Will Soon Begin.

Actual construction work is expected to be started soon by the Cheat River Railroad Company owned in this city, and proposing to build a line from Ft. Marion, near the Pennsylvania-West Virginia line to Parsons, W. Va., down the Cheat River valley. The annual meeting of the company was held yesterday at the offices at 341 Sixth avenue. Officers were elected as follows, all holding over from the past year: President, J. M. Guffey; secretary, George D. Prentice; directors, J. H. Reed, P. Hart Given, Hay Walker, Jr., W. S. Guffey and W. S. Johnson.

The Monongahela railroad, owned jointly by Vanderbilt and Pennsylvania interests, has been incorporated to build a line from Ft. Marion to the Klondike coke region of Fayette county.

FOR FEBRUARY

Mr Baker's article is the first good popular account of my recent work in Wireless Telegraphy.
Guglielmo Marconi

This expresses Marconi's opinion of RAY STANNARD BAKER'S splendid article on

MARCONI
Telegraphing Across the Ocean Without Wires

Mr. Baker was the only representative of a magazine or newspaper to see Marconi at work in Newfoundland. He arrived just after the inventor had received unmistakable signals from his station in England, more than 2,000 miles away. Mr. Baker traveled with Marconi across Newfoundland and through part of Canada, obtaining directly from him the facts given in this article. The article is not only a complete and authoritative account of the successful experiments in Transatlantic signaling, but it sets forth simply and clearly the fundamental scientific principles which make wireless telegraphy possible. It explains the special instruments which Marconi has invented. It shows how the signals travel through space; how they are sent and how received.

Marconi's book, covering his entire work in wireless telegraphy, is now in preparation. It will be published shortly by McClure, Phillips & Company.

CLEVELAND
By William Allen White,
Author of Platt, Bryan, Roosevelt, Hanna and Croker.

Mr. Cleveland is thought by many to be the most important latent force in American public life. He lives in retirement. He says little. He does nothing to attract attention. Yet hundreds of thousands of people regard him as a potent reserve force for a time of national need and are ready to follow him when he sees fit to lead. The secret of the man's past achievements and of his present power is revealed in Mr. White's vivid and honest portrayal.

GOOD STORIES

The fiction in this number will appeal to a wide range of taste. There is a new child story by

Lack of Fire-Fighting Facilities.

Because of an utterly inadequate water supply, due to inexcusable neglect, there is a preventable annual tax on downtown property of $800,000. This is asserted by one authority, admitted by another and denied by none. The tax is in the form of premiums collected by the insurance companies on extra hazardous risks, and these risks embrace the entire business district. The hazard increases, unfortunately, with each day, through the deterioration of the water plant and the progress of the tall buildings. One-half this annual preventable tax would supply permanent betterments that would cause the insurance companies to forego the collection of the whole sum, leaving the property owners to pay only the normal rate for insurance.

The water supply in the business part of the city is shown to have been inadequate fifteen years ago. The wonder is, therefore, that there has not been a complete breakdown long before this. When Wood street is served with a six-inch main that was laid 40 years ago, and when one engine can draw off all the water and pump only wind during the progress of a fire in any part of the business section of Pittsburgh, the strange thing is not that some fires have been disastrous, but that all fires have not been disastrous. Added to the impossibility of forcing sufficient water through the present mains to fight fires is the utter exhibition of intelligent direction of our fire service that has provided at least one engine house that is so small for the fire apparatus included to be stored in it, and on a street so narrow that it is impossible to get the desired apparatus into the house, or, if it were in, to get it out. There is no question whatever that the city is startlingly behind the times in its facilities for fighting fires in the downtown district, and such success as has been recorded must be charged first to luck and second to the efficiency and zeal of the rank and file and district officers of the fire service, some of whom were a short time ago discharged for purely political reasons.

The present duty is to carry out the program of improvement agreed upon at the conference between the representatives of the fire insurance companies and the city. It is a matter that admits of but one course of action. All are agreed on it, and there should be no delay.

Taxation of Franchises.

James J. Booth has aroused the ire of the Times by declaring that if elected to select council he will devote himself to an effort to tax the street car lines that are now and have been for so long in enjoyment of valuable exclusive privileges for which the city receives nothing. Even if Mr. Booth's estimate of what the street car companies should pay is too high it would be wiser to encourage him for the principle to which he devotes himself than to abuse him for the sum he names as proper to be collected. Defense of the untaxed corporations against hurts they are not in immediate peril of is poor service to the public. There is no danger that an oppressive tax will be levied on them, but there is real danger that the old oppression of the people will be continued through the preservation of the present system of exemption. Were the Times honest in saying "Tax the street car companies what is just—that is all right," we would express agreement with it, but the remark is flung in petulance at the advocates of a tax, who are thereby told to tax if they can, and in no sense pledges either the Times or the candidates it favors to the taxation principle or policy. If the Times favored taxing the public service companies it would not so eagerly attack candidates for councils who are pledged to work to that end. The campaign demand for an equitable distribution of the burden of taxation is welcomed only by the taxpayers, whose burden is programed by the city administration to be added to in the form of an increase of the city debt. The alternative is a tax on the public service corporations and the corporation managers naturally prefer that the city debt be added to. There is no room to mistake the issue of the campaign. Even the Times recognizes it.

Corporations That Escape Payment.

The Gazette this morning calls attention to the exemption of the electric light, telephone and telegraph companies from just payments for the valuable municipal franchises enjoyed by them. The privileges granted to the Allegheny Light Company are, apparently, so comprehensive that this particular public service corporation, a branch of the all-embracing Philadelphia Company, is practically immune from further regulation. The city, which pays it a large sum yearly for arc and incandescent lights, is, so far as appears, powerless to bring it within the sphere of the municipal taxing power, because of the lavishness of the original grant. In other cities electric light companies are assessed an annual sum that is an appreciable assistance in lightening the burden of taxation on other forms of property. The only alternative in Pittsburgh is for the city to establish its own plant to light its streets and municipal buildings. Doubtless were this alternative seriously considered the Allegheny Light Company would be glad to volunteer to make terms that would be better for Pittsburgh.

Abuse of Free Speech.

It may be unfortunate, as some critics aver, that army officers abroad should express opinions, but it is far more unfortunate that civilians at home should say things which encourage rebellion. Military men in the Philippine Islands have exceptional opportunities to judge of the effect of unbridled language uttered in America. They know the obstacles thrown in the way of restoring peace by the men in this country who cavil at the administration. They know how the rebels are encouraged by speeches of the aunties, and that it requires additional expenditures of human life and money to counteract the effect of these criticisms, and to convince the Filipinos that the nagging of American objectors cannot for one moment change the policy of the government.

The solemn charge of the lamented Lawton that the opponents of the administration in America were keeping up the insurrection in the Philippine Islands should have silenced the aiders and abettors of the rebellion. Knowing that they were powerless to alter the course of events, they should have had patriotism enough to keep silence, and not make the task of their fellow-countrymen in arms infinitely harder than it need be. Free speech is very pretty, but it should be girt about by well-defined limitations. When it goes so far as to encourage the nation's enemies it approaches perilously near to treason. Men who have helped to keep alive the rebellion in the Philippine Islands have much to answer for, and in the court of public opinion will not be allowed to shield themselves behind the right of free speech.

A Hopeful Indication.

The communication from the Dutch government to the British government relative to the war in South Africa must be considered in connection with Mr. Balfour's announcement in the house of commons that no overtures have yet been received from any one authorized to speak for the Boers. Nevertheless, there may be in this correspondence a beginning of negotiations which will bring about peace. The Netherlands may have a tacit understanding with Paul Kruger, who is domiciled in that country, and in correspondence with his compatriots. While not authorized formally to speak for the Boers, that government may be authorized to feel the way.

It will be remembered that at the opening of parliament, when Earl Spencer urged the British government to promise autonomy to the Boers, similar to that enjoyed by Canada, the premier replied that he was glad to hear his opponent give utterance to a sentiment for which he himself had been unsparingly condemned, and added that the Boers had not yet expressed a wish to be forgiven. The inference was that terms could be made. It may be that the Boers have decided to act upon the hope thus held out. They should be convinced by this time that it is utterly impossible to restore the status quo in South Africa, and that it is the wise part to make the best terms possible. Naturally, too, the initiative would be taken by Holland, which country is bound to the South African Dutch by ties of blood.

Hard Coal Centenary.

The first centenary of the supposititious use of hard coal in Luzerne county will be celebrated on February 11. The old log cabin in which John D. Fell is supposed to have ignited the first anthracite coal fire is still standing, and so is the venerable grate. It is perhaps no harm to say at this distant date that hard coal was known to the Indians long before Fell ever set foot in the valley, perhaps hundreds, for all we know, thousands of years previous. Mr. Fell's reminiscences are as interesting as they are modest. He proceeds in a letter to one of his relatives with the air of a discoverer, to tell of a grate made of small iron rods and so on, and how he set it up and actually found that coal burned. Now, as a matter of fact, when Benjamin Franklin invented the American stove, or parlor stove, he used anthracite coal. Although the line of geological differentiation between hard and soft coal was barely known, if known at all then, the difference in quality between hard and soft coal was as perfectly understood then as it has been ever since.

What Fell really did was, so to speak, to tap the authracite coal regions, to lay open their commercial possibilities in a country where wood was so plentiful that it might seem as though it would last all time in its superabundance. That is Fell's claim to recognition by posterity. It detracts from rather than adds to his legitimate fame to call him the "discoverer of hard coal."

In a naval career of 55 years Admiral Kimberly never evaded a duty. Taken into consideration with the stirring history of the United States in that period, this bare statement is in itself a noble eulogy.

The Danish West Indians wish it distinctly understood that they are willing to be Americans, and that the protest of those St. Thomas objectors is the expression of only a few of the islanders.

Editor Bryan will doubtless view with alarm the decision of the postal authorities that he must pay postage on copies of the Commoner he sends free to congressmen.

The thermometer failed to completely realize the predictions of the man in charge of the weather, but there will be no harsh criticism on that account.

Less Midnight Feasting in Paris.

From the London Telegraph.

Christmas in Paris has chiefly been celebrated by copious "Reveilons," and a fashionable way of seeing the old year out has been to bid it farewell over a well-loaded table, and to welcome 1902 with a toast at dessert. But these occasions only provided the two exceptions which prove the rule that, to the grief of the old Parisian, Parisians no longer sup. The great days of midnight feeding are gone. The most celebrated restaurants are often but half filled at supper time. The fact is, that the Parisian dinner hour is getting later and later, and after rising from table at 10 it is hardly within the capacity of the average person to sit down to another meal at 12. Parisians accordingly can sup only when they make a night of it, and this, nowadays, is not a correct thing to do, except on very rare occasions, the Reveilon, New Year's eve, and, perhaps, two or three more times in a twelvemonth. On other nights a cup of chocolate after the theater is all that is indulged in. Moreover, supper is always taken nowadays, not in the private salons of restaurants, but in the public room, the liveliness of the surroundings in the latter being considered part of the fun. "Cabinets particuliers" are more and more deserted, and their hideous upholstery grows musty with the undisturbed dust of years.

French and English Road Rules.

From the London Globe's Paris Telegram.

The question of whether the English rule of the road or the French one is the better has been revived by Comte Jean de Sabran-Ponteves, who contributes a rather interesting article on the subject to the Soleil. On the whole, he considers that the English method of regulating the traffic should be employed all over Europe. Driving itself is an art which the French learned from the English, who selected the right side as a seat for the conchman in order that he could watch the wheels when he crossed other vehicles to his left. In England the mail coach was ever the favorite vehicle for traveling, whereas in France the postilion was master of the road, and, as he rode the left, or off-side horse, he kept clear of vehicles coming toward him. The English rule of the road obtained on the railways, as Englishmen had built the first railways in France, and in his opinion they ought to exist on the road because the art of driving had come from England. An excellent argument against this theory, however, lies in the fact that it will soon be a question of regulating not horse but automobile traffic, and that the French have been the pioneers of automobilism.

FATHER KNICKERBOCKER'S NERVES ALL UNSTRUNG

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.

The declaration that there are possibilities of other fatal explosions at 200 points along the route of the rapid transit tunnel has caused a sensation. There are the figures to show for it. Official records prove that 200 permits have been issued for the storing of dynamite in shanties along the line of the work, just as that awful nitro-gelatine was stored in Park avenue when it "let go" yesterday. There is nothing in particular to prevent an explosion of any one of these 200 points. At least that was the situation this morning. The municipal authorities have been busy since that time, and it is fair to assume that there is not much high explosive deposited anywhere that might blow up and kill a score or two of people. It is easy to understand that the explosion of yesterday has created a greater scare than was caused by the New York Central collision in the tunnel. Only a small percentage of the city's population rides through the railroad tunnel every day, but everyone on Manhattan island feels that he is in peril, while workmen are operating with large quantities of giant powder in unknown subterranean regions under our very feet. That it is possible for a man quietly lying in bed to be killed by men working in the street 100 feet away is a suggestion that is calculated to make anyone feel uncertain, and the general expression here today is that one never knows when he is safe. Blasting has been going on steadily for many months, and there have been no serious mishaps until now; but this one of yesterday has called attention to an ever-present peril, and it is likely that closer supervision will be exercised over the tunnel operations than has prevailed hitherto. One of the evening papers has a cartoon showing Father Knickerbocker jumping about convulsively as he tries to dodge the Terrant drug store explosion on the one hand and that at the tunnel at Forty-first street on the other. The perils of New York may not be greater than at other times, but, with so much work of a dangerous nature under his feet all over the city, the average resident or visitor may be excused for thinking these are perilous times, indeed.

Evidences of the Explosion.

Thousands of people visited the scene of the explosion today. As one approached it from the west along Forty-second street, he came on evidences of the blow-up in the shape of occasional windows shattered. A little further along, at the corner of Madison avenue, after noting that several sheets of plate glass in the Hotel Manhattan are gone, the observer found that every show window in the drug store—a landmark familiar to thousands of Pittsburghers—had been shattered to smithereens and that white cloth was fastened in the openings. Then he saw that the clocks in the towers of the Grand Central depot had been blown out of their stone sockets and that the depot was in a sad condition of dilapidation. As for the Murray Hill hotel, it was simply a wreck on the Forty-second street and Park avenues sides. On the Forty-first street front the effects of the explosion were very slight. Here and there a window had been broken, but at most of the windows there were lace curtains draped in their usual orderly fashion, while at several windows could be seen women sitting with their sewing or book, just as at ordinary times. The crowds were kept moving by a large force of police, and, although some relic-hunters managed to pick up a sliver of glass, a splinter of wood, or even a pebble or bit of dirt, as mementoes, most of them were pushed along by the police when they attempted to stop and thus block the parade of sight-seers. It was a great free show, and dreadful as had been the disaster, there was the usual amount of laughter and small jokes among the visitors as they commented on the havoc around. Human nature is exceedingly frivolous, after all.

Jerome a Pugilistic Hero.

Jerome, the district attorney, has gained a great many admirers by his energy in the brawl with a coroner's clerk yesterday. Professional pugilists in particular are loud in their admiration of him. Tom Sharkey voiced the sentiment of his fellow-scrappers when he remarked today, commenting on the fact that the police interfered with a continuance of the battle: "That's the way with the police and county detectives—always spoiling a good fight. Why did not they let Jerome and Murray go on for five or six rounds? They had plenty of law with them, didn't they? From the accounts I read Jerome had the best of it. Anybody who jumps over a table to get in a lead is all right." And so it goes. Brawn is more than brain, and truculence than legal lore, when one is choosing a district attorney for New York. The city needed a fighting public prosecutor, and it has him.

Lulu Glaser's Latest Success.

Lulu Glaser, who was a very youthful matinee girl in Pittsburgh only a few years ago, has made a Broadway hit. Her new opera, "Dolly Varden," with herself in the title role, is packing the Herald Square theater, and the entertainment is spoken of already as the brightest and most tuneful on the great White Way. Lulu is not exactly the whole show because librettist and composer also have done their full share, and there is a good all-round acting company; but she is a large percentage of it, and the fact is patent to everybody.

Police Force May Be Enlarged.

Commissioner Partridge is thinking over the advisability of putting 200 more men on the police force. This would enable him to maintain the three-platoon system. As soon as it was known that there was the possibility of an increase to the "force," the stalwart young men of the East Side from whose ranks Tammany has been in the habit of recruiting the police department, went into convulsions of hope. It is certain that Commissioner Partridge will be overrun with applications, and that civil service examination work will experience a boom such as it had not had for years. New York's police force is not a bad institution, notwithstanding the police commissioner's dissatisfaction, and Tammany is watching him cynically to see whether he can improve it or not.

Shoplifter's Hat Not Straight.

Over in Brooklyn shoplifters have their own peculiar way of conducting operations. A woman arrested in a Brooklyn department store for picking the pocket of a customer was found to have secreted her plunder in her hat. She would have been quite safe from detection if there had not happened to be a shrewd young woman detective in the store, who noticed that the thief's hat was not on straight.

Cold Weather Threatened.

It is predicted that tomorrow will be the coldest day of the season in New York. As the prophecy is made only by the official forecaster, probably it will not be so cold as it was today, which was quite sharp enough for most of us.

Manager Gulick's Daughter to Wed.

A wedding in which many Pittsburghers are interested is scheduled for tomorrow in this city. Miss Alice Romaine Gulick, daughter of R. M. Gulick, manager of the Pittsburgh Bijou, will become the bride of Dr. Fred M. Dearborn. The ceremony will be conducted at the residence of James M. Gulick, father of R. M. Gulick, and, therefore, grandfather of the bride, after which the happy couple will sail for Europe.

Blooded Roadsters on Sale.

Horse breeders from all over the country are in New York attending the mid-winter sale of horses at Madison Square garden. This is almost as important a horse event as the horse show itself. Some of the finest roadsters in the country get there, and it is a great chance for shrewd buyers to pick up bargains. Among the notable sales today were a pair of well-mated black mares that went for $125, and Old Delmarch, who was a champion in his time, and as famous in the day of Nancy Hanks, was bought by A. S. Deyscher of Reading, Pa. Other Pennsylvanians were in the garden today, and it is probable that some fast horses from this sale may be seen on the Pittsburgh boulevards when the spring opens.

Detectives' Clever Work.

It is said that the police know where the $15,000 pearl stolen from the Thebaud residence is hidden. Kern, the valet, who was brought up from New Orleans the other day, told Capt. Titus where the pearl was, and it is to be presumed that his assistance to the authorities will mean a lighter sentence from the court. The detective force here may be pardoned for feeling proud of their work in connection with this case. The total value of the jewelry stolen is estimated at $50,000, and there were very slight clues for the police to work on at the beginning. In the face of this they have captured the thief and recovered all the swag. It may have been luck, to some extent; but shrewdness must have been a factor, too.

Not Too Cold for the Theaters.

The temperature was considerably below freezing today, according to the thermometer, and it was not the kind of day when loitering is a pleasure. Accordingly, the Rialto was almost deserted by the actors usually to be seen in groups outside the Empire and Knickerbocker theater buildings, and elsewhere that the dramatic agencies are situated. When it is cold enough to freeze idle actors off Broadway it is assuredly pretty chilly. There were actors abroad, of course, but they were generally wrapped in long overcoats, the tails of which dangled about their heels, while their silk hats were jammed down against their ears and their woolen gloves were ostentatiously displayed as if to challenge the assertion by any hot-blooded individual that the conditions were anything less than arctic. Theatrical matters inside the offices were lively enough, however. This is a busy week in the matter of openings, and in every office building, from Herald square to Forty-second street, can be found more than one man deeply interested in the productions of last night, to-night and other evenings in the course of the week.

Della Fox on the Stage Again.

In spite of the fact that there were three or four openings in Broadway theaters claiming the attention of first-nighters, a large party of boulevardiers and professional friends wandered out to Paterson, N. J., to see Della Fox return to the stage. She appeared in a new comedy called "The Little Ma'amselle," and her husband and manager, "Diamond Jack" Levy, had given her a good company in support, and had mounted the play well, scenically and otherwise. Della was full of life and good humor, and she went through the performance with the vim that used to distinguish her work in the old De Wolf Hopper days. Considering that it was feared a year ago that Miss Fox was through with stage work, her Broadway friends felt it incumbent on them to give her a good send-off, and they did it, with satisfaction to themselves and gratification to the popular star.

One Star Sets; Another Rises.

Now that Sibyl Sanderson has left us to get married (although she balked at the last moment, according to cabled reports), it is pleasant to know that another favorite diva, Mme. Lucien Breval, is on the Atlantic on her way to New York. She sailed on the French liner L'Aquitaine, and is due on Saturday. She will open at the Metropolitan on the 10th of February in "Le Cid." Pittsburgh will hear Mme. Breval at Duquesne Garden in the forthcoming grand opera season, according to present arrangements.

Sousa Learns About Himself.

Sousa, the march king, is credited with being much interested in the antics of vaudeville performers who give what they call imitations of him at the conductor's desk. Sousa enjoys a joke as well as the next man, as many Pittsburghers know. He comments on the mimicry of one Effie Fay, daughter of the well-known Irish comedian, who was one of the old firm of "Barry and Fay" years ago, in this way: "She got me interested in myself from the purely mechanical standpoint. They tell me she reproduces my movements perfectly. I didn't know I was so acrobatic. Seems to me I could make a fit as a club-swinger." Pretty good for John R., eh?

THE DEATH ROLL

W. W. Colville.

W. W. Colville, for many years a member of the Americus club, died yesterday morning at the family residence, No. 1920 Bedford avenue, after a lingering illness. His illness dates back to the Johnstown flood, where he served in the rescuing party sent to the flooded city by the club, of which he was a member. He contracted malarial fever, which undermined his health. For the past two months he has been suffering with congestion of the brain. Mr. Colville was a member of the Americus club since 1885, and had served as financial secretary. He was a member of the committee which escorted Rear Admiral Schley, Gen. Joseph Wheeler, Senator M. A. Hanna and many other notables. Mr. Colville was born in this city in 1857, a son of the late J. Washington Colville. He received his education at the Great school and the Pittsburgh high school. He occupied various positions about the city, but for several years was connected with the circulation department of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. At the time of his death he was cashier of Walker & Wainwright, brokers. He was well known in secret society circles, being a member of Dallas lodge No. 508, F. and A. M.; past high priest of Shilo chapter No. 257, R. A. M.; captain general of Ascalon commandery, Knights Templar; Jr. O. U. A. M., I. O. O. F., Heptasopha and the Eagles. Mr. Colville arrived in Johnstown 24 hours after the flood and spent five months in that town as chief clerk in clearing the streets of the debris. He was clerk to Gen. Wylie during the Homestead riots in 1892. His mother and one brother, E. S. Colville, survive. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church.

Patrick McLaughlin.

ROCHESTER, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Patrick McLaughlin, one of the most prominent citizens of Beaver county, died at his home in Rochester last midnight from heart trouble. He was born near Londonderry, Ireland, in 1826, and came to this country in 1850, settling at Wellsburg, W. Va. He later removed to Steubenville and came to Beaver county in 1865, where for a time he was employed by the Economy society. Shortly after he settled in Rochester where he had lived ever since. He was well-known in coal operating circles and was a wholesale dealer at this place. He was also a contractor. January 18, 1851, he was united in marriage with Miss Matilda McGinley of Steubenville. He had been president of the Beaver County Agricultural society for 25 years, and for many terms was elected to the town council of Rochester, being honored with the presidency of that body. He was a member of the Roman Catholic church, and also of Rochester lodge No. 283, R. P. O. E. He was a Democrat until 1897, when he joined the Republican party. Besides his widow, Mr. McLaughlin is survived by the following children: Sister Dechampal of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Catherine Smith of Niles, O.; William of Cleveland, O.; Thomas of Wheeling, and John at home.

Capt. William McIntosh.

Capt. William McIntosh, aged 82 years, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. John Morgan, in Esplen, of pneumonia. Deceased was born in Columbiana county, O., and came to Pennsylvania when 15 years old. At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted in the Sixty-third Pennsylvania volunteers. He was made sergeant of his company and served four years. At the battle of Gettysburg he was injured, but refused to retire, and was mustered out of the service in 1864 as captain. He was a member of Capt. Thomas Espey post No. 153, Grand Army of the Republic. One daughter, Mrs. Thomas Morgan, survives.

Mrs. Mary Crawford Herron.

Mrs. Mary Crawford Herron, aged 84 years, died suddenly Monday night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Archibald Gardner, No. 214 Zarra street, Knoxville. She was born in Clarion county July 7, 1822, her parents being pioneer settlers of that district. Her husband, the late John Herron, died three years ago. Deceased is survived by six children, Margaret, wife of William Murray; Elizabeth, wife of Archibald Gardner; Mrs. Mary Ellen Small, Thomas, Martha, wife of Henry Breakiron, and John. She was a member of the Bingham Street Methodist Episcopal church, and of the ladies auxiliary of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Rear Admiral Lewis A. Kimberly.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—Secretary Long has received a telegram announcing that Rear Admiral Lewis A. Kimberly, United States navy, retired, died at West Newton, Mass., this morning. Admiral Kimberly was selected for service on the Schley court of inquiry, but was compelled to decline on account of ill health. Heart trouble is stated as the cause of his death. Admiral Kimberly had a long and distinguished service in the United States navy. He was born in New York and appointed from Illinois, entering the naval service in 1846.

John Hartland.

John Hartland of Vankirk street, McKeesport, died yesterday morning of pneumonia. It was the twentieth anniversary of his wedding, and a celebration had been planned for the day. Deceased was 48 years old. He was born in Staffordshire, England, and came to this country in 1886. He resided in McKeesport for 15 years, and was connected with the National rolling mill. He is survived by a wife and one son. Mr. Hartland was a member of Court Equality No. 16, Foresters of America, and Welcome Stranger lodge No. 52, Sons of St. George.

Mrs. J. S. Denlinger.

Mrs. Alice A. Denlinger, aged 48 years, wife of J. S. Denlinger of Denlinger Bros. Oil Co., died yesterday at the Homeopathic hospital. Mrs. Denlinger was born in Ross township and her life was spent in Pittsburgh and vicinity. She was a member and prominent worker in the South Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Wilkinsburg, was president of the Women's Aid society, a member of the Women's Foreign and Home Missionary societies. Her husband and four children, Misses Fannie A., Charlotte C., W. H. and C. H. Denlinger, survive.

Thomas Glover.

Thomas Glover, aged 64 years, died early yesterday morning at his residence in Chartiers avenue, McKees Rocks, of apoplexy. He was born in York, England, and had been a resident of this country for 31 years. For the past 16 years he had resided in McKees Rocks. He is survived by his widow and three daughters, Mrs. Lucy Morgan, Mrs. Sarah Haskins and Mrs. Louisa Ridgeway of McKees Rocks.

The Rev. William Hastings.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The Rev. William Hastings, one of the oldest and best-known Methodist Protestant ministers in this section, died here tonight from nervous trouble, aged 75 years. He served the Methodist Protestant church of this place for many years, until superannuated.

Eugene Dupont.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 28.—Eugene Dupont, president of the extensive powder manufacturing firm of E. I. Dupont, De Nemours & Co., died at his home at Christiana Hundred tonight from pneumonia. Mr. Dupont was 61 years of age. He leaves a widow, two sons and three daughters.

Francis S. Maloy.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Francis S. Maloy, aged 65 years, for many years an alderman in this city, died today after a short illness.

Obituary Notes.

Dr. P. A. Walker, the oldest practicing physician of Steubenville, died yesterday, aged 76 years.

Henry Weldon, the well-known sporting editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, who suffered a stroke of paralysis some time ago, is dead at his home in Circleville, O., from the effects of a second stroke. Mr. Weldon was one of the best-known sporting writers in the country.

ENDEAVORERS MEETING.

Preparations Made for Coming Convention in This City—Committeemen Appointed.

A meeting was held last night in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church for the purpose of making arrangements for the Christian Endeavor convention, which is to be held in this city July 8, 9 and 10.

The meeting was attended by the presidents, secretaries and treasurers and the superintendent of the Junior and Intermediate Endeavor societies of the entire country, and was presided over by John L. Moore, vice president of the Allegheny County union.

It was announced that from $4,000 to $5,000 would be required to successfully handle the convention, and the officers of the various societies were urged to find out just how much of this amount their society would pledge itself to raise, and report to Mr. P. J. Kress of the finance committee by February 15.

The following chairmen of committees were announced: General committee of arrangements, J. C. Reed, chairman; Rev. J. T. McCrory, vice chairman; place of meeting, Rev. W. W. McMillan, badges, Dr. W. A. Russell, finance, F. J. Kress; evangelistic, Rev. R. J. Young; junior department, Mrs. Jean Eggers Hay; intermediate department, Miss Blanche Mackoby; usher, F. C. Britain; decorations, S. K. Hammer; printing, J. Henry Stauff. It was urged that the chairmen of the various societies be called that the work may be discussed and plans for raising the amount made.

It is expected that a much larger attendance will be had here than at the last convention in Philadelphia, where 7,000 were enrolled. Arrangements will be made to accommodate from 10,000 to 12,000 people at the night meetings.

One of the features of the convention will be music, and it is hoped to have a large chorus of at least 1,000 voices.

Original Bath House Destroyed.

MT. CLEMENS, MICH., Jan. 28.—Fire today destroyed the Original bath house connected with the Avery hotel here, and the loss is estimated to be about $40,000, with $20,000 insurance. For a time it seemed as if the Avery and Edgew hotels, which adjoined the bath house, were doomed.

ORCHESTRA RODE 50 MILES IN 47 MINUTES

Lake Erie Establishes New Speed Record in Bringing Players Home from New Castle Triumph.

The special train over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad bearing Victor Herbert and the members of the Pittsburgh orchestra from New Castle to Pittsburgh made a new speed record for the road last night. The 50 miles from New Castle Junction to the South Side yards were covered in 47 minutes. The full run of 53 miles from New Castle to Pittsburgh was made in 57 minutes. There were two slow orders, one for the New Castle yard target and the other for the Beaver bridge.

The train left New Castle station at 10:20 o'clock and reached the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station at 11:27. The train was in charge of Traveling Passenger Agents George H. Thompson and Wynn R. Morris. Engineer Patrick Conners held the throttle and Conductor J. P. Kessler looked after the passengers. The train consisted of three cars, two combination baggage and smoking cars and a Pullman for the members of the orchestra. Engine No. 99 drew the record-breaker from New Castle to Pittsburgh.

The following is a complete speed schedule: Left New Castle 10:20, New Castle Junction 10:29, West Ellwood Junction 10:50, Beaver Falls 10:56, Fallston 11, Beaver 11:02, Conoquenessing 11:18, McKees Rocks 11:25, Pittsburgh 11:27.

The special thoroughly tested the new automatic block signal system recently installed by the Lake Erie. Besides the new signal system the company has recently laid new tracks, making a complete four-track system between Conoquenessing and Pittsburgh and practically a three-track system from New Castle to Pittsburgh.

The members of the Pittsburgh orchestra were very anxious for souvenirs of the trip. When the train stopped they clambered on the tender of the engine, getting lumps of coal to carry away.

The orchestra scored one of their greatest successes of the present musical season at New Castle last night. Every seat in the pretty little opera house was occupied, as well as the boxes. The audience was demonstrative and appreciative. Its applause was unstinted and deserving. From the first number, the Roman Carnival overture, to the last, Rhapsody No. 2, in D, every man seemed to play at his best. M. Henri Merck, the violoncellist, was soloist of the evening, and his playing proved very popular with the Lawrence county audience.

BANQUET ON "QUEEN CITY."

Maj. Alexander J. Henderson Celebrates Recent Election by Treat to Fellow Officers.

One of the most unique banquets ever given in this city was that given by Maj. Alexander J. Henderson on the Queen City last night to the field and line officers of the Eighteenth infantry. Over 200 electric lights lighted up the boat and the cabin was aglow with incandescent colors. Running parallel with the cabin a long table was spread, covered with palms and flowers, at which were seated the officers of the regiment and the invited guests. The affair was given in honor of the election Maj. Henderson on Saturday night.

It was 10 o'clock before the guests assembled. The entrance to the boat had been prepared and the light on the rising waters cast a yellow glare on the stony walk leading from Wood street to the boat. At the entrance to the cabin the visiting officers were received by Maj. Henderson. Steward Sumper made the visiting officers comfortable, and they were turned over to him and Arthur R. Brown, the purser of the boat, now that there were afterward taken care of.

It was almost midnight before the banquet began and much later, when the cigars and coffee appeared, Lieut. Edward L. Kearns, the toastmaster, called upon Col. Rutledge to respond to the toast "The Duquesne Greys." For an instant the colonel was staggered, but pulling himself together, he said: "I know you are anxious to know what I am going to say, but I am anxious to know what to say. The Duquesne Greys are a part of the history of Pittsburgh, and the record was made before some of us were born. In Mexico and the civil war the Greys made history, and we of the Eighteenth have added to it since we became its successor."

Capt. T. M. Griffin of the Eighteenth Infantry, U. S. A., was asked to "respond to the toast the Eighteenth Infantry."

Lieut. Powell of Battery B was then called upon by the toastmaster to respond to the "Battery." Lieut. Powell made a powerful plea for a military club and called the case to where a lieutenant of the line did not know his assistant. Following Lieut. Powell, Maj. C. C. Wiley, Surgeon Ralston and ex-Lieut. Charles Elliott replied to the toasts of the "Medical Staff" and "Why I Am Not a Soldier." Among those present at the banquet were Capt. Phil Anebryte and Tony Mehdahl, pilots of the Queen City.

The entrance to the boat had been prepared and the light on the rising waters cast a yellow glare on the stony walk leading from Wood street to the boat. At the entrance to the cabin the visiting officers were received by Maj. Henderson. Steward Sumper made the visiting officers comfortable, and they were turned over to him and Arthur R. Brown, the purser of the boat, now that there were afterward taken care of.

It was almost midnight before the banquet began and much later, when the cigars and coffee appeared, Lieut. Edward L. Kearns, the toastmaster, called upon Col. Rutledge to respond to the toast "The Duquesne Greys." For an instant the colonel was staggered, but pulling himself together, he said: "I know you are anxious to know what I am going to say, but I am anxious to know what to say. The Duquesne Greys are a part of the history of Pittsburgh, and the record was made before some of us were born. In Mexico and the civil war the Greys made history, and we of the Eighteenth have added to it since we became its successor."

Capt. T. M. Griffin of the Eighteenth Infantry, U. S. A., was asked to "respond to the toast the Eighteenth Infantry."

Lieut. Powell of Battery B was then called upon by the toastmaster to respond to the "Battery." Lieut. Powell made a powerful plea for a military club and called the case to where a lieutenant of the line did not know his assistant. Following Lieut. Powell, Maj. C. C. Wiley, Surgeon Ralston and ex-Lieut. Charles Elliott replied to the toasts of the "Medical Staff" and "Why I Am Not a Soldier." Among those present at the banquet were Capt. Phil Anebryte and Tony Mehdahl, pilots of the Queen City.

CAPTAIN BAKER ON THE STAND IN PATRICK TRIAL

He Testified That the Lawyer's Methods Were at Least Slipshod.

WRONG SECURITY LIST

The Texan Swears That the Defendant's Index of Papers in Safe Deposit Vault Were Inaccurate in Every Item With One Exception.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—A large part of today's session in the trial of Lawyer Albert T. Patrick for the murder of Millionaire William Marsh Rice was taken up in the examination of Capt. James A. Baker of Houston, Tex. He told of coming to New York and being surprised that Mr. Rice had engaged Patrick as his lawyer. He also related what occurred at his meeting with Patrick after Rice's death.

Early in the session today, Dr. Hamilton Williams, whose cross-examination was continued from yesterday reiterated his opinion that the condition of Mr. Rice's lungs was due to the inhalation of a gaseous irritant, probably chloroform.

Captain Baker's Testimony.

Capt. Baker's examination will be resumed tomorrow. According to Capt. Baker, Patrick said he intended to entrust Rice's Texas affairs to Capt. Baker's firm. Patrick gave him the 1896 will and copies of the 1900 will and of the assignment of Rice's property. Patrick said he had taken a number of papers from Rice's rooms, and that he would show them to Baker.

"I went to Patrick's office," Capt. Baker continued, "and we made an inventory of the papers. I agreed to deposit them in some common place. Mr. Gerard of Bowers & Sands came with us, and we deposited the papers in the safe of the Hotel Normandie. Next morning we took them from the hotel and placed them in a safe deposit vault downtown.

Demanded Check and Money.

"Later in the day (Friday, September 28) I asked Patrick for the check on Swenson's bank, telling him I claimed the money as an executor of Mr. Rice's will. He gave me the check, taking my receipt for it. Then I demanded the $25,000 he had obtained from the Fifth Avenue bank. He said he must consult counsel before he did anything further."

The witness told of opening Rice's box in the vault and of the production by Patrick of what he claimed was a list of securities there.

"The list was wrong," said the witness, "in every item but one. He declined to give us a copy of his list.

Should Have Had Witnesses.

"I said to Patrick: 'In view of your hostile relations with Mr. Rice, if you expected this will and assignment to hold in any court in Christendom, why did you not have some friend of Mr. Rice, the Swensons, for instance, who had known him for 20 years, go with you to Mr. Rice's apartment and read over in their presence the will and assignment?'

"Patrick replied: 'I expect I ought to have done that, but you know Mr. Rice was peculiar, and he insisted that our relations should be secret. As far as I know no living man ever saw me in the presence of Rice, excepting, perhaps, C. F. Jones, and I am not sure he did.'

"I told him," the witness continued, "that I would never consent to the probate of the will of 1900, and that I believed the will of 1896 was the last genuine will of Mr. Rice.

Patrick Professed Indifference.

"Patrick replied that he did not care; that he would just as soon see one will proved as the other. He said he knew of Mr. Rice's regards for the W. M. Rice Institute, and intended to see that that institute did not suffer. Patrick said he was the greatest sufferer by Mr. Rice's death, because Mr. Rice had arranged to go down town on Monday and make physical deliveries of all his securities."

"How did he say he obtained those checks?" asked Mr. Osborne.

"He said that Jones had brought them to him in conformity with an agreement Mr. Rice had made with him (Patrick). The $250,000, he said, was to settle the Texas litigation."

Check Not Admitted.

"Did he tell you why he had not notified Mr. Holt of the intended settlement?"

"I don't believe he did."

The prosecution failed to secure the admission of any testimony as to the check for $65,000 purporting to have been given by Rice to Patrick or as to the will of 1896. Assistant District Attorney Osborne was very insistent as to the latter, and the recorder finally told him he was annoying the court. Both rulings were made during the testimony of Capt. Baker, who remained on the stand and under direct examination until court adjourned.

Senator Quay's Nephew Married.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Miss Charlotte M. Patrick, who taught a country school near Norwalk, O., has been married to John L. Quay of this city, a nephew of Senator Quay. The wedding took place at the home of Herbert Welker, a mutual friend, Saturday afternoon, but was not made public until today.

Charge Is Now More Serious.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., Jan. 28.—H. H. Hagerman, the Seelyville miner who was shot by a trainman during an attack on an interurban car Friday night, died today. The three trainmen who were under bond charged with shooting with intent to kill will be rearrested and charged with manslaughter. The cars are running on schedule time today and traffic is very light.

TWO SERIOUS ACCIDENTS.

But Forethought Made One Man's Burden Very Much Lighter.

Two men employed on a high building met with an accident the other day that will prevent them from working for many weeks. Both made good wages, but one of them finds himself practically a pauper because his income has ceased. The other man is in comfortable circumstances, simply because he made it the rule of his life to save a part of every dollar earned. A savings account is a tower of strength in time of trouble. LATEST NEWS OF SOCIETY AND GOSSIP OF THE HOME

THE general exodus of society to southern climes is taking place this week. Mrs. Wynn R. Sewell and her sister, Mrs. Julia Horne, daughters of Mark W. Watson, went to New York Monday night and will sail tomorrow on the Columbia for the south of France, where they intend spending the greater portion of the late winter and spring. Last evening Miss Bessie C. Howe, a granddaughter of the late Thomas M. Howe of Greystone, Fifth avenue, East End, left for New York and will sail tomorrow with Mrs. Sewell and Mrs. Horne and will be a member of their party. Mrs. Henry Chalfant, another daughter of Mrs. Mark W. Watson, went to New York on Monday night to see the party off and will return to Pittsburgh the latter part of the week. Mrs. Sewell plans to spend a couple of months on the Riveria and then visit Italy and Paris. The remainder of the time until summer, when she expects to return to her summer cottage on the coast of Maine, will be spent in travel, for which no definite plans have been made. Miss Howe will remain abroad with Mrs. Sewell and Mrs. Horne, returning in the summer after the coronation in England.

Today the first large party of Pittsburgh people will leave for Palm beach. Tonight Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Jones will leave in a private car, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Jr., and the Misses Laughlin. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Rea and their children also leave tonight for Palm beach. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. McKee and Master Harry Sellers McKee, Jr., are among other Pittsburgh people who start for Palm beach tonight. On Saturday the Darlington family party will leave for Florida in a private car.

Mexico is a very popular country for tourists this season and Pittsburghers are leaving in large parties. One reason for this popularity is the heavy investment of Pittsburgh capital in mining and railroad schemes, and the women are as interested as the men in seeing the money grow, hence the social favor which beams on Mexico at present. Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Miller and their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Oliver and the Misses Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. John Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Wenman A. Lewis and others left on Monday for Mexico.

Next week Mr. and Mrs. Edmund M. Ferguson and their son and daughter leave for Japan to visit another son, John M. Ferguson, at the United States legation in Tokio. They will make the trip by leisurely stages and will remain away from Pittsburgh for everal months. Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., Miss Elizabeth Burd Thaw and William Thaw sailed last Wednesday for the Mediterranean and the Nile, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab are touring Europe. These are but some of the indications of the extent to which the winter travel of Pittsburgh society people reaches.

Reception at the School of Design.

Artists and art students with their friends gathered at the Pittsburgh School of Design last evening. It was the occasion of the annual reception and exhibition. The school rooms and studios were transformed from workshops into reception rooms and art galleries and a receiving party consisting of the members of the faculty assisted the principal in greeting the guests as they arrived. In the party were Martin B. Leisser, the principal of the school, and Mrs. Leisser, Miss Olive Turney, Miss Frances B. McCreery, Miss Lide Orey, Miss Meg Murray and Frederick Mayer. Palms and ferns were grouped about the piano and in the corners of the studios, while flowers were added to heighten the artistic effect of the rooms. During the reception, from 8 o'clock until 10, there was an enjoyable musical program, which later developed into music for the informal dance that followed. Refreshments were served by a number of the students in the large class rooms.

The center of interest throughout the evening was found in the medal pictures which were quickly recognized, even at a distance, by the animated groups which stood before them. The gold medal painting, an oil from life, and presenting the interesting and no less picturesque head of a bright faced Italian boy who came from distant Italy and is an art student at the school, was painted by Miss Katherine Schwartz, and is cleverly executed. The silver medal picture, a water color painting, is the work of Miss Nancy Means of Wilkinsburg, and is a very meritious study in still life, the subject including a bunch of luscious grapes, a few old magazines and a quaint blue jar. The whole is a delicate composition in color. The bronze medal for crayon drawing and architectural ornament, was awarded Miss Minnie Stephen, the bronze medal for full length drawing from the antique being won by Miss Katherine Schwartz, also the winner of the gold medal for the best work in oil. There were many other really meritorious drawings and paintings which received special mention by the jury of award. The exhibition will be open to the public beginning this morning and continuing and including Saturday, February 1.

The jury of award consisted of Joseph R. Woodwell, president of the school; John W. Beatty, director of the Carnegie Art galleries; A. Bryan Wall, C. A. Cole, Albert Digby, Albert Reinhart, Charles Walz, Joseph G. Siebeneck, Mrs. Harry Scully, Miss Ida Smith, Miss Anna Woodward and Miss Helen Lamon.

A Farewell Reception.

A farewell reception was held last night at the Lotus club, Sidney street, South Side, in honor of Michael Winter, one of the best-known business men on that side of the river. Mr. Winter will shortly take up his residence in Orange, N. J., where he is going into business on an extensive scale. He came to Pittsburgh in 1879. The banquet hall in the club house was tastefully decorated with the German colors, while other parts of the house were decorated with plants, ferns and flowers. The menu was excellent, and added to all this an orchestra rendered all of the popular airs. The guests were welcomed by Dr. A. A. Barclfeld, and addresses were made by a number of well-known men of the city, who were the guests of Mr. Winter.

Among the invited guests were Wolfgang Winter, Alois Winter, Frank M. Winter, Fred W. Winter, Thomas Davis, J. W. Ruhlandt, D. J. McGarey, F. W. Miller, Robert Matthews, John P. Ober, William Raske, Edward J. Franenheim, Leopold Vilsack, Theodore Straub, Herman Streub, Harry Wolfwright, Fred Gwinner, James A. O'Neil, Marcus Aaron, Dr. J. P. Kerr, Dr. W. H. Weber, George H. Wellinger, T. O. Atkinson, Joseph Dieterle, George Bleichner, Henry Werries, John A. Bleichner, Carl Hofmeister, William P. Hemmel, John M. Hammel, William Kaiser, Frank J. Klumpp, Joseph G. Armstrong, Louis Schenider, David Gelb, W. J. Tanney, Fred Seigwarth, Andrew Brendler, John G. Peters, W. L. Hirsch, Joseph F. Eray, John F. Semmelrock, Prof. Henry Bühg, John Bergman, the Rev. Father Hetti, the Rev. Father Schramm, the Rev. Father Gobel, Frank Bracey, W. U. Willet, John R. Murphy, the Hon. W. D. Porter, the Hon. Josiah Cohen, the Hon. Elliott Rodgers, the Hon. J. A. Evans, the Hon. J. D. Shafer, the Hon. R. S. Frazer, Recorder J. O. Brown, George von Bonnhorst, W. W. Murray, S. D. Warmcastle and Andrew McMillen.

Supplementary Cinderella Dance.

The supplementary Cinderella cotillion was held last evening at the Pittsburgh Club house, and was as enjoyable as its predecessors. It was even more informal than the earlier dances, and marked the close of the winter season in Pittsburgh. The Pittsburgh club theater, the scene of the cotillion, was prettily though simply decorated with palms and southern smilax and the favors for the three figures were arranged upon a table at the rear and upon the screen which partially concealed it. The leaders were Frank S. Guthrie, Clinton H. Childs and William B. Scaife. The attendance last night was not as large as at some of the earlier dances, for a number of families have already gone south or to Europe, and today many more will follow their example.

The Cinderella cotillions, of which four were announced, followed by the fifth and supplementary dance last night, were given by the younger society people of Allegheny, the patronesses for the series being Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., Mrs. Harry Darlington, Mrs. Alexander Laughlin, Jr., Mrs. Harmar D. Denny, Mrs. Park Painter, Mrs. Louis W. Daizell, Mrs. John S. Dickson and Mrs. Charles H. Halcomb.

A House Party Entertained.

Miss Etta Holaday of North Highland avenue, East End, has been entertaining a house party since last Thursday, and many pleasant little affairs have been arranged in its honor. Her guests are Miss Penelope Osterhout, Miss Florence Osterhout and Miss Myra Dunn of Ridgeway; Miss Doll Millard of Centralia, D. Reed Stauffer of Scottdale, R. C. Eccleston of Oxford, N. Y., and Adolph Behrenberg of this city. Last Saturday afternoon Miss Holaday gave a matinee party for her guests to see "Rosemary" at the Grand and on Monday evening a pretty informal reception was given at the Holaday home in the East End. This evening the Misses Moore will entertain the visitors with cards and music at their home in North St. Clair street. The house party breaks up tomorrow.

A Japanese Luncheon.

A unique and charming Japanese luncheon was given yesterday by Miss Virginia Browne at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Browne, Sprague avenue, Bellevue, the guests being the younger girls, members of the fancy work club of which Miss Browne is president. Everything was carried out in the oriental style, from the invitations on which were mounted brightly colored little Japanese figures, to the table decorations of chrysanthemums and the varied tinted candelabra shades.

Among the guests were Miss Caroline Baker, Miss Frances Bailey, Miss Helen McClure, Miss Jean Torry, Miss Genevieve Harvey, Miss McClure, Miss Anderson, Miss Grace Kinner, Miss Louise Matthews, Miss Mary Matthews and Miss Etta Schwartz.

The Isthmian Canal Problem.

A. P. Davis of Washington, D. C., chief hydrographer of the Isthmian canal commission, will give an illustrated lecture before the Academy of Science and Art in the Carnegie Music hall on Thursday evening, January 30, at 8.15 o'clock. His subject will be "The Isthmian Canal Problem," which he will treat under the following topics: A general view of the isthmus, including topography, climate and inhabitants, and the history of the canal problem with early surveys and various rejected routes. He will then discuss the Panama route and the Nicaragua route with a comparison of the two.

Dinner at the Club.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Jones, Jr., gave a dinner last evening at the Pittsburgh club preceding the Cinderella cotillion. There was no guest of honor. Covers were laid for 24 and supper was served at one large round table decorated with a mound of pink roses. The candelabra were capped with pretty pink shades and pink ribbons contributed to the dainty effect of the decorations. The dinner was in the nature of a farewell supper to some of the younger people, as the host and hostess will spend the next two months at Palm Beach.

Judge and Mrs. Rodgers' Dinner.

Judge and Mrs. Elliott Rodgers gave a dinner of 14 covers last evening in honor of their house guest, Mrs. Blanche Brown Seaton of Indianapolis, Ind., a cousin of Mrs. Rodgers. The table decorations were pink roses. Dinner was followed by an informal game of ping-pong, a popular English amusement resembling parlor tennis. Judge and Mrs. Rodgers' guests were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Linford Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Shannon of Sewickley, Miss Dauber, John Oliver and Harry Oliver.

Notes of Society.

Miss Gertrude McCaffrey of South Highland avenue entertained at cards last evening.

Miss Martha Dalzell has returned from a visit of two weeks with Miss Emily Rossing in Trenton, N. J.

The last subscription dance given by Sacred commandery, No. 48, K. T., this season took place last evening at the Monongahela House.

The Women's Guild of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church will serve a chicken and waffle dinner tomorrow and Friday from 11 o'clock until 2, in the chapel of the former Third Presbyterian church, now occupied by St. Peter's church, Sixth avenue and Cherry alley.

The regular meeting of the Travelers' club was held yesterday afternoon at the Central Young Woman's Christian association, the universities, public schools and public charities providing the theme for discussion. Mrs. Henry J. Bailey was the leader appointed for the day.

The Tuesday Musical club yesterday held its regular meeting at the Mozart. Mrs. C. L. Magee's home in Oakland, over which Mrs. Magee's sister, Mrs. Warrington Warwick, is presiding during the absence of its mistress, Mrs. Magee has been in New York and the east and will sail for the Mediterranean February 6.

USEFUL TO KNOW.

When gloves are taken off they should never be rolled in a ball, but carefully pressed out flat and laid in a glove box longer than they are. All holes should be mended as soon as seen and buttons replaced. As all gloves get to smell queerly if worn any length of time, a small sachet of violet powder should be placed in each one, and on fine days they should be hung out in the air and sun. When dirty have them cleaned several times before buying new ones.

A slice of bread boiled in pea soup will prevent the peas from sinking to the bottom.

A good substitute for an ash sieve is a piece of board placed on a slant against the wall. Throw the ashes upon this, and the fine material will adhere to it, while the unburnt coal will roll down to the bottom and off at the sides.

If salt is thrown on a stove when the contents of a pot or pan boil over it will prevent an offensive odor.

To renovate leather chairs, wipe the cushions with a slightly damp cloth, and then rub dry. Next apply the white of an egg beaten to a stiff froth, and rub with a soft cloth.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL.

Notes many things in the course of the day's journeyings, not the least of which are the little scraps of life's drama enacted on the street cars. Yesterday on an eastbound car an old woman was seated in the narrow space which had been squeezed out for her by two fashionably clad women. The two were acquaintances and had been among the guests at a handsome entertainment a few nights before.

"Did you ever see anything like those roses?" asked No. 1; "they were the finest I ever saw." "Yes, the bill for the flowers alone was almost $500," said the second.

Five hundred dollars! I could see the old woman's eyes dilate, and then, little by little, from the speaking eyes and the quivering lips, grim surmises as to the nature of a blue ticket held in one hand and a whitened mark on the stiff third finger, I knew that she had been to pawn her wedding ring. One feels these little tragedies by intuition, given the first thread of the story. A dollar, at the utmost, she had received for this slim worn circlet which had marked her earliest and possibly greatest happiness, and who knows for what need the paltry sum had been needed, and yet—and yet, in this very city the perishing flowers for a party had cost almost five hundred! Ah, well! the dimmed eyes bore no malice in their wonder, and a little later I saw the chain of a rosary slip through her fingers as the car swung around its last curve.

Tommy—

Got his first rubber boots for a Christmas gift, and Tommy was so fond of them that for several nights they had to be removed by strategy. So Tommy's mother devised a proper punishment for his evil moments, which are many, and now when Tommy is bad he is not allowed to wear his boots all day. Last week he was particularly naughty, and when the precious signets of masculinity were set out of his sorrowful reach the third day, he stood looking at them for a long time, then forthwith flew to his little wardrobe and flung out his dimity trousers, his boyish overcoat and his tam-o'-shanter. "Throw them away," he shrieked, "and give me dresses. I'm to be girl. I'll be one all over, and not only on my feet."

Butterfly Bows—

Are worn on top of the head by all the young women now, and by many who would fain be young, knew they the secret of eternal youth. One ingenious East End girl has made a number of these pretty bows and has bound them tightly on hairpins, so that they may be thrust into the fluffy locks without the necessity of tying and retying the ribbon.

A Bunch of Hyacinths—

Is the aesthetic thing for the poetic woman just now. She pins them high on the left side of her bosom, and if she is "very much so," she slips a knot of purple ribbon in among their fragrant white petals, to indicate her entire oneness with the poets and flower lovers.

CURRENT MODES.

The fad for brass decorative house fitments is being carried to the extreme degree, even the most desirable lamp shades being of pierced brass. Possibly the latest addition to the brass house fitments is a waste basket in a most attractive, heavy and handsome design. A tall jar, several bowls for flowers candlesticks galore, etc., are now almost indispensable to complete library or living room furnishing.

Weathered oak furniture now the latest fashion, requires little upholstery. While it is severely plain it is also very comfortable. Roxuskin cushions in a fine dull green or brown for the seats and backs of chairs and tops of tables are most fashionable.

Beren college coverlets are among the most liked bed coverings among fashionable folk.

The Goods we're talking about are for the babies, but the story is for the mothers. There isn't a mother in this glorious world who wouldn't do most anything for the baby's good—and when the "good doing" holds out inducements to the family pocketbook, what mother wouldn't jump at the chance?

When the baby's cross it needs something from the following list—May's list. Needs it from May's list because the article selected will give the baby better satisfaction in the taking and the mother better satisfaction in the buying.

May's goods are always fresh—that's why they're best for the baby. May's goods are always lowest priced—that's why they're best for the mother.

SPECULATORS WILL ALWAYS BE DISCOURAGED

Fair Voting Contest Desired and Will Be Secured If It Is Possible.

THIEVES ARE PROSECUTED

Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph Oppose Rascality in High Places or Low—More New Candidates for European Tour.

From one of the candidates for the European tour of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph a letter has been received inclosing another from a ballot speculator. The letter of the speculator is substantially as follows:

"I have 6,000 coupons all trimmed and ready to be filled out; 5,500 are of Series A. These I will let you have at 90 cents a hundred. Then I will give you Series B and guarantee you at least 300 a day until the close of the contest at $1 a hundred. The rules are so strict that they cannot be gotten in large quantities, even at that, so you can see what an item this number coming regularly would mean. It would insure success. Please answer by return mail whether you will accept the first part or the entire proposition."

Declined a Brazen Offer.

The names are withheld for the present. Our candidate says: "I have promptly and positively declined to buy popularity," and The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph congratulate her and commend her honorable course.

These papers do not approve of any such transactions and will discourage them by every means in their power. It is to be hoped all candidates who are approached in this way will report the facts to this office, so it may be the more easy to break up the practice. The man who offers a certain number of ballots "throughout the contest" is making a contract he cannot fill. The fair way to treat those fellows is to let them keep their ballots. After midnight of Friday next those of Series A will be void and the speculator will have his trouble for his pains.

Nothing will be left undone to discover the source from which this fellow obtained his large number of ballots, and unless he has been collecting them from legitimate subscribers, who could have made better use of them, he is likely to have difficulty in obtaining any more for anyone. It is a fair contest in and as The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph can make it so.

Thieves Have Been Arrested.

Two paper thieves, who have been stealing The Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph from subscribers to sell again, have been landed in jail this week. A reward is offered in this paper for the arrest and conviction of others. This is the way The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph protect their subscribers, and they will be just as vigorous in protecting other legitimate interests. These papers stand for law, order and decency in public affairs and are ready to enforce honesty wherever it is possible. That they are appreciated is evident from the fact that so active a demand exists for them that unscrupulous persons find it momentarily profitable to steal them. But these persons will find in the end that stealing is never profitable. They will be run down and prosecuted, both for the protection of the special interests of these papers and for the good of the community.

The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph are widespread journals that print all the news. They detest and it is part of their business to expose thieves in public and private places.

Interest in the European tour is unabated. Ballots are coming in abundantly for many candidates as the limit of time for depositing Series A approaches. But there is room for more. It will be possible for a hustling candidate to start with Series C next Saturday and win out. Below are the names of new candidates, announced for the first time:

Some New Candidates.

Miss Martha J. Christian, Moorehead school, Pittsburgh.

Mr. J. E. Tiddell, Harbison school, Allegheny county.

Miss Eva J. Martin, Fulton school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Blanche E. Wachob, Eleventh ward, Allegheny.

Miss Margaret McQuiston, Sterrett school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Jamisella Ellson, New Cumberland school, Hancock county, W. Va.

Miss Frances G. Case, Youngstown schools, Mahoning county, O.

Miss Elizabeth Kiddie, Harrison City school, Westmoreland county, Pa.

Miss Mary M. Kinner, Cokeville school, Westmoreland county.

Mr. Frank M. Hunter, Hazlett's school, Lewis, Pa.

Miss Zella E. Moon, Wexford school, Allegheny county.

Miss Alice L. Huston, Lawrence school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Maud L. Ruth, Scottdale school, Westmoreland county.

Miss Kate E. Cochran, Reed school, Carnonsburg, Washington county.

Miss May Pearle Stewart, Fairview school, Hancock county, W. Va.

Miss Ida McClure, Moorehead school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Helen Ernestine Cerm, Point Marion school, Fayette county.

Rules to Be Observed.

Ballots must be voted in series; those of one series must be deposited before midnight of the day the succeeding series closes. They must be filled out legibly, with full names of teacher, school where employed, town and county. They should be kept in good condition and sent in flat, not rolled or crumpled. If torn or mutilated they will not be counted.

The tour will be of more than six weeks' duration. Starts at Pittsburgh July 3; leaves New York July 5, by Atlantic transport line steamer; arrives London July 15. Antwerp, July 19; Brussels, July 20; Amsterdam, July 22; Cologne, July 24; Mayence, July 25; Heidelberg, July 26; Lucerne, July 28. The Rigi, July 29; Interlaken, July 30; Paris, August 1; London, August 6; Highlands, August 8; Glasgow, August 8; leave Glasgow by Anchor Line steamer Columbia, August 9; expect to arrive New York August 17.

Who Will Be Taken.

The party will be composed of 25 teachers of the public schools, i. e., persons engaged in teaching in schools supported by public funds. These will be apportioned as follows: Twelve from the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, six from Allegheny county, outside of the two cities, and seven from those parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia outside of Allegheny county, but within the territory covered by the daily deliveries of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. They will be elected by the readers of these papers. Those having the largest votes in their respective divisions will be declared elected.

All expenses of the tour will be borne by The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph, and these papers will give each member of the party $50 in cash to gratify individual tastes. Representatives of the papers will accompany the party to arrange routes and look after the comfort of the guests.

The contest will close May 31 and the result will be announced as soon after all of the votes are in as possible. Ballots from The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will count one vote each, and those from The Sunday Gazette will count for three votes each. The ballots will be found at the top of the second page in each issue, and attention is directed to the terms and conditions printed thereon. The whole ballot, including border, must be sent in.

INSURANCE MEN REJOICING OVER ACTION TAKEN

Hopeful for Speedy Improvement in Down Town Water Supply.

CITY'S NEED OUTLINED

Fire Marshal McGill Again Emphasizes His Recommendations for Changes in the Present Service. Increase in Rates Only Temporary.

"What we need most," said Fire Marshal William D. McGill yesterday, "is more fire hydrants and greater volume of water, instead of power and pressure. What we want is quantity, and that is what we do not have at present. We need 12-inch mains attached to 20-inch supply pipes all over the down-town district. We have a 36-inch main down Duquesne way and a 30-inch main down Smithfield street.

New Mains Needed.

"We should have also a 20-inch main down Fifth avenue, Liberty avenue, Penn avenue and several other important streets. All 'dead ends' should be abolished. The 6-inch main in Wood street has actually been in use for 40 years. We must give the fire insurance companies reasonable assurance that no fire can be properly taken care of and then they will not insist upon the present high rates, which, in my opinion, are not excessive in comparison with the fire risk assumed, owing to the inadequate water supply.

"I believe that the whole system of supply pipes should receive attention, and that in many cases the old pipes that have undoubtedly become incrusted and scaled so that they are probably equal to less than one-half of their original capacity, should be replaced with new mains of proper capacity. Of what use will the proposed new system of water filtration be to the public if the filtered water is to be distributed through the old pipes and mains that have been gathering sediment and mud for years and years?"

Assurance From City Officials.

"I have had three interviews upon this subject with Recorder J. O. Brown and Director J. Guy McCandless, and I have every assurance from them that the wishes and suggestions of the board of fire underwriters will be carried out at the earliest practicable moment. The authorities are awake to the fact that something must be done immediately or the rates must be again increased.

"The insurance on the proposed warehouses at the Point is a question which has not yet come before me officially, but I should say that unless the proper fire walls, say from 24 to 36 inches thick, with an air chamber, and extending 36 inches above the roof, as well as the same directly out between each warehouse front and back, should be provided for safety, if they are to be all under one roof. Even then the insurance rate would be very high.

Applications For Rates.

"I have had several applications from different parties to give approximate rates for up-to-date warehouses, and have also been consulted as to the class and strength of such buildings to be located in the same locality as the syndicate warehouses, and I have been compelled to say that the rates would be a heavy burden until there is a first-class and liberal supply of water in that vicinity."

Capt. W. F. Herbert, vice president and treasurer of the Western Insurance Company, said yesterday:

"In this morning's Gazette my name instead of that of Fred W. McKee, is, through some error, attached to the report of the municipal committee to the directors of the chamber of commerce on Monday. I am not a member of the committee.

"I am, however, heartily in favor of the recommendations for the improvement of the water supply. The insurance companies have been working for this for the past 10 years.

Rates Are Not Too High.

"I do not consider the present fire insurance rates any too high in comparison with the risks. It was found to be an absolute necessity to increase the rates, as the companies had all lost money here, mainly on account of the lack of water. The Philadelphia 'pink slip' method, increasing the rates 20 cents per $100, was adopted very reluctantly. It was considered best to reach the people through their pockets and thus through them, compel the city officials to improve the water system. The insurance companies wished to make the increase permanent, but the local board decided that it should only be temporary, and it will be discontinued when the water supply is made more efficient.

"Insurance companies have all lost money here for some years past, and 27 large companies have withdrawn entirely from the city. Out of 22 local companies doing business a few years ago, but 14 remain."

Companies Have Lost Money.

Charles P. Campbell, representing several old established companies, said:

"I do not think the present rates are at all excessive. On the contrary, I consider them decidedly fair, in consideration of the existing water supply. The companies have all lost money here for years past, and when they assert this they are telling the truth. A glance at their annual statements will show that a majority of them have been compelled to use some of their surplus in order to pay their losses. Of course this is not all chargeable to this city, but a great deal of it is."

W. L. Jones, one of the most experienced insurance agents in the city, said: "The report of the municipal committee to the directors of th chamber of commerce on Monday, fully explained the situation in regard to the lack of water supply and there is practically nothing more to be said. For 10 or 12 years the insurance companies, their representatives and agnts, have been urging the city to improve the water supply, but without success.

Raised Rates in Despair.

"Finally their continued losses, directly traceable to the defective water system to temporarily increase the rates. This has brought the matter home to every business man, who in turn is now impressing it upon councils and the city officials. We have been assured that our recommendations will be followed and the conditions improved so that the rates can be reduced as soon as the risk of loss is decreased."

W. J. Patterson, of the German-American Insurance Company, spoke of the water supply in the same vein as Fire Marshall McGill. He said that the advancement of the rates had brought the matter of a better water supply to the personal notice of each policy holder, and that if he objected to the advancement, he should take the matter to councils and urge that an adequate water supply be provided."

UNPACKING FINE SHELLS.

Carnegie Museum Attaches Busy With the Famous Hartman Collection Recently Purchased.

The work of unpacking the collection of shells, recently purchased from the estate of Dr. W. D. Hartman of West Chester, Pa., was begun yesterday by Entomologist Herbert H. Smith of the Carnegie museum. It will take several weeks to get the collection in shape. It is regarded as one of the most valuable in the world. Dr. Hartman spent many years of his life in getting it together and he has species from every part of the world, a number of which are very rare.

In all these are about 9,000 species, represented by over 50,000 specimens. They will all be catalogued and arranged as they are taken from the cases.

The collection is peculiarly rich in several genera of land shells. The genus portula, land shells peculiar to the Pacific islands, is represented by the finest series ever brought together. Dr. Hartman published a catalogue of the known species, nearly all of which are represented in his collection. A well-known conchologist offered one-half as much for the portulas as was paid for the whole collection.

The Hartman collection nearly doubles the museum collection of shells, bringing it up to about 11,000 named species and 100,000 specimens.

DETECTIVES CONFIDENT.

St. Louis Sleuths Believe That a Man Arrested Yesterday Is a Bank Robber.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28.—In John Lawrence Mason, arrested early today in company with two other men, Chief of Detectives Desmond thinks that he has one of the men who robbed the National Stock Yards bank at East St. Louis.

Mason has confessed to the chief that he made all the safe blowing and burglars' tools in possession of the three men when arrested.

One of the other men arrested with Mason admitted that his real name is Sam Cullen and that he lives in Bridgeport, Conn. Tom Lane, the third member of the party arrested, said he was born in Wales.

McElveen's

(McElveen Furniture Co.)

Clearance of Fine Furniture Starts This Morning

Lovers of fine furniture may well regard this sale with feelings of delight, for such an opportunity occurs but twice a year—and then WE present it. Our stock is so varied at all times that the accumulation of odd things is inevitable—odd pieces left over from sets which cannot be duplicated—samples which must be disposed of—and other accumulations make it obligatory for us to hold a Special Clearance Sale semi-annually.

This mid-winter event is peculiarly interesting—and decidedly the most remarkable in many respects that we have ever undertaken. This simply means that there is more to select from at special prices and better values than ever before. All of which, you will understand, is uttered with the knowledge that the public is well aware of the McElveen standard for excellence.

Choicest selection awaits those who come first today. Sale is for three days only—ends Friday evening.

SEEKS GROUND FOR A FREIGHT HOUSE IN POINT

Baltimore & Ohio Wants a Terminal for Elevated Tracks Along River.

OWNERS ARE APPROACHED

Question of Sale to Railroad Company Broached—Block House Discussion Continues, and Sons of Revolution Oppose Any Removal.

The intention of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad to build tracks along the Monongahela river front and establish a terminal freight station in the Point district is being shown more plainly every day. Property owners in that section have been approached by agents of the railroad company and asked whether they were willing to sell and requested to put an approximate price upon their real estate holdings.

One of the properties which the railroad company is desirous to secure is that owned by the Darlington heirs, between Water, First and West streets. Other interests controlling holdings in that neighborhood have also been approached upon the subject.

So far, however, the deals are only in a preliminary stage and no definite figures have been considered in the matter. If the company can secure the property it desires at a reasonable price, the deal will go through, and the present cramped and inadequate freight station of the road will be abandoned.

Reports Were Confirmed.

That a deal was actually being promoted has been understood for some time, but the report was confirmed yesterday by one of the Darlington heirs. This partial owner of the property in question said yesterday that the holders of interests had been approached and their sentiments in regard to the sale were being ascertained by men acting for the Baltimore & Ohio. It was stated, however, that as yet the deal was in an undeveloped stage, and no figures had been settled upon nor had any definite offer been made. The holders will, in the course of a few days, make answer to the proposition of the railroad company, and if they are willing to sell, will name a figure for their holdings.

The sale of the property in this section to the railroad company may be followed immediately by the announcement of the plans of the road for its elevated tracks along the wharf and connections with the bulkings planned by the warehouse syndicate.

The Property Wanted.

The property which is owned by the William D. Darlington heirs is situated in a triangular shaped block, bounded by Liberty avenue, First avenue, West street and Water street. It has a frontage of 60 feet in First avenue and 197 feet in West street. The building on the lot is a two-story brick structure. The larger part of the remainder of the triangular plot in which the Darlington property is situated is owned by the Martin Joyce estate, which has a total frontage of 104 feet in Water street and 108 feet in Liberty avenue. The other property owners in the block described are: J. H. Irwin, 40 feet in Water street; A. Ingoldsby, T. A. Godfrey and I. S. Weish, 13 feet each in Liberty avenue; Rachel DeRaiser of Cleveland, 20 feet in Liberty avenue; T. Lee, 16 feet in Liberty avenue and 26 feet in First avenue, and Ida Matthews, 22 feet in First avenue. The Water street frontage is generally quoted as about $300 a foot and the First avenue frontage at a slightly lower figure.

The Block House Discussion.

In the meantime the block house discussion is raging with unabated vigor. Candidates for council in many wards are making the preservation of the historic old structure an issue in their campaign. The plans of the warehouse syndicate are unaltered and no offer has yet been made to exchange a strip opening a way from Penn avenue to the block house for the 20-foot slice which the syndicate wants to take off the ground surrounding the revolutionary relic.

The Sons of the Revolution are, like the Daughters, bitterly opposed to the proposed removal of the old structure.

Col. A. J. Logan, president of the society, said previous to his departure for a trip to Cuba last evening that he could say nothing more than what was embodied in the resolutions in support of the D. A. R., passed by the society, and that the improvements in a commercial way of the Point district would scarcely permit of the plan of a park at that locality.

Is Opposed to Removal.

W. L. Jones, first vice president of the society, was very emphatic in his objections to the removal of the block house. "To make a park at either of the locations proposed and remove the block house to one of them would not suit the loyal and patriotic descendants of those who were connected with its history," he said. "When Libby prison was taken down, brick by brick, and removed to Chicago, it lost all, or very nearly all, interest for the public, for the reason that it does not mark the historic spot in Richmond. So it will be with the block house if removed. The descendants of some people who were born in the block house or in the officers' quarters, of which it was a part are residents of the city at the present time, and it cannot be expected that they will consent to the destruction of all the sentiment which is attached to the sacred spot which it now marks. It is the only relic of the early history of the locality, and it should be retained exactly where it is for all time."

Daughters Can Hold It.

Henry D. Sellers, registrar of the society, said that he was quite satisfied that the D. A. R. would be able to hold their own. "I think that if it was removed from its present location, even to one of the parks suggested, the greater portion of its value as a relic of the early times would be entirely lost. The city has vacated several streets to the warehouse syndicate without any recompense whatever, and I should think that it would be only just that the syndicate should give the D. A. R. sufficient property fronting upon Penn avenue to permit them to have an entrance to the block house in proportionate width to that of the property donated to the syndicate by the city."

R. W. Guthrie, Harry S. Switzer, Remsen V. Messler and other prominent members of the society also expressed themselves as decidedly opposed to any change in the location of the block house. The general opinion of all the members of the society of the Sons of the American Revolution is that if the D. A. R. continues to maintain the position already taken that the syndicate will eventually yield enough property in Penn avenue to enable them to retain a proper entrance to the block house.

TEST OF LABOR LAW TO BE MADE AT LISBON, O.

EMPLOYER'S INDICTMENT

A Workman Discharged for Joining Union Is the Prosecutor.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WELLSVILLE, O., Jan. 28.—The case of the state of Ohio vs. D. S. Brookman, indicted in this county for discharging Leonard Shaffer from the employ of the American Sheet Steel Company for being a member of a labor organization, will come up for hearing in the common pleas court at Lisbon on demurrer early next week. The claim of the defendant's attorney is that the law on which the indictment is based is unconstitutional, and this is the question on which the demurrer will be heard.

President Shaffer of the Amalgamated association has written to a local labor leader saying:

"If the case against Brookman can be carried to a successful issue it will be of an immense advantage to organized labor throughout the entire state of Ohio and the country. The truth of the case will demonstrate one thing: It will show the labor people whether or not the members of the legislature have been fooling them for years or whether they have intended to benefit them with the laws that have been enacted. If this law is declared unconstitutional the legislature will have to pass one that is not, or back down before the labor forces of the country, and that will demonstrate whether the members are the friends of labor they claim to be."

ELKIN WON'T DO.

Washington County Republicans Want a Candidate Who Will Solidify the Party.

WASHINGTON, PA., Jan. 28.—The Republican county vigilance committee met today with 60 members present and adopted a resolution authorizing County Chairman W. F. Penn to name a committee of three to confer with similar committees from Beaver and Lawrence counties, to arrange for the nomination of a candidate for congress, the committee to consent to no method except the popular vote plan or a popular district convention based on the Republican vote and the method to be ratified by the county convention.

The committee adopted a resolution deploring the corruption of the last legislature and calling on Senator Quay to attend the next state convention in person and advocate the nomination of a candidate for governor who would unite the party.

Supposed to Be Drowned.

EASTON, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Harry S. Rute, secretary of the board of health, is believed to have drowned in Bushkill creek. He disappeared from his home last night, and today an overcoat was found along the creek. A note in the pocket read: "This coat belongs to Harry S. Rute. If found notify my brother, Albert Rute, letter carrier. Am nearly insane, and have committed suicide. Harry S. Rute."

Pittsburghers Elected Directors.

SHARON, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the stockohlders of the Sharon Steel Company was held today and the following additional directors were elected for three years: George Ellis, Peter Shields, Pittsburgh; John Fahuline, Sharon. The directors reorganized by electing George W. Darr, New York, president; John Stevenson, Jr., Sharon, vice president; V. M. Delameter, Sharon, secretary and David Adams, treasurer.

Car Struck by Landslide.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—A car on the East Liverpool & Wellsville electric line containing 15 passengers, narrowly escaped destruction tonight. While passing along the side of a hill, 200 feet above the river, the car was struck in the rear end by a landslide. The avalanche buried the track to a depth of 50 feet. The car missed the full force of the slide by only a few feet, but the rear vestibule was demolished.

Offered Better Wages.

ALTOONA, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The Altoona Glass Company, which is an independent company, today notified its employes that it will guarantee a more satisfactory rate of wages than that offered by the American Window Glass Company, a representative of which today, it is said, had been in the city endeavoring to hire men. Manager E. Arner said today that none of the employes have quit and none are likely to do so.

Home from the Philippines.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Maj. William Gray Miller of this city has returned home on a sick leave after nearly three years' service in the Philippines. Maj. Miller is in the medical department, having been promoted for efficient service from assistant surgeon. He says the rebellion is practically at an end.

Planing Mill Burned.

OIL CITY, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Early this morning fire was discovered in the planing mill of the Oil Well Supply Company's new plant. The mill was consumed, entailing a loss of $4,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire was caused by an explosion of gas in an engine. Valuable machinery in the adjoining works was damaged by water.

Flood Carries Off Timber.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Jan. 28.—Half a million dollars' worth of timber was swept out of Guyandotte river today by the breaking of booms. Great damage is reported along that stream by the unusually high water stage.

HANGING WITNESSED BY 1,000 PEOPLE

Two Murderers Pay the Death Penalty in Jail Yard at Harrisburg.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, PA., Jan. 28.—Weston Keiper and Henry Rowe were hanged at 10:40 o'clock today in the Harrisburg jail yard in the presence of 1,000 persons for the murder of Charles W. Ryan. The murderers went to their death without a shudder and neither made any statement on the gallows.

The crush for admission to the jail was so great that it required the combined efforts of the police force and the sheriff's deputies to keep the crowd away from the entrance. Several of the jurors were forced to fight their way through the crowd into the prison. The house tops and telegraph poles in the vicinity were crowded with people eager to witness the execution. Two men with a camera secured admittance to the jail for the purpose of securing a snapshot of the hanging, but the warden detected them and took the camera away from them until after the execution.

Rowe and Keiper for several years worked in and about the mines at Lykens, Pa. During the morning of March 13 last they visited the Halifax National bank of Halifax, this county, and with drawn revolvers demanded of Cashier Charles W. Ryan the cash in the vault. They quickly gathered into a satchel the loose money in the cash drawer, amounting to about $8,000. While one of them was fastening the lid of the satchel he laid his revolver on the cashier's desk. Mr. Ryan seized the weapon and in a desperate struggle which ensued the cashier was shot in the breast, dying several hours later.

Rowe and Keiper were captured by citizens. Within two weeks they were tried and convicted of first degree murder. Frank B. Sholey, an accomplice, pleaded guilty as an accessory and was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

IRON OUTPUT LAST YEAR.

American Iron and Steel Association's Report of Production as Compared With Other Years.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—James M. Swank's report of the output of pig iron in this country, in the bulletin of the American Iron and Steel association, gives complete statistics of the production of all kinds of pig iron in the United States in 1901, and complete statistics of the stocks of pig iron which were on hand and for sale on December 31, 1901. It gives these figures:

Production—The total production of pig iron in 1901 was 15,878,354 gross tons, against 13,789,242 tons in 1900, 13,620,703 tons in 1899, 11,773,934 tons in 1898 and 9,652,680 tons in 1897. The following table gives the half-yearly production of pig iron in the last three years in gross tons:

Periods	1899.	1900.	1901.
Total	13,620,703	13,789,242	15,878,354

The increase in production in the first half of 1901 over the second half of 1900 was 1,528,940 tons, and the increase in production in the second half of 1900 over the first half of 1901 was 529,128 tons. The total increase in 1901 over 1900 was 2,089,112 tons. This is a larger increase than the boom year 1899 showed over the year 1898.

The production of Bessemer pig iron in 1901 was 9,566,783 tons, against 7,944,462 tons in 1900. The production of basic pig iron in 1901 was 1,448,950 tons, against 1,052,576 tons in 1900. The production of spiegeleisen and ferro-manganese in 1901 was 291,461 tons, against 255,977 tons in 1900. The production of charcoal pig iron in 1901 was 390,147 tons, against 330,574 tons in 1900. The production of mixed charcoal and coke pig iron in 1901 was 23,244 tons, against 44,808 tons in 1900.

TRAINMEN HURT IN WRECK.

Freights Collide on the Baltimore & Ohio, Injuring Five Persons.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—There was a disastrous freight wreck at Pine Grove, 50 miles west, on the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio today, caused by a freight train going west sideswiping another freight as the latter was crossing from one track to another. Twenty cars are reported to have been hurled into Casselman river and both engines crippled.

Engineer John Betz of Rockwood, Pa., was thrown 40 feet and badly scalded. Engineer John Schutz of this city was injured about the hip. Three others of the crew were slightly hurt by jumping. The injured were brought here.

PREMONITION OF KIDNAPING.

Boy's Dream That He Was Being Stolen Fulfilled in the Daytime

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Fred Gregory, 6 years old, who lived with his mother was kidnaped this afternoon. The boy answered the doorbell, was seized and thrown into a cab, which was driven rapidly away. Mrs. Gregory had gone visiting with her husband for some time. The courts gave her custody of the child, who, she thinks, was abducted by the father.

When the cab drove off with the little fellow, Miss Alice Hunter, a sister of Mrs. Gregory, jumped into a laundry cart and pursued, but was quickly distanced.

A strange coincidence is the fact that last night the boy awoke screaming. He said: "I dreamed a man took me away from you."

The Gregorys formerly lived in Washington, where the father, Samuel B. Gregory, held a government position.

Charges Against Commissioners.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Prosecuting Attorney A. C. Lewis filed his report as an examiner of the county commissioners' report today, and caused a sensation, as he alleges that the county commissioners have charged up a number of expenditures which are illegal. He cites them as charging for livery hire, when they collected mileage for the same trips.

State Charters Issued.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 28.—Charters were issued today as follows: Monessen Improvement Company, Monessen, capital $50,000; J. E. Lappe Tanning Company, Allegheny, capital $1,000; Butler Silk Mill, Butler, capital $50,000; Falls Creek Water Company, Falls Creek, Jefferson county, capital $1,000.

Judge Potter the Guest of Honor.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—Supreme Court Justice William P. Potter will be the guest of honor tomorrow evening at a reception to be tendered him by the Lawyer's club of this city.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

MONONGAHELA, PA.—John Stanton of Coal Center was struck by a passenger train on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad near Coal Center yesterday and killed.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—The select council last night passed the ordinance providing for the erection of the big viaduct over the Shenango river from Moravia street to Mahoning avenue.

WASHINGTON, PA.—Miss Minnie Pyles, aged 22 years, a teacher of the Raccoon school, died at her home there last evening from the effects of carbolic acid taken at the school house.

HARRISBURG—Gov. Stone has reappointed Winters D. Hamaker of Meadville a member of the state examining board. The governor also appointed Mrs. Hutchinson of Glen Riddle a member of the board.

MASSILLON, O.—W. G. Paul & Co.'s local brick plant, appraised at $21,000, was sold at receiver's sale for $15,500. The buyers are J. A. Shoemaker, E. C. Signer, W. C. Jacobs and R. H. Evans of this city.

MAUCH CHUNK, PA.—Two men were injured and much property was damaged by an explosion of dynamite stored in a building at the lower end of the city. The explosive was the property of Richards & Gaster, contractors.

BEAVER FALLS, PA.—A meeting of the tenants of this place was held last night behind closed doors, and a Tenants' association was formed to resist the action of the Landlord's Protective association, formed for the purpose of advancing rents.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Notices have been posted in the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie yards in this city and at New Castle Junction to the effect that all employes must be vaccinated. The order is the result of the increasing number of smallpox cases in this city.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA.—Anthony Zeilpo and Anton Novinski, Hungarians, were sentenced to one year and seven months each in the penitentiary. The men blamed John Dell for opening their mail and pursued him to the Juniata river. Dell jumped into the river to escape them and was drowned.

INMATE GIVES ALARM

General Delivery at Waynesburg Averted Because Hole Was Too Small.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WAYNESBURG, PA., Jan. 28.—William, alias "Dutch," Shanes, who was a prisoner in jail awaiting trial for burglary, escaped last night by sawing off a bar of one of the windows and letting himself down to the ground by means of a rope. The escape occurred just before the prisoners were to be locked in their cells. It is thought the work of sawing the bar had been going on for nearly a week. George Richards, the negro who recently robbed Dilaney's store here, planned to escape with Shanes, but could not squeeze through the opening made by sawing out the bars. Finding he could not get out he immediately gave the alarm and Sheriff Scott quickly entered the jail from the office, but was too late to capture Shanes.

The latter lives near Blacksville, W. Va. It is thought he went in that direction, having been seen passing along the street just after making his escape. John McCullough was arrested and placed in jail charged with aiding in the jail breaking by furnishing a saw. An acquaintance of McCullough revealed the fact that the latter had sent a note by Richards and Shanes offering him $20 of the money stolen from the Dulaney store if he would provide them a saw. McCullough was to go where a sack containing $40 of the money was hidden and take but $20 of it. This knowledge and the fact that he tried to get a saw from a Waynesburg plubber led to his incarceration. A table knife fashioned into a saw and a wooden key were found in the jail.

CONVENTION JUNE 11.

Party Managers Finally Agree on Date, Which Chairman Reeder Will Soon Officially Announce.

HARRISBURG, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The Republican state convention will be held in the Harrisburg opera house on June 11 for the nomination of candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and secretary of internal affairs. This date finally has been agreed upon by the party managers and will be formally announced by State Chairman Reeder during the next ten days. Mr. Reeder has communicated with a majority of the members of the committee, and the time and place for holding the convention meets their approval.

"I see no one in sight but Elkin," said Reeder tonight, in discussing the contest for the Republican nomination for governor, "although, as chairman of the state committee, it would not be proper for me to boom any particular aspirant."

Mr. Reeder also said that in his judgment Senator Quay will take no part in the fight, but will allow the convention to make its own selection.

WANT NAME COPYRIGHTED.

Canton Hotel Owners Are Warned Against Calling Their Establishment "The McKinley."

CANTON, O., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The projectors of the new Saxton Hotel Company, in which the late President McKinley held $6,000 stock, made the formal announcement this afternoon that they would enter the fight for the name Hotel McKinley, which it is claimed the promoters of the new hotel on the Hurford house site have appropriated without Mrs. McKinley's consent.

The latest move is an attempt to copyright the name. Attorney Austin Lynch, Mrs. McKinley's counsel, gave out a statement this afternoon announcing that she had given her consent to the use of the name by the Saxon syndicate, and warning all others that any effort to use it would be contested.

HEIRS TO BIG ESTATE.

Ohio Residents to Receive the Fortune of a Wealthy Scotch Ancestor.

ALLIANCE, O., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Mayor O. U. Walker has received word substantiating the claims of local heirs to the estate of Robert Miller, a wealthy pawnbroker of Kilmarnock, Scotland. The original estate amounted to several million dollars.

The Alliance heirs are children of Hugh Miller, who was a nephew, and who died in 1857. At a preliminary division of the estate, each of the following heirs will get $2,500: George E. Miller, Mrs. Saline Hoover, Mrs. Kate Oyster, all of Alliance; Mrs. Jane Oyster, Louisville; Mrs. Emily Oyster, East Liverpool, and John Miller of Toronto. Mayor Walker has been working on the case for over a year.

COSTS WERE DIVIDED.

Anti-Saloon League Must Pay One-Third of Prosecution Expenses.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The legal contest being waged by the Anti-Saloon league against the Altoona Republican league to stop the sale of liquors in the club rooms, resulted in a draw. The jury today acquitted the officers of the Republican league but directed that they pay two-thirds of the costs, and the Rev. R. A. Hutchinson, president of the Anti-Saloon league, pay the other third.

HERE IS HEALTH FREE

These Four New Preparations comprise a complete new treatment for Consumption and nearly all the ills of life.

The Food-Emulsion is needed by some, the Emulsion and Tonic by others, the Expectorant by others, the Ozojell Cure for Catarrh by others still and all four, or any three, or two, or any one, may be used singly or in combination, according to the needs of the case. Full instructions with each set of four free remedies, represented in this illustration. Also 68 page My Doctor Book.

EDITOR'S NOTE.—The Slocum System of Treatment for the cure of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Lung Troubles and Consumption is medicine reduced to an exact science by America's foremost specialist, and the readers of The Pittsburgh Gazette are urged to take advantage of Dr. Slocum's generous offer.

These four remedies represent a New system of treatment for the Weak and those suffering from Consumption, wasting diseases or inflammatory conditions of Nose, Throat and Lungs.

The treatment is Free.

By the new system devised by DR. SLOCUM, the great specialist in pulmonary and kindred diseases, all the requirements of the sick body are supplied by the FOUR remedies constituting his Special Treatment, known as The Slocum System.

Whatever your disease, one or more of these four preparations will be of wonderful benefit to you.

According to the needs of your case, fully explained in the Treatise given free with the free remedies, you may take one, any two, or three, or all four, in combination.

A cure is certain.

The remedies are especially adapted for those who suffer from weak lungs, coughs, sore throat, Catarrh, Consumption and other pulmonary troubles.

But they are also of wonderful efficacy to the building up of weak systems, in purifying the blood, making flesh and restoring to weak, sallow people rich and healthy constitutions.

The many ailments of women and delicate children are speedily relieved.

The basis of the entire system is a flesh-building, nerve and tissue renewing food.

Every invalid and sick person needs strength. This food gives it.

Many people get the complete system for the sake of the perfected Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which they themselves need, and give away the other three preparations to their friends.

The second article is a Tonic. It is good for weak, thin, dyspeptic, nervous people. For those who have no appetite, who need bracing up.

Thousands take only the Emulsion and the Tonic.

The third preparation is a medicinal healing Ozojell, in a patent Ozojell nasal tube. It cures catarrh. It heals all irritation of the nose, throat and mucous membranes. It gives immediate relief. It is also a splendid application for sore lips and rough skin.

Perhaps many readers of the Pittsburgh Gazette need the Ozojell cure for catarrh.

The fourth article is an Expectorant and Cough and Cold cure. The only expectorant that can positively be relied upon. Is absolutely safe for children. Goes to the very root of the trouble and not merely alleviates, but cures.

The four remedies form a panoply of strength against disease in whatever shape it may attack you.

THE FREE TRIAL.

To obtain these four Free preparations, illustrated above, all you have to do is to write to giving full address. The four Free remedies will then be sent you, direct from the laboratories, in the hope that if they do you good you will recommend them to your friends. When writing the Doctor please tell him you read this in The Pittsburgh Gazette, and greatly oblige.

RUPTURE

THROW YOUR TRUSS AWAY.

I am the only physician who can guarantee to cure Rupture without the knife, pain or danger—the way it will remain cured forever—because I am the originator of the ONLY TREATMENT ON EARTH THAT HAS EVER FAILED TO CURE RUPTURE—THE ELECTRO CHEMIC. When you entrust your case to me, you can do so with confidence that you will receive A PERMANENT CURE and expert services which cannot be secured from any other physician. YOU GET A WRITTEN GUARANTEE.

If you happen to fall into the hands of EXPEDIMENTERS, palming themselves off as RUPTURE SPECIALISTS, remember their failure to cure you is no argument against me, or the matchless power of my Electro Chemic Method to conquer all forms of this disease.

WITHOUT CUTTING, PAIN, DANGER OR DETAINING YOU FROM BUSINESS.

DEAR DR. WIX:

I want you to publish a statement of my cure. I suffered with a rupture about two (2) years. I tried trusses without benefit, and my rupture was continually growing worse. Being afraid to trust to a surgical operation, I concluded to try your Electro Chemic Method. I am glad to say I am now cured sound as I ever was.

Hockey Game Was Like Free-for-All Fight

FOUGHT IT OUT WITH FISTS AND STICKS ON ICE

Last Night's Hockey Game Was an Exciting Affair All the Way.

KEYSTONE TEAM WINNER

Contest Was Something on the Order of a Free-for-All Fight—Many Players Were Penalized, But the Spectators Cheered Rough Work.

Last night's hockey game between the Keystone and P. A. C. hockey teams was for blood all right and it proved the fastest and fiercest game of the season. The Keystone team walked off with the victory by a score of 1 to 0, and the players were so well pleased that they hugged each other and in their great glee danced a merry tune on the slippery ice.

There is no telling how many points the red and white players would have piled up had it not been for little Hern, the Keystone goal keeper. There's a boy who knows his business all right and last night was his time for attending to duty. During the time the contest was on the P. A. C. fellows kept shooting the rubber disc at the Keystone net with such rapidity that Hern must have thought he was being used as a target for gatling gun practice, but he was a good target, and not one of those numerous shots did he allow to get past him and into the coveted net. Many of the shots were difficult ones to stop, but Hern was always Johnny-on-the- spot and shifted their direction.

The Excitement Ran High.

There was a very large turnout of hockey enthusiasts to witness the game, and the excitement ran high from the moment the puck was first faced off. It did not take long for the players to show that they meant business, and within the first three minutes two of them, one from each team, was sent to the bench for transgressing the rules. Dr. Lionel King, who is to be the official referee in the future, showed that he is not there to stand any nonsense, and he showed no favors last night. Dr. King's work was one of the real features of the game.

A Donybrook fair on a bath at royal would be as a Sunday school tea in comparison with last night's game. One good thing was that no player was seriously hurt, though it was not the fault of an opposing player that such a thing did not happen. There was body checking of the fiercest kind and there was all kinds of tripping, elbowing and clubbing each other with hockey sticks. This furnished a lot of fun for the spectators, even if it was rough on the players, and the crowd showed its appreciation by some of the wildest cheering ever heard at the garden.

They Took to Fist Fighting.

When the players got tired sending each other into the benches or sliding headlong on the ice, they took to the good old-fashioned way of doing business, and Hamilton of P. A. C. planted his good right soldily on the ear of Mr. Sixsmith of Keystone. For this offense Hamilton was benched for five minutes. A little later Jerry Curtain of the red and white team made a swipe at Morrison of the opposing seven and had the blow landed the Keystone man would have been put out of the business, but it didn't and Jerry escaped a penalty, as the referee was busy watching another scrap at the time. Those who were present said it was "a dandy game," and perhaps it was. Some people go crazy over a bull fight.

The only score of the game was made by Sixsmith of Keystone in the first half, and it was a sort of a fluke at that, but it counted just the same. Sixsmith shot from back of the net and the rubber struck Goal Keeper Lamb of P. A. C. on the leg and bounded into the net. The first half was lively enough, but the second was go-as-you-please. It was a case of hit-and-run from the start, and at times fully half the players were sprawling on the ice and there was hardly a player on either team who escaped a penalty.

P. A. C. Played Best Hockey.

The P. A. C. played the best offensive hockey, but Keystone was there with a strong defense and backed up by Hern's good keeping was almost invincible. Dr. King, who is a hockey expert, said it was the fastest game he had ever seen. The record and line-up:

P. A. C.—0.		Keystone—1.
Lamb	Goal	Hern
Hamilton	Point	Morphy
North	Cover Point	Pesch
Reymer	Center	Morrison
Robinson	Forward	Sixsmith
Smith	Right Wing	Peel

Goals—Sixsmith. Referee—Dr. King. Goal Judges—Heil and Garrett.

WANT THE BIG RACES.

Indoor Championships Likely to Be Held at Duquesne Garden This Season.

It is extremely likely that the indoor skating championships of this country and Canada will take place at Duquesne garden this season. A representative of the garden has gone to Verona Lake, N. J., where the outdoor championships are being skated this week, for the purpose of securing the events for this city and also to secure the skaters to come here to compete. If the championships are held here, they will take place at the same time as the amateur races, during the week of February 10.

Dr. Lionel King, who last year refereed many of the local games in a highly satisfactory manner, has been secured to take charge of the hockey games at the garden. He arrived from his home at Cass City, Mich., yesterday and officiated in his first game last night. Dr. King is well-known to local admirers of the ice game, as he played hockey with the D. C. & A. C.'s and the Keystones. Two years ago he refereed the games of the Ontario Hockey association. With Dr. King handling the whistle there is not likely to be any trouble over decisions during the games.

A. Leslie Jones, the crack skater from Meriden, Conn., will meet William T. Lake, the local speeder, in a two-mile race this evening.

This One Was Easy.

Last night at Homestead the South Side team defeated the H. L. A. C. Juniors with ridiculous ease. The first half ending 35 to 1 in favor of South Side. During this half the exhibition of goal shooting, both from the field and foul, was immense. The ball was scored from every part of the floor with comparative ease. The second half was a repetition of the first, the final scorce being 62 to 12. Following was the line up of the teams:

South Side—62.		Homestead—12.
Lieban	Forward	Ralston
Lethead	Forward	Adams
Davis	Center	Orr
Winderknecht	Guard	Mulholland
Schmidt	Guard	Brennen

Goals from field—Lieban 7, Lethead 7, Davis 4, Winderknecht 1, Schmidt 2, Ralston 1, Adams 2, Brennen 1. From foul—Lieban 10, Adams 2. Officials—Little, Mackrell.

The Butler Team Beaten.

WEST BRIDGEWATER, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—An interesting game of basketball was played here tonight between the Beaver Greys and the Butler A. C., which resulted in a score of 42 to 28 in favor of the Beaver Greys. A good crowd was present. This is the first game played by the Beavers since their organization, and there was much rehashing over their good showing.

High Dive Record Broken.

PORTLAND, ORE., Jan. 28.—In an indoor contest at the Multnomah club H. W. Kerrigan broke the American record for the running high dive, clearing the bar at 6 feet and ¾ inches.

IROQUOIS TEAM WON THE MATCH

BRITISH-WESTINGHOUSE DEFEATED BY MARGIN OF 3 POINTS.

The Contest Was Close and Exciting from Start to Finish, the Englishmen Having Advantage of Conditions—Return Match on Tuesday.

The Iroquois Rifle club's team defeated the British-Westinghouse five last night on the Wilkinsburg range by a total score of 462 against 459.

The match was a close and exciting one throughout. Each contestant had 21 shots in all at the Bisley target, commonly known as the English "magpie." Seven were taken standing; seven kneeling or sitting and seven lying down. A bulls'-eye of one-inch counted five points; at 60-foot range the next magpie ring four, the third three points and any shot on the paper two. The open-sight rifles of the English team were used exclusively.

Dr. Black and Needham shot first, the Iroquois having a lead of two points when the first pair had finished. Dyer of the English team bested Hetel, the Iroquois crack, on the second round by two points and the score was even. Jacques of the Iroquois gained three on Wise, and Pierce, when shooting Gibson, lost by one point. Capt. Alexander, the Englishmen's best marksmen, met Rahn in the final contest. The Iroquois man won by one point. The scores:

Iroquois—	Standing.	Sitting.	Lying.	Total.
D. L. Black	32	31	32	95
L. P. Hetel	35	31	30	94
C. L. Jacques	30	28	33	91
H. B. Pierce	31	30	21	82
R. R. Rahn	29	33	31	93
Total				462

British—	Standing.	Sitting.	Lying.	Total.
R. A. Needham	32	32	29	93
A. R. Dyer	32	31	35	98
H. P. Wise	37	30	21	88
C. M. Gibson	27	29	34	90
R. T. D. Alexander	29	33	30	92
Total				459

The second half of the match will be decided on the Iroquois range next Tuesday, with 30 shots each on the German ring target, and globe-sight rifles, all shots standing.

THE NEW ORLEANS RACES.

Only One Favorite Was at the Front Yesterday.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28.—Emma A. M., who landed the last race by a nose, was the only winning favorite today. Hot Scotch while at the post in the second race ran away three miles and three-quarters and was excused. The stewards have declined to receive the horse's entry in the future. The entry of Dr. Moore will also be refused until the horse is ready to race and John Grigsby will not be permitted to start on a muddy track. Weather drizzling rain; track heavy. Summaries:

First race, mile and 70 yards—King Talius, 102, R. Steele, 13 to 5, won; Senator Sullivan, 118, Odom, 6 to 1, second; Goldagin, 105, Dominick, 9 to 5, third. Time, 1:54⅘. Frank Jones, Raffles, Carlovingian and Dr. Moore also ran.

Second race, six furlongs, selling—Erome, 114, Coburn, 4 to 1, won; Alpaca, 97, T. Dean, 7 to 5, second; Wiedeman, 105, Lyne, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:17. Billbardist, Royal Sterling and John Grigsby also ran. Hop Scotch was withdrawn.

Third race, mile and a sixteenth, selling—Digby Bell, 81, Waldo, 6 to 1, won; Echodale, 107, Lindsey, 5 to 1, second; St. David, 107, Brennan, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:52¼. Meme Wastell, Little Tim, Begueath, Campus, Admiral Schley, Philma Paxton and Hutch Miller also ran.

Fourth race, mile—Ben Chance, 98, Meade, 9 to 1, won; Petit Maitre, 113, Lyne, 6 to 1, second; Malay, 104, Brennan, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:45. Lennep, Garter Ban and Nobleman also ran.

Fifth race, 13-16 mile, selling—Banana, 105, Brennan, 7 to 1, won; El Ghor, 102, Lyne, 4 to 1, second; Star Cotton, 102, T. Dean, 10 to 1, third. Time, 2:06½. Free American, Eva Rice, The Jefferson, Effie Elkin and Pay the Fiddler also ran.

Sixth race, six furlongs—Emma A. M., 101, Lyne, 2 to 1, won; Sand Flea, 88, W. W. Waldo, 20 to 1, second; Crescent City, 109, T. Dean, 13 to 5, third. Time, 1:16½. Rose of May, James P. Keating, Ohagen, You You and Somersault also ran.

LAJOIE BACK HOME.

His Only Interest in Baseball Is the Salary End.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Lajoie, the Athletic's second baseman, accompanied by Bernhard and Davis, arrived in this city this afternoon from Chicago, where he had stopped off on his way from Frisco. He was greeted by several friends at the Broad street station, who quickly hustled him away. He looked to be in splendid condition, and said he had had a most successful trip. He appeared to suffer from the cold, and remarked that with the exception of the last few days he had lived in a summer eight months long.

"Harry" refused to discuss the baseball situation, and the only interest he appeared to take in the coming season was with the Athletics and the satisfaction in knowing that his salary would be O. K.

Will Protect Game.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The Blair County Game protective association has been formed with the following officers: President, H. D. Hewitt; secretary and treasurer, W. H. Gardner; executive committee, F. H. Fay, J. W. Hewitt, C. A. Marks. The object of the association is to break up the organized gang of poachers and pot hunters that infest this region. Several prosecutions have already been brought against the violators of the law.

Clever Heavyweights Will Meet.

NEW KENSINGTON, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The 15-round bout between Alex. Moffat of New York and Fred Broad of Port City before the Already Jeon brought against the violators of the law.

Clever Heavyweights Will Meet.

NEW KENSINGTON, PA., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—The 15-round bout between Alex. Moffat of New York and Fred Broad of Port City before the Already Jeon promises to be the best thing in the scrap line ever seen here. Both men are big, husky fellows that know how to fight, and the sports can expect something nice when they get to scrapping. Both men have been in hard training for over three weeks and are in good shape. A side bet of $25 was put up yesterday.

ANOTHER OF THE GOOD THINGS GO THROUGH

Maresa, a 25-to-1 Shot, Took the Last Event at Oakland.

AWFUL BUMP FOR BOOKS

Mountain Peeress, Another Long Shot, Captured the Opening Race. O'Connor Will No Longer Ride for the Green B. Morris Stables.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The victory of Maresa, a 25 to 1 shot, was the feature of the racing at Oakland today. After running second to San Venado in the first part she took command and in a drive won by a neck from King Delils. Sweet Tooth was heavily played, but received a poor ride and was beaten a nose for second money. The Pride, which was a 3 to 5 favorite, made a poor showing.

Montana Peeress, with "Long Shot" Conley up, won the first race at odds of 15 to 1. The other events went to favorites. In the second race Arabo had to be ridden hard to beat Gold Van, who made his first appearance and got away poorly. "Green Morr" was not pleased with Winnie Connor's ride on Janice Saturday, and he today substituted J. L. Jackson on the mare. Connor said he would no longer ride for Mr. Morris, and the latter agreed to the ending of the engagement. Summaries:

First race, ⅝ of a mile—Montana Peerless, 112, Conley, 15 to 1, won; Yrsula, 107, O'Connor, 3 to 1, second; Knockins, 112, Monree, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:02⅘. Satchel, Cathello, Lass of Laugton, Esternell, Torilla, Sterling, Towers and Meteoro also ran.

Second race, 7-16 of a mile—Arabo, 108, Burns, 9 to 5, won; Gold Van, 113, J. Woods, 5 to 1, second; Mireino, 105, Ransom, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:25⅗. J. T. Bennet, Young Marlow, Past Master, Jennie McGowan and Lon Reno also ran.

Third race, 13-16 of a mile, selling—Shellmount, 106, O'Connor, 4 to 5, won; Hunchback, 108, J. Woods, 2 to 1, second; Rubus, 105, Ransch, 3½ to 1, third. Time, 1:21. Prestano also ran.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 miles, handicap—Janice, 105, L. Jackson, 4 to 5, won; Grayfield, 102, Birkenruth, 5 to 1, second; All Green, 120, Spencer, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:48⅘. Mission also ran.

Fifth race, 1 1-16 miles, selling—Bathos, 103, Monree, 7 to 5, won; Cavator, 107, O'Connor, 2½ to 1, second; Wolfhart, 106, Kelly, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:48⅕. Rim Rock, Brahin, Morinel, Expedient and Olisa also ran.

Sixth race, ¾ of a mile, selling—Maresa, 94, Finnerty, 25 to 1, won; King Delila, 102, Redfern, 15 to 1, second; Sweet Tooth, 90, Gannon, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:14⅘. San Venado, Orleans, The Pride and Sea Queen also ran.

First race, futurity, selling—Tiberon, Chaspac, 107, Skip Me, Eldred, Fridolin, 96, Novia, February, Dolly Welthoff, 100; Modder, 98; Buck Taylor, 106; Meadow Lark, 107; Sharp Bird, 105.

Second race, 1 mile, selling—Scintilate, Consear, 107; Kenilworth, 109; Ada N., Invictus, 104; Commissioner, Forster, 92; Arigato, 87.

Fourth race, 1 mile, handicap—Macgyle, Ornnung, Floronso, 100; Corrigan, 95; Water Cure, 122.

Fifth race, ⅝ of a mile, selling—Rollick, 108; Brush Shot, Redwald, 104; Captivate, Orleans, Tower of Candles, Cousin Carrie, 99; Afghan, Bell of Tarsus, 109; Vantine, 107.

Sixth race, 1 mile and 50 yards, selling—Ticador, 114; Bob Palmer, Courtier, 111; Hortiary, Bab, 102; Aloha II., Harry Thatcher, Limelight, Rey del San Juan, Duke of York II., Monda, 100; Kastaine, 107.

GARDINER WILL PITCH.

High School Has Good Material for Baseball Team—Strong Schedule Being Arranged.

Never were the school athletics of the Western Pennsylvania district in healthier or more active state than at present, and Pittsburgh High school is one of the most active factors in the new order of things. Already the boys are laying plans for a baseball nine which will be even stronger than the excellent team which represented the school last season.

Th High school enthusiasts are congratulating themselves upon having a star candidate for the pitcher's slab in Ad Gardiner, a brother of the well-known Jim Gardiner, who was one of the strongest amateur delivery artists ever developed here and was later signed by the Pittsburgh National league club.

On the strength of the appropriation of $1,000 now secured a much stronger schedule is being arranged and the boys are anticipating more trips away from home than ever before. Washington and Jefferson college was not played last season, but will likely be on the line this year. The Central High school of Cleveland and Elders Ridge academy are other new schools which will be played. The Rayen High school of Youngstown, University of West Virginia, California, Norristown and the usually warmly-contested games with East Liberty academy, Shadyside and Kiskiminetas will help complete the schedule. Some of last season's strong players who will be back at school are Patterson, Youngson, Henning, Smith, Epping, Harper and Wilson.

YALE'S FRESHMAN COACH.

Capt. Kunzig Has Appointed Henry S. Hooker.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—Capt. Kunzig of the Yale crew today appointed Harry S. Hooker of Washington, D. C., coach of the freshman crew. Mr. Hooker is a student in the senior class. He was captain of the 1900 freshman crew. The next year he rowed in the four-oared crew, and last June was No. 3 in the victorious Yale eight.

Held Basketball Carnival.

A basketball carnival was held at the H. L. A. C. gymnasium last night, three games being played. The L. A. C. team defeated the strong Butler team in a very fast and interesting game by a score of 45 to 20. The Homestead Juniors were defeated by the South Side team by a score of 62 to 12. The Homestead High School defeated the Pittsburgh academy team by a score of 30 to 22 in the most fiercely contested game of the evening by a score of 30 to 22.

GRAND CIRCUIT STEWARDS' WORK

DATES ARE SET FOR THE COMING RACING SEASON.

The Purses Offered Are Large and a Prosperous Season Is Looked for. Brighton Beach Wants to Buy the Glenn Falls Dates and Membership.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DETROIT, Jan. 28.—At a session, which lasted until 10 o'clock tonight, the stewards of the Grand Trotting circuit, who have held their annual meeting today, at the Hotel Cadillac, fixed the following dates for next season's meetings and adjourned to meet in Boston on January 27, 1903:

Detroit, July 14 to 19; Cleveland, July 21 to 26; Columbus, July 28 to August 2; Buffalo, August 4 to 9; Glens Falls, August 11 to 16; Readville, August 18 to 23; Providence, August 25 to 30; Hartford, September 1 to 6; Cincinnati, September 22 to 27; Terre Haute, September 29 to October 4.

Representatives of different tracks announced that the following amounts will be offered in stakes and purses: Detroit, $50,000; Cleveland, $35,000; Columbus, $40,000; Buffalo, $30,000; Glens Falls, $30,000; Readville, $40,000; Providence, $45,000; Hartford, $45,000; Cincinnati, $40,000; Terre Haute, $25,000; total, $330,000.

The stewards' officers: D. J. Campau of Detroit, president, and Sidney W. Giles of Cleveland secretary, will hold over another year.

At the annual banquet this afternoon a committee of five was appointed to go before the National and American Trotting associations and ask them to abolish the proxy system, thereby making it necessary for all tracks to have a representative at meetings in order to vote. In event of a refusal, the members of the Grand circuit will withdraw from those associations and form a governing body of their own. The committee is composed of the following: D. J. Campau, Detroit; W. S. Pollock, Cleveland; C. W. Jewett, Boston; John B. Sage, Buffalo; C. B. Dufferin, Terre Haute. A committee of three was also authorized to be appointed by President Campau later, to appoint a presiding judge, who will act at all the meetings down the circuit.

C. J. McCully, representing the New York Trotting association whose application for dates in the middle of August for the Brighton beach track, was refused, made a cash offer to the owners of the Glenn Falls track for their dates and membership in the circuit, and the stewards authorized President Campau to close the deal if the offer is ratified by the directors of the New York association and accepted by the Glens Falls people. Mr. McCully stated that a trotting meeting would be given at Brighton in August, whether or not the track became a member of the circuit.

The application of Syracuse for the week of August 25, instead of the second week in September, which they have had heretofore, was refused, and that track withdrew from the circuit. A meeting will be given them that week, however. An effort was made by Columbus to secure the opening meeting of the circuit, but the stewards awarded the honor to Detroit.

Boxing Bouts at a Smoker.

The monthly smoker of the Young Men's Civil club was held last night in the club rooms in Windsor street, Allegheny, attended by 300 members and their friends. A series of three-round boxing bouts was the attraction of the evening. The Gibson Bros., well-known boxers, said to be the smallest fighters in Western Pennsylvania, was the star performance. Ward and Harbolt, Blair and Webb, Richinson and Brothers, Graham brothers and the Weid brothers were on for three rounds each.

McEachern Made Record Time.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 28.—Archie McEachern, the Canadian, added another victory to his string today in this city by defeating Bernie Monroe of Memphis and Otto Maya of Erie, Pa., in a 15-mile motor paced bicycle race at the Armory ball tonight. This victory was a hollow one for his competitors, as accidents which compelled them to leave the track. McEachern's time was 24:41 4-5, which is one minute and 35 seconds better than the world's record on an indoor track.

"LITTLE GIANT" PRESENTED FINE REPORT OF YEAR

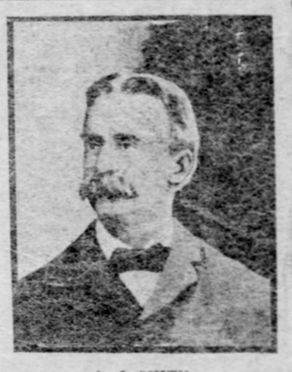
Increase in Gross and Net Earnings of Pittsburgh & Lake Erie.

CAPITAL STOCK DOUBLED

The Pittsburgh & Western Railway Passes Out of Existence, New Corporation Being Formed—President Fish Declares Against Pooling.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company showed at its annual meeting yesterday the largest earnings and the greatest progress in its history. At the same time provision was made for maintaining its policy of improvement by means of an authorized increase of $4,000,000 in its capital stock. Of this amount $2,000,000 will be issued August 1. The increase of $4,000,000 in capital allows a similar increase in bonds.

Officers of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie proper were re-elected with only one change in each board. President



A. J. SMITH,
General Passenger Agent Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.

W. H. Newman of the New York Central remains president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, while Col. J. M. Schoonmaker is vice president and general manager and also president of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny. In the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie board the vacancy caused by the retirement of P. C. Knox, now attorney general of the United States, was filled by the election of George E. Shaw of this city.

On the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny railroad F. W. Vanderbilt succeeds as director S. R. Calloway. The full Lake Erie board follows: William K. Vanderbilt, W. H. Newman, J. M. Schoonmaker, F. W. Vanderbilt, H. McK. Twombly, E. D. Worcester, John G. Robinson, James M. Bailey, M. W. Watson, Henry Hice, Henry Painter, D. Leet Wilson and George E. Shaw. The full Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny board is composed of William K. Vanderbilt, J. M. Schoonmaker, F. W. Vanderbilt, H. McK. Twombly, W. H. Newman, John G. Robinson, James M. Bailey, M. W. Watson, Henry Hice and George E. Shaw.

John G. Robinson was re-elected secretary and treasurer of the two roads and C. H. Bronson, auditor.

Every one of the 80,000 shares of the company's capital stock was voted at the meeting. The increased capital thus provided will be used to pay for 1,000 pressed steel cars, 1,000 box cars and 25 locomotives recently ordered. In addition, work will be pushed vigorously toward the completion of three and four tracks along the whole line of the road and on other improvements also under way and contemplated.

The financial showing of the road for the past year follows:

Earnings and Expenses.

	1901.	1900.
From freight	$7,098,142 46	$6,296,366 73
From passengers	870,372 13	771,327 43
From mail and express	56,168 25	58,777 31
From all other sources	43,304 05	20,320 83
Total earnings	$8,047,147 15	$7,146,922 01
Operating expenses	6,257,975 76	5,445,431 28
Per cent	77.76	76.21
Net earnings	$1,789,171 39	$1,700,500 88
		Per Cent.
Increase in gross earnings	$902,144 54	12.62
Increase in expenses	$812,462 78	14.92
Increase in net earnings	$89,681 81	5.27

"The past year has been one of unusual prosperity to all of Pittsburgh's industries and its railroads, including the Lake Erie, have shared in it," said Col. John M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager, after the meeting. "Naturally we are all very much pleased with the showing of our 'Little Giant.' One thing which the year has demonstrated the need of is more facilities for handling the ever-increasing business of this remarkable city. Before the next annual meeting the Lake Erie will have doubled its capacity for tonnage. The past year was a good one, but the next, we are confident, will surpass it."

Passing of Old Company.

At a special meeting of the old Pittsburgh & Western Railway Company yesterday, that company went out of existence to be succeeded by "The Pittsburgh & Western Railroad Company," in effect it means the formation of a company for purely a financial and legal purpose, all the lines of which will be operated by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, which owns all the capital and bonds of the new corporation. No information of the coming changes in the traffic department of the western lines of the Baltimore & Ohio was let out at the meeting.

The stock of the new company consists of $18,500,000 stock and bonds to the amount of $5,500,000 were also authorized. The officers of the new company are: William M. Kennedy, Allegheny, president; Alexander Shiras, Oliver, Allegheny; C. W. Woolford, secretary of the Baltimore & Ohio, Baltimore; W. R. Woodford, general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio, at Pittsburgh; T. J. English, superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio, which includes the part of the old Pittsburgh & Western from Willow Grove to New Castle Junction; John E. McVey, Youngstown, counsel of the Pittsburgh & Western, and J. L. Kirk, auditor of the Pittsburgh & Western. Mr. Woolford is secretary and the treasurer of the Baltimore & Ohio, J. V. McNeal, is treasurer also of the new Pittsburgh & Western Railroad Company.

The main office of the new company is to be in Pittsburgh. However, the real control is in Baltimore, of course, where it has been located for some years past, in the Baltimore & Ohio.

Does Not Favor Pooling Bill.

"I never looked upon a pooling bill as the panacea of railroad ills, nor do I favor one at present, said President Elisha Fish of the Illinois Central railroad yesterday afternoon at the Baltimore & Ohio depot in this city. Mr. Fish spent the greater part of an hour in this city yesterday en route to Washington over the Baltimore & Ohio in his private car. He has caused much wonder in the railroad world recently by his pronounced stand against pooling bills. "I believe that a strict and honest enforcement of a law, to make all railroad rates public, and enforcement of adherence to these rates would be a better thing for the railroads, as well as the shippers and travelers, than a pooling law," he said.

RIVER INTERESTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21.—River 32.2 feet at 6 p. m. and rising. Weather clear and cold. Packets in and out on time. Between 25 and 40 feet of water is expected here on the rise. It is thought that much water on the first day of February the stream should be navigable the remainder of the season, even for the largest steamers. The prospects of a coalboat stage of water at points above made the river coal corner on Change Hvellter than for the past four years. The Alice Brand left with the Tom Dodsworth, Pulser, Ironsides and Iron Age. An account of the coal shipments will be found elsewhere in The Gazette.

C. D. Spencer will be one of the pilots on the G. W. Thomas this trip south. The boat takes a tow of empties for the Kanawha at Ward Island, which turns back from there to Louisville. The Thomas probably will go through to New Orleans.

Coal is selling at 60 cents a bushel in Cincinnati, and it is said that some has sold at a lower figure. Kanawha run of mine has sold as low as 45 cents. It is said that if the rise had not come as quickly as it did coal would have sold at 7 cents a bushel. Coal is not as high as it was last season, for the reason that Kanawha dealers have been selling their product a shade cheaper than Pittsburgh dealers.

Capt. J. W. Mullen, No. 1625 Bellegrade avenue, St. Louis, desires the addresses of such of the following as may be living or the heirs of those that are deceased. The men belonged to the Second Marine Corps, Missouri volunteers, and served on the United States chartered steamboat Emperor under command of Capt. James Abrams, in the fall of 1861: David Hasley, first pilot; James C. Byrnes, third engineer; Louis Meakin, second mate; John Morrison, watchman; W. H. Sawyer clerk; Aleck Jefferson, steward; Charles Nash, first cook; L. Delaney, second cook; Robert Allen, Henry Alford, Louis Alford, Charles Alford, Frank Alford, Joseph Cagdlan, Hugh Crawford, Thomas Cunnagan, David Cooper, Pat Conley, John Grier, Peter Hopp, Joseph Kelter, John King, Lawrence Lawler, Henry Myers, James Murphy, James Mahoney, John McCabe, Christian Paish, John Paish, Frank Paish, George Reily Horman Sweating, Peter Schlichter, Philip Pointer, Charles Weggoner, John Welsh, Fred Zimmerman, Ned Sheridan, John Enzram, sailors; Nathan Davis, cabin boy.

READY TO MINE COAL.

Dilworth Company Preparing to Do Business at Rices Landing.

Capts. George H. Atkinson and Isaac B. Williams, who returned yesterday from Rices Landing, report that the Dilworth Coal Company is apparently spending a great amount of money at that place preparing to mine coal. The company has sunk a shaft near the river bank, and it is said that coal would be taken out next week.

The company has built a fine stone power house and there is every evidence of much activity about the place. The Dilworth Company own the towboat H. P. Dilworth and the coal inspectors went there to inspect the steamer, tramping four miles overland in the mud and slush to get to it.

Boats Leaving Today.

Queen City, Cincinnati, 4 p. m.

News of the Rivers.

Capt. Daniel Woodward and John L. Kerr will pilot the Harvester south with her coal tow.

Flint & Co. may send the towboat W. H. Flint light to Cincinnati to bring up a tow of empties.

J. C. Curtis and Calvin Hisslet are holding the "spokes" at the wheel of the towboat Oakland.

Pilots John McKee and John Werling will pilot the towboat Gleaner south for the Peoples Coal Company.

The towboat Raymond Horner and the John A. Wood are above Cairo on their way to Louisville with empties.

The steamer Kanawha departed last night for Charleston and Capt. W. E. Ron expects to return to Pittsburgh as usual next Monday.

Judge Perlange of New Orleans has ordered that the steamboat Nonpareil be sold by the United States marshal in February to satisfy claims.

The highest stage of water reached yesterday at the Davis Island dam was 14.9 feet, and the river remained stationary at that figure, then commenced to fall.

J. Frank Tilley of the Pittsburgh coal exchange, went to Cincinnati last night to blow up an sunken coalboat which has been obstructing the river at that place.

The steamer Queen City opens navigation to Cincinnati today, departing at 4 p. m. Capt. Edgar Hemphill is master. The regular navigation to New Orleans will not be resumed.

The towboats that will depart with coal tows in addition to the list published yesterday will be the Tom Dodsworth, Pulser, Ironsides and Iron Age. An account of the coal shipments will be found elsewhere in The Gazette.

C. D. Spencer will be one of the pilots on the G. W. Thomas this trip south. The boat takes a tow of empties for the Kanawha at Ward Island, which turns back from there to Louisville. The Thomas probably will go through to New Orleans.

WANTED.

Agents.

Profitable work offered agents in every town to secure subscriptions to The Ladies' Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post. We want agents who will work thoroughly and with business system to cover each section with our illustrated little booklets and other advertising matter, and to look sharply after renewals from old subscribers. The pay is first rate, and at the end of the season $20,000 will be given the best workers as extra prizes for good work. How well some of our agents have succeeded is told in a little booklet we would like to send you—portraits of some of our best agents, with the story of how they made it pay. E. W. Harden's Daily New York Business Letter

NEW COMBINE IS TO CONTROL GLUCOSE TRADE

Standard Oil's New York Company to Co-Operate on the Outside.

STEEL STATEMENT TODAY

It Will Be the Most Complete of Any Yet Sent Out—The Corporation May Absorb Tennessee Coal and Iron.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—It was officially announced today that a deal involving the consolidation of the principal glucose concerns of the country will be put through in a few days. The consolidated concern will have a capital stock of $80,000,000, of which $50,000,000 will be common and $30,000,000 preferred.

The company will have the co-operation of the Standard Oil Company, which operates the New York Glucose Company, capitalized at $5,000,000. However, the latter corporation will not enter the consolidation. The companies to be taken over are the Pope Manufacturing Company, National Starch Company, Illinois Sugar Refining Company and the Glucose Sugar Refining Company. The common stock of the Glucose Sugar Refining Company is to be exchanged on a basis of 120 for the common stock of the company and 125 for the preferred stock of the new company. The other companies to be taken over are the Pope Manufacturing Company, National Starch Company and the Illinois Sugar Refining Company. These companies, however, will not be taken over on the same basis as the Glucose Sugar Refining Company. The consolidated company will be in a position to control the entire industry in this country, as well as in Europe.

Detailed Steel Report Coming.

An important report of the operations of the United States Steel Corporation will be mailed to stockholders of the corporation since its organization, giving much comprehensive information respecting the outlook and present conditions of the trade and property. A director said today the report would give the stockholders virtually all the information that the directors themselves possess. At the annual meeting of the United States Steel Corporation a complete balance sheet and income account will be submitted.

Rumors Affecting Tennessee Company.

The rumor that the United States Steel Corporation had secured a controlling interest in the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and would utilize the southern concern as a basis of foreign supply, was revived today. In connection with this report was another one that the corporation has been instrumental in placing bonds, the proceeds of which are to be used to build two railroads from Birmingham, one to Pensacola and the other to Mobile, which will facilitate the export trade of the Birmingham mills; also that the corporation will transfer some of its northern plants to Birmingham and will erect new plants there. No confirmation of these various rumors could be obtained either at the offices of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company. As the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company is oversold in billets, no rails have been rolled in its new mill as yet.

Latest in the Tobacco War.

A great contest is now on between the Consolidated Tobacco Company, commonly known as the "tobacco trust," and the Universal Tobacco Company, Havana Commercial Company and the Henry Clay-Bock Tobacco companies, independent tobacco concerns. The acquisition of the Cabanas y Carvajal by the American Tobacco Company was followed today by the purchase of the tobacco business of John Anderson & Co. by Universal Tobacco and allied interests, rivals of the tobacco combine. The purchase of the business of John Anderson & Co. is regarded as a victory by the officials of the Universal Company, as the McAlpin Company, which was recently acquired by the Consolidated Tobacco Company for something like $1,500,000, has for years manufactured the product of the former concern under lease. The Anderson company controls several brands, among them the Solace brand of fine-cut tobacco.

Banks Growing Stronger.

The local banks, in their operations with the sub-treasury, show a gain of $1,311,000 since Friday. As money from the interior continues to flow into the vaults of the New York banks in abundance, another favorable bank statement this week is anticipated. The continuance of easy money rates is the best evidence of the growing strength of the local banks. Although the banks are in a position to spare considerable gold to Europe, foreign exchange quotations do not indicate an early resumption of the gold export movement. However, international bankers continue to believe that next month will witness a heavy outflow of the yellow metal.

Copper Still Going Up.

The United Metals Selling Company today announced a second advance of about ½ cent in the price of all grades of copper. They now quote Lake Superior at 11½c. The announcement of an advance did not come as a surprise, as the trade continues in the belief that conditions warrant much higher prices. Exports of copper last week were 1,048 tons, which compare with 3,720 and 3,213 tons, respectively, in the two preceding weeks.

Trying to Absorb an Iron Company.

It was currently reported today that Chicago parties are seeking control of the Buffalo Coal and Iron Company of Nashville, Tenn. The price is said to be $50 a share for the common and par for the preferred stock and first mortgage bonds. The company has outstanding about $700,000 common stock, $350,000 preferred and $275,000 in bonds. The corporation owns three iron furnaces and 80,000 acres of mineral lands. E. W. HARDEN.

Visible Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Special telegraphic communications to Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies of grain: Available supplies: Wheat, United States and Canada, east Rockies, decreased, 882,000 bushels; afloat for and in Europe, increased, 800,000; total supply, decreased, 1,682,000. Corn, United States and Canada, east Rockies, decreased, 274,000 bushels. Oats, United States and Canada, east Rockies, increased, 85,000 bushels. Among the more important decreases reported to Bradstreet are those of 2,000,000 bushels at northwestern interior elevators, 203,000 bushels at Chicago private elevators, 134,000 bushels at Duluth, 500,000 bushels at St. Louis. The leading increases are those of 45,000 bushels at Davenport and 90,000 bushels at Port Huron.

News From the Mines

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The output of Joplin, Mo., last week was 9,674,670 pounds of zinc, valued at $120,867, and 991,180 pounds of lead, $151,192. January sales up to date aggregated $665,178, an increase of $124,145 over last year. The highest price paid for zinc ore during the week was $29.50 a ton, and lead, $42 a ton.

While excavating for an addition to a saloon at Cripple Creek, a four-foot vein assaying from $28 to $41 a ton was uncovered.

The reduction works at Dayton, Nev., are said to be returning the owners of the Tonopah ore treated there 92 per cent of its assay value. From two to five carloads of the ore are being received and 36 tons are treated each 24 hours.

A new 100-ton cyanide plant is to be built at the old Carson valley mill site to work the large deposits of Douglass tailings. It is estimated that there are about 400,000 tons of these tailings.

There are 12 mines in Olinghouse district, Nevada, which are sufficiently developed to keep the mills there running constantly on low-grade ore, that one man with a team and wagon can make $25 a day by gathering float rock. Some of the quartz glitters with free gold.

A good strike of black and yellow sulphurets is reported near Chester, Utah. The ledge is six feet wide. Ore averaging $250 a ton has been encountered in the Johnny at State Line. The owners are in the Bingo, in Park City, and has revealed two feet of ore yielding $30 gold.

Advices from Santa Fe, N. M., note the establishment of a new gold camp on the Boston, Lincoln county, which is 30 miles inland and filled with quartz crystals carrying pieces of free gold has been traced for two miles. Some assays return $2,000 to the ton.

The consolidation agreement of the Rambler-Cariboo, in the Slocan district, B. C., will go into commission early in March and will treat from 80 to 100 tons daily.

Cold, dry weather is affecting mining unfavorably in Northern California. Work has stopped almost entirely in Trinity county, and the weather must moderate before work can be resumed in the gravel mines or in the quartz mills.

The Metal Market.

The feature in today's metal markets was an unexpected advance of fully ⅝c in the price for copper. This gain, it was said, was due to an effort to get the market to something like a normal basis, as the recent decline of six cents from the high level of 17 cents, which was quoted the middle of December, was said to be quite unwarranted by the commercial conditions. Today's prices were 11⅝@11¾c for lake, 11¼@11⅜c for electrolytic and 11⅛@11¼c for casting. The London market declined five shillings for spot, but futures were unchanged and both positions closed at the top. It was freely said here and easy at the decline, say at $25 50@25 65 for spot. At London prices closed 15 shillings lower at £107 5s for spot and £105 5s for futures. Tin was unchanged here at 27½c. London was 1s 3d lower at £110 15s 3d. Spelter was 2½ points lower at New York at $4 27½. London was 2s higher at £17. Iron was quiet, but steady and unchanged here. The English markets were lower. Glasgow closed at 48s 10d. Middlesboro closed at 44s 5½d. Pig iron warrants closed here at $11 00@12 00; northern foundry, $18 50@17 50; No. 2 northern foundry, $16 00@16 75; No. 1 southern foundry, $16 00@16 50; No. 2 southern foundry soft, $16 00@16 50.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—In spite of the pressure to sell, the price of copper was fairly maintained today on large purchasing orders and the expectancy of further improvements. The sales amounted to 2,100 tons.

Courts Are to Pass on Automobiles

TO TEST RIGHTS OF STEAM AUTOS ON PUBLIC ROAD

Action of a Frightened Horse Leads to Novel Damage Suits.

TWO THROWN INTO CREEK

C. C. and Sarah Smith Want $11,000 from Thomas Wittmer for Causing a Runaway That Resulted Disastrously.

Two suits which will develop the rights of an automobile as a vehicle on the public road were entered yesterday in common pleas court No. 3, and their termination will be watched with great interest. They are the first of the kind entered in this county. The suits were those of C. C. Smith against Thomas Wittmer for $5,000 damages and J. L. and Sarah Smith against the same defendant for $1,000 and $5,000, respectively. Attorneys Robert Malone and William J. Barton represent the plaintiff.

Smith says that upon the evening of September 7, 1901, he and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Smith, were driving along the Butler plank road, near Glenshaw, when they saw the defendant in his "auto" coming toward them. It is said the automobile "was an unusual object on the public road in that locality," and as it was going at a high rate of speed, blowing a steam whistle, the horse the plaintiff was driving became frightened. Smith says he called several times to Wittmer to stop, but he refused, whereupon he turned the horse in an opposite direction and tried to get away, but the defendant turned his automobile past him, causing the horse to run away.

As the frightened animal crossed the bridge at Pine creek it is said a wheel of the buggy caught on the guard rail and Smith and his companions were thrown into the creek 30 feet below. It is charged that both were hurt, Smith being rendered unconscious, but that Wittmer made no attempt to assist them. He had much trouble saving his sister from drowning. Both were severely injured, sustaining broken ribs, cuts and bruises, and were sick for several weeks. Mrs. Smith has a dislocated thumb which will be permanently injured.

William Wayman sued Edward Graham for $1,000 damages. He claims the defendant forcibly took possession of his blacksmith shop and refused to permit the plaintiff to transact business.

BOXED UP THE CAT.

Peculiar Testimony Brought Out in the Walker Divorce Trial.

The divorce case of John M. and Susanna Walker was tried before a jury in common pleas No. 3 yesterday and a divorce granted. Walker is a conductor on the Castle Shannon railroad, and the couple lived at Castle Shannon. On account of the education of their children they discussed moving to the city, and finally Mrs. Walker and the children moved to the Thirty-first ward, leaving Walker alone in Castle Shannon. The latter says he did not know his wife meant to move, and Mrs. Walker says he did, as he helped her to "box up" the cat and kittens. The separation occurred in 1898 and Walker often visited his family after that. The jury returned the verdict granting the divorce after being out but a short time.

The testimony in the divorce case of Laura Meyers against William Meyers was filed. They were married May 31, 1898. The first two months thereafter Mrs. Meyers says she was compelled to work, as her husband would not work and had no money. She had to support herself or starve. She also asserts that he struck her and on September 2, 1899, quietly packed up his clothes and left the house.

ROBBED THE POOR BOX.

Frank Krain Found Guilty of Looting St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Many Pleas of Guilty.

Frank Krain was tried in criminal court on a charge of robbing the poor box at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church in Sharpsburg on December 27. He was found guilty, but recommended to the extreme mercy of the court.

Eleven defendants pleaded guilty. They were: Siam Piffer, assault and battery on Kate Pavanosky, 30 days to the workhouse; George Edmunds, larceny of jewelry worth $80 from Birdie Moore, not sentenced; Charles Smith, larceny of a pocketbook and $84 from John McRoberts in a Hope Church boarding house, four months to the workhouse; William Mitchell, entering the building of S. J. Little, Poplar alley, and stealing lead pipe, four months to the workhouse; Charles Mitchell, illegal liquor selling at 47 Poplar alley, 90 days to the workhouse; John Dailey, larceny of a bolt of cloth from Edward Snyder, 60 days to the workhouse; William Shea, pointing a revolver at C. F. Ford, 10 days to the workhouse; Patrick Shea, aggravated assault and battery on Peter Gans, six months to the workhouse; Maggie Oxford, larceny of $200 from Frank Vaktor, three months to the workhouse; Milton Armstrong, larceny of billiard balls from 2254 Center avenue, 30 days to the workhouse; J. C. Norward, felonious assault and battery on William H. Galter, three months to the workhouse.

Charles Johnston, Charles Cunningham, Clyde Zounger and Harvey Johnston were tried on a charge of stealing carpenter tools worth $11 from Edward Clark. They denied taking the tools and were acquitted, the costs being placed on Clark.

THREE INDICTED FOR MURDER.

Grand Jury Returns a Number of True Bills in Jail Cases.

The grand jury returned true bills yesterday in the following murder cases:

John Moore, colored, charged with the murder of John Eblin, also colored, in a shanty boat at lock No. 3, on the Ohio river, near Osborn borough, July 25, last; Charles Davis, colored, charged with the shooting of his wife, Birdie Davis, aged 20, at their home, No. 9 Thirtieth street, December 22; John Moore, charged with the killing of Thomas Mawhinney on December 22 at Jacks run, near Bellevue borough.

The following other bills were returned:

True bills—Robbery, George Wilson and Charles Johnston; larceny, Jim Powell; Thomas Berawski, Henry Resinski, James Johnston, Edward Pucciarelli et al., William Michaliofski (2), Neal Doherty, Jake Resnka and John Drobosheksky, Charles Lovas, Samuel Reynolds and James Jones, L. G. Richard carrying concealed weapons, Robert Jones, James Demster; fraud, Capt. Bush; misdemeanor, H. W. Black, William Riley, Robert Frazier; malicious mischief, Charles Klein.

The charge of involuntary manslaughter against Franza Luciae of Rankin was ignored. She was charged with causing the death of Mary Indak, aged 4 years, who was burned to death on January 8. Other ignored bills are as follows: Assault and battery, Robert Jones; illegal liquor selling, Joseph Bonkofski (2); larceny, Robert Ford, Antonio Elia.

PROVED SELF DEFENSE.

Robert Shaw Acquitted of the Murder of John Thomas.

Robert Shaw, the colored man tried for the murder of John Thomas, also colored, was acquitted yesterday afternoon. The defense yesterday strengthened its line of self-defense and the case went to the jury without any additional facts being brought out. The jury was out but a short time. Attorneys William J. Brennen and W. H. Stanton represented Shaw.

Shorts Had the Wrong End of the Market

WALL STREET BEARS FORCED TO HUNT TIMBER

The Bulls Had All the Best of the Market Yesterday. Close Was Strong.

PEACE RUMOR HELPED

The Dealings in Amalgamated Copper Were Almost Twice as Great as in Any Other Stock on the Market. Bond Market Was Strong.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—A successful turn was made against the shorts in today's stock market. How far the day's demand for stocks represented new buying from outside sources can only be conjectured. Conditions which were made the ground for selling yesterday remained unaltered today, without affecting the strong tendency toward recovery. The weakness in the grain markets, which yesterday was made the basis of rumors of financial troubles, was turned to a bull argument today as showing good conditions for the winter wheat crop. The formulation by the United Mine Workers of flat demands for higher wages, which depressed the coalers yesterday, was ignored today.

Reports Were Ignored.

The report of December net earnings of the Erie and the Reading system were equally ignored. The decrease in net earnings for the Erie for the month was $118,163, and the decrease in the surplus of the Reading for the same period was $218,248. The Southern railway also reported a decrease in net earnings in December of $88,700. All of these stocks were quite conspicuous for activity and strength. It is thought that part of the recent selling of the coalers has been in anticipation of this showing and that today's buying was short covering. These vagaries of sentiment indicate the professional character of the trading. The most important influences in the advance was the stimulating effect of the strong recovery of 3 more points in American Copper.

Copper Dealings Large.

The dealings in this stock were almost twice as great as those in any other one stock. The further advance in raw copper and the heavy buying in London was taken to indicate that large requirements have been left uncovered, waiting for the price to touch bottom. The advance in Amalgamated Copper was taken by speculators to indicate a sentiment in favor of an advance by the Standard Oil party, which has long been supposed in favor quietude in speculation. Coupled with a published statement of J. P. Morgan, expressing confidence in the maintenance of the country's prosperity the effect was to impress speculators with the idea that the great financial powers were again in accord in favoring higher prices for stocks.

More Rumors Afloat.

The upward movement broadened and gained force up to the close, which was at about the best, and strong. The reported agreement to maintain rates among western railroads and meat packers was a strengthening influence. The speculation in sugar was based on the expectation of an advance in the production and had an important sympathetic effect. As an incident of the advance there was a renewal of many old rumors of consolidations and absorptions involving the local tractions, the Vanderbilts, Chicago & East Illinois and Louisville & Nashville, Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville and Evansville & Terre Haute and many others that have previously been in circulation. The statement in the British house of commons that a note from the Dutch government is under consideration, presumably bearing upon overtures for peace from the Boers, helped the closing strength in the market.

The bond market was strong and individual bonds were not so overwhelmingly conspicuous as of late. Total sales, par value, $4,385,000). United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Local Theater Scheme in Court.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Louis M. Elrick, a millionaire of Buffalo, and proprietor of the Empire theater in Cleveland, has begun an action against Walter Ferguson for $50,000 damages for alleged breach of contract. The suit is entered in the name of the Pittsburgh Amusement Company. It is claimed that Elrick and Ferguson entered into a contract August 7, 1900, for the leasing by Ferguson of an up-to-date theater in Pittsburgh on land owned by Elrick. The theater was to cost not less than $100,000. A motion has been made by Ferguson's attorney asking for the examination of Clarence Burleigh of Pittsburgh and for a stay of the trial.

Local Stocks Were Quite Mixed, Small Issues Strong, Others Weak

U. S. STEEL COMMON WAS ADVANCED 5-8

Fire Proofing Issues Were Weaker and Both Lost $1 a Share.

COAL STOCKS HELD FIRM

American Window Glass Was Dull and Nearly a Point Lower--Pressed Steel Car Preferred Active and Higher--Electric Seconds Advance.

The local stock market yesterday was decidedly spotty, trough firmness was the decided element in its make-up, while the feeling generally was better than it has been in some time. This was in sympathy with a similar sentiment in the east which was partly induced by a belief that the copper situation is rapidly clearing, easier money, and especially because of a rumor that the Boers had sued for peace, and the war in South Africa would end. When the latter proves true, it will undoubtedly be a great bull card for the entire financial world, and the markets will instantly reflect it by a big bull movement. The United States Steel shares showed the greatest firmness, and activity on the local board, the common selling 1,100 shares at 42⅝@43, an advance of ⅝, closing strong at the top. The preferred sold only 200 shares at 92¾, a loss of ¼, but it, too, closed firm with the decline recovered at 93 bid and 93¼ asked. On the other hand, Fire Proofing issues were very weak and both declined a dollar a share, probably on account of the reports of possible competition. The common sold 1,100 shares—the same as United States Steel common, but it went off steadily to a close at 41. The preferred sold 270 shares and finished heavy at 48½. The coal stocks were fairly active and firm. River common led the list with 1,240 shares and closed ⅛ lower at 13⅜. Less than 100 of the preferred sold at 43¾, which was a gain of ¼. Pittsburgh common sold 500, closing at 25¼ and the preferred sold 366, closing at 90, both being unchanged with large orders on each side of the market at only a fraction's distance apart. American Window Glass common continues to droop and drag, 203 shares only finding a buyer yesterday. The closing price was 47½, a loss of ⅞ and more offered. There was unusual activity in Pressed Steel Car preferred, 705 shares changing hands. After opening at 84 the stock advanced ½ and closed firm. Westinghouse Electric seconds while dull, were firmer and in closing at 88, scored a gain of ⅝ for the day. Airbrake was unchanged. Bank and trust shares were fairly active and firm. In the quotations Federal National advanced $2 to $134 bid, a new high record and Pittsburgh Trust Company went up $15 to $990 bid, also a new high record. Marsden common enjoyed a spurt, selling 700 shares at 4, the last price, and Brewing preferred was firmer and ⅛ higher at 44⅜. Bonds were firm and in good demand.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers:

At the first session Hill & Co. bid 25 for 1,000 Pittsburgh Coal common.

At the first call Hill & Co. bid 117 for $15,000 River Coal 6s and offered $100,000 at 117⅜.

At the first call 47 was bid and 47½ asked for 500 Window Glass common. Miller wanted to buy and Hill to sell.

It is reported that the new Philadelphia Company 5 per cent bonds have recently been quite extensively dealt in in the east.

At the opening call Hall and Hill & Co. each offered 1,000 United States Steel common at 42½, and Sproul & Co. bid 42¾ for 1,000.

At the first call 117 Westinghouse Airbrake were taken by a single buyer at 175. After that call the same firm took 10 more at that price.

At the opening call there was only one trade each in Pittsburgh Coal common and Crucible Steel common, the former selling and the latter 100 shares.

It is reported that a new local savings and trust company is being formed, the capital of which is to be $5,000,000. A charter will probably soon be applied for.

At the second call R. C. Hall bid $7,600, an advance of $400, for a seat in the Pittsburgh stock exchange. One offered at $10,000. The bid is a new high record.

At the opening call R. C. Hall offered $100,000 Pgh. Coal Co. 5 per cent consolidated, series E, 3⅛s, at 88½. The issue amounts to $9,539,000 and expires in 1949.

The first trades of the day were in United States Steel common and 700 shares sold at the opening at 42⅝@42¾. One firm sold 600 shares then and later disposed of 400 more.

Joshua Rhodes, formerly vice president of the Allegheny National bank, has been elected president, succeeding John Caldwell, Jr., deceased, and William Stewart, a director, was elected vice president.

S. S. Pinkerton, who is spending the winter in California, has written to Henry M. Long that his health is completely restored. Mr. Pinkerton had to quit the business about a year ago on account of health.

The trading in River Coal common was by easy stages yesterday. At the first call 40 shares only sold. After that session one firm sold 500. At noon there were no sales, but before the last session 100 changed hands and on that call over 600 found buyers.

At the annual meeting of the Standard Underground Cable Company the directors were re-elected as follows: Mark W. Watson, James H. Willock, John B. Jackson, J. D. Nicholson, John Moorhead, Jr., Robert Pitcairn, B. F. Jones, J. N. Davidson, Joseph W. Marsh.

The president of the newly organized Public Trust Company is John Caldwell, Cavanagh, while the treasurer will be W. J. Kirk. These gentlemen now compose the real estate firm of Cavanagh & Co. The new trust company is to be capitalized at $250,000, and will do a general banking business.

One of the plaintiffs in the latest suit brought to prevent the transfer of the control of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railroad to the Northern Securities Company has been a stockholder of record only since January 21. The other is a clerk in a stock brokerage firm, and the certificates on which he sued in the name of that firm.

Some Philadelphia holders of Consolidated Traction preferred stock receipts have received the $3 cash dividend and the bonds given in exchange for the preferred stock by the Philadelphia Company. The new common and preferred stock certificates have not yet been issued there. Pittsburgh holders have not yet received anything, but expect to do so in a few days.

The stockholders of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad yesterday voted to increase the company's capital from $4,000,000 to $8,000,000.

DEMAND MORE MONEY.

Conductors and Brakemen of Northwestern Road Insist on an Increase of 10 Per Cent.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—At a joint meeting the conductors and brakemen of the Chicago & Northwestern today decided to demand an increase of 10 per cent in their wages.

The meeting was held in pursuance of a general plan of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen to obtain an increase for the members of both organizations from all railroads in the United States, Canada and Mexico. Should the demand be refused a strike may be called on the lines directly affected and all others doing business with them.

COUNTERFEITER OWNS UP.

His Mine Found in the Spot He Indicated to Officers.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—(Special.)—A well-equipped counterfeiting plant was located in Franklin street this morning by Matthew Griffin, secret service agent. It is said to belong to George Davis, who was arrested on January 9 by the Wilmington police, charged with passing counterfeit dollars on cigar dealers and small storekeepers in that city. While he has had a hearing, Davis has not yet been convicted.

Griffin saw Davis last night and obtained a full confession from him. He admitted passing the new dollars bearing date of 1901, and told the secret service agent where his paraphernalia could be found.

BRITAIN'S DECLINE IN STEEL.

United States Consul Fleming at Edinburgh Presents Startling Figures.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 28.—(Special.)—United States Consul Fleming at Edinburgh, Scotland, reports to the state department that "In the iron and steel trades in Scotland and the north of England, production has fallen off considerably this year, as compared with 1900. Reliable statistics of production during 1901 are not yet available, but it is estimated by well informed men in the trade that the output of pig iron is 10 per cent below last year's figures; of manufactured iron in all forms, 25 per cent, and of steel, about 10 per cent. The continued prosperity of the shipbuilding industry has alone saved the steel trade from a far more serious decline in point of production; but even the demand from the shipbuilders has not, despite the diminished output of steel, checked the shrinkage in prices. Steel plates have fallen from $32.45 a ton in December to $28.45 at present; manufactured iron, from $40.10 a ton to $31.65.

"Perhaps the most noteworthy fact of the unavoidable conditions that have obtained in the iron and steel trades, is the general reduction of wages, blast furnace men having lost as much as 29 per cent, steel plate makers and smelters 20 per cent, iron workers 17 per cent and ironstone miners 29 per cent."

Mayor Forced to Pay a Fine.

OGDEN, UTAH, Jan. 28.—Mayor Glassman, who was charged with having violated the public health laws by evading the posthouse and ordering the release of a smallpox suspect, was fined $10 by Judge Howard.

Several Firemen Injured.

BROOKFIELD, MASS., Jan. 28.—Seven firemen were caught under a falling wall in a fire which destroyed three frame business blocks this morning. Two or three are seriously injured. Loss about $15,000.

"THE BIG STORE"

The Greatest Remnant Sale Ever Held in these two cities is now in progress here, and never before did such big crowds of women congregate in this busy store as yesterday---not even during the recent Holiday season.

And, if history will repeat itself, today's crowds will be bigger still. You women know that Remnants here mean Remnants, and that we do not, as certain other stores hereabouts are in the habit of doing, cut up a lot of undesirable goods into remnants, to whet your appetite. It's YOU, the many of you that come here every day, that make the remnants---we don't have to make them in any other way. Every day's business here adds its quota to the remnant piles, and twice each year we clean them out. Ours, then, is the only natural Remnant Sale in the two cities, not a fanciful creation to excite the public, but the unavoidable result of the ordinary course of this business. That's why Remnant Day here is so interesting, and why thousands of women who pay no attention to other Remnant Sales, never fail to attend this one.
